COLDWATER.

So many times and often has the history of Coldwater been recorded on the printed page that an exhaustive writeup is scarcely necessary at this time. Yet this work would hardly be complete without a brief reminiscent sketch, which is here given.

In 1822 the beautiful prairie and oak openings on which Coldwater now

Coldwater River, the present site of beautiful Oak Grove Cemetery.

The first building—one of logs—is said to have been erected in what is now Coldwater by Hugh Campbell in 1830 where the Y. M. C. A. building now stands. Other settlers quickly followed, and in 1832 the village was platted and named Lyons; a year later the name became Coldwater, from the stands was a favorite resort of the Pottowatomie Indians, who had a village about two miles east, and found fine hunting and fishing here.

In the year named a trading post was established by Joseph Godfrey near the Indian village, and at about this time or a little later, another was established in charge of a youth named Marantette, on the bank of the Indian "chuck-sey-ya-bish," or cold water, the appellation given to the chilly waters of the creek.

The first house worthy of the name was built by Joseph Hanchett in 1831 and is above illustrated; it stood just back of the present Clarke drug store.

Until 1842 the county seat was at Branch, but in that year it was removed to Coldwater, where it has since remained. The village was incorporated in 1837 and became a city in 1862. It has always enjoyed a moderate, steady growth, and now stands at 6,216, according to the census of 1900. As will be seen by the following table, showing the several state and government censuses, the increase has been much more marked during the past decade than at any previous time:

COLDWATER'S POPULATION.

1864	3,977
1870	4,381
1874	4,330
1880	4,681
1884	5,099
1890	5,247
1894	5,269
1900	6,216

The first ward has 1,692 people; the second, 1,722; the third, 1,514; the fourth, 1,288. The increase during the past ten years has been over 18 per cent, while that of the state at large has been only fifteen per cent.

It is interesting, in this connection, to note the growth of the county and state:

	County	State
1800		551
1810		4,792
1820		8,896
1830		31,639
1840	5,715	212,267
1850	12,472	397,654
1854	15,724	597,521
1860	20,981	749,113
1864	22,458	803,661
1870	26,226	1,184,282
1874	29,736	1,334,031
1880	27,941	1,686,997
1884	27,661	1,853,658
1890	26,791	2,063,880
1894	26,117	2,241,641
1900	27,811	2,419,782

The industries in the city are most thriving and employ hundreds of people. These hives of business include:

Ball's planing mill.
 Behse novelty works.
 Burial device factory.
 Calkins stove and cooperage works.
 Cement factory.
 Cigar factories.
 Coombs flouring mills (three.)
 Cutter factory.
 Hellenberg's turning factory.
 Johnson cooperage works.
 Stove works.
 Tappan shoe factory.
 Titus iron works.
 Warner and Kitchel medicine laboratories.

The above is by no means a complete list of Coldwater's manufactories, but we cannot here mention the dozens of smaller industries, each important in itself and contributing to the city's growth and prosperity.

Our fine public schools; religious, charitable, educational and social organizations; that great institution, the State Public School; our partially paved and beautifully shaded streets; the fine residences and handsome business section—in short, the many attractions of Coldwater, the Gem City of Michigan, need no elaboration here. The pages of this Directory speak eloquently of the enterprise of the business men, of the public and private buildings and of the city in all its aspects.

Coldwater is destined to prosper hereafter as in the past, and the advent of the proposed new steam and electric roads will only contribute to the city's fair fame—the prettiest city in America.
