Subject: Audiobooks

Hi,

I was wondering if this would be possible, but if not, that is no problem. Would your library be willing to mail me the audiobooks you discard from your collection? I would be very honored to cover the shipping cost if you need me to. I am pursuing an entertainment career and recently graduated from acting school. I hope to become a voiceover artist and audiobook narrator. My favorite book category is children and teen/YA fiction and nonfiction. I hope to narrate books in this category in my upcoming career. I am also interested in adult fiction and nonfiction as well, as long as they aren't crime novel authors such as James Patterson and Michael Connelly. No pressure if this is not possible, but I was just wondering. The discarded audiobooks from your library will find a great home in my room. I listen to a variety every night. I prefer the old-fashioned way of popping CD's into my player. I'm just not used to the style of ebooks or playaways. If you also discard MP3 CD's, I would like those as well. My favorite audiobook companies are Recorded Books and Midwest Tape. If you have any audiobooks discarded by these 2 companies, I would like all of them please.

Thank you,

Aaron

Hi Aaron,

Sorry, when our materials get withdrawn from circulation, they go to our Friends of the Library groups to support their in-person sales throughout the year.

Happy hunting, though!

Hi!

Just wanted to show you guys how much Azariah enjoyed reading Flat Stanley and doing the craft. We did it last week. This week we will do the Thanksgiving kit then be waiting in anticipation for the Christmas kit!!

Emily
