Foreword

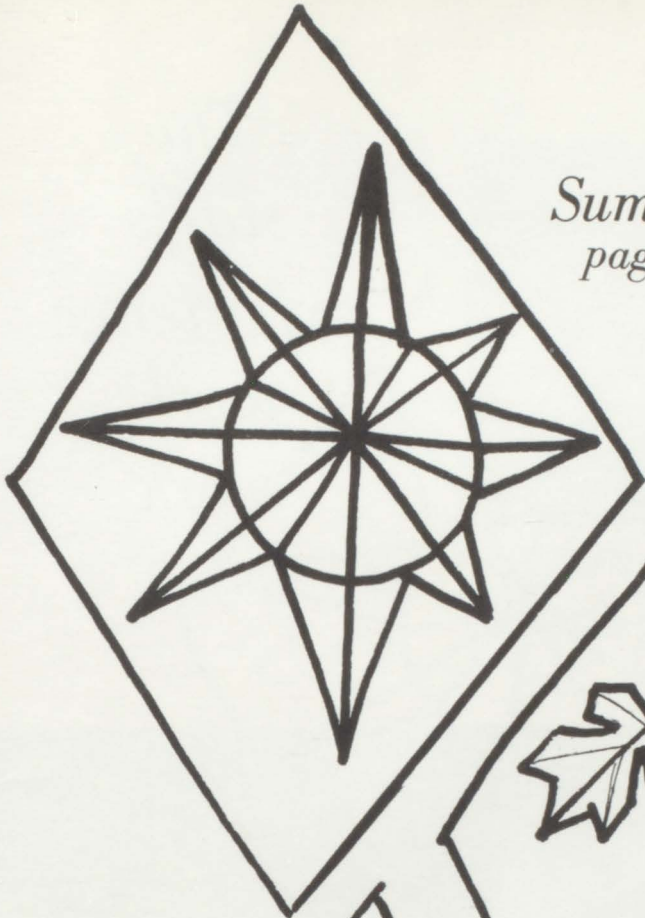

First of all I would like to thank the many people who have unselfishly given of their time and efforts to make this yearbook possible: Mr. Warden, our adviser, staff members, typists, R. S. Sutula, Taylor Publishing Company, our own photographers, patrons, and also the student body, teachers, and parents who have cooperated with us. I am grateful to every one of them.

I hope we have constructed a book of your school highlights to which you can turn for pleasant, joyous, and even the sad memories of the years 1960-61.

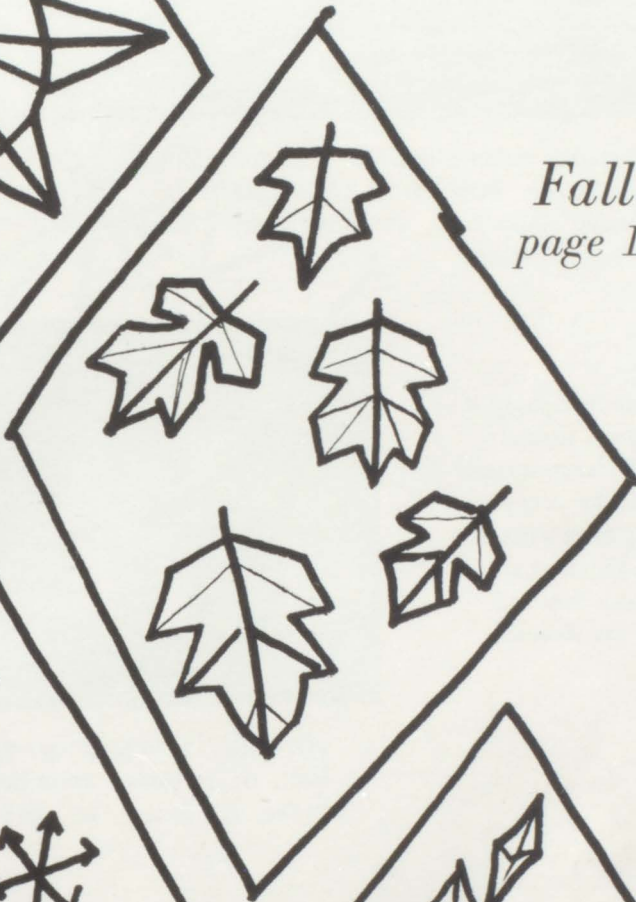

On behalf of Mr. Warden, the staff, and me, I take pleasure in presenting to you, the student body, teachers, parents, and general public, the Quincy Oriole Annual of 1960-61.

One of the first "signs" of construction was this billboard announcing the names of contractors for the new high school building.

Digging of a trench both amused and chagrined teachers and students in their noise-filled classrooms.

It may not look much like a gymnasium, but Q. H. S. students will be playing basketball here before long.

The completion of the elementary addition raised interest in the completion date for the new high school.

Board Members Watched New School Progress

"Good schools costs money but cheap schools prove very expensive over a period of time in terms of proper development of youth," Mr. Elwood Larsen, superintendent, stated regarding one of the school board's major projects of this year - the building of the new high school and the addition to the elementary school.

Another problem of the school board is the revision of school board policies, which is an annual process, in order to keep policies up to date.

This year because of a state law there are seven on the board instead of five. This is required for all fourth class districts so that there is better representation on the school board.

In January, five of the seven members of the school board attended the South-Western Convention in East Lansing for school board members.

On August 1, 1960, the elementary addition was started; it was completed on January 31, 1961.

The breaking of the ground for the new high school was in November, 1960. The high school, under the construction of the Baker-VanderVeen Construction Company, is planned for completion in February, 1962.

Due partially to increased costs without additional revenue the budget became a real problem this year. The school board is hoping for a more favorable state aid bill which would alleviate some pressure on local taxation.

Without doubt our greatest accomplishment this year has been the completion of the elementary addition and ground breaking for the new high school. However let us not forget that real education is not determined by buildings but by individual effort and hard work.

I wish to extend congratulations and sincere appreciation to you students for your cooperation this past year. There are no locks on the doors of wisdom, knowledge, honest enterprise, and opportunity. I hope this year has helped you in opening these doors to find a light of inspiration for a useful and successful life.

FALL

A Homecoming to remember

The freshmen worked hard on Homecoming and won first place with their float.

Touchdowns like Doug Sattler made won the Homecoming game over the Athens Indians. The Orioles really held onto the pigskin, to the horror of Athens.

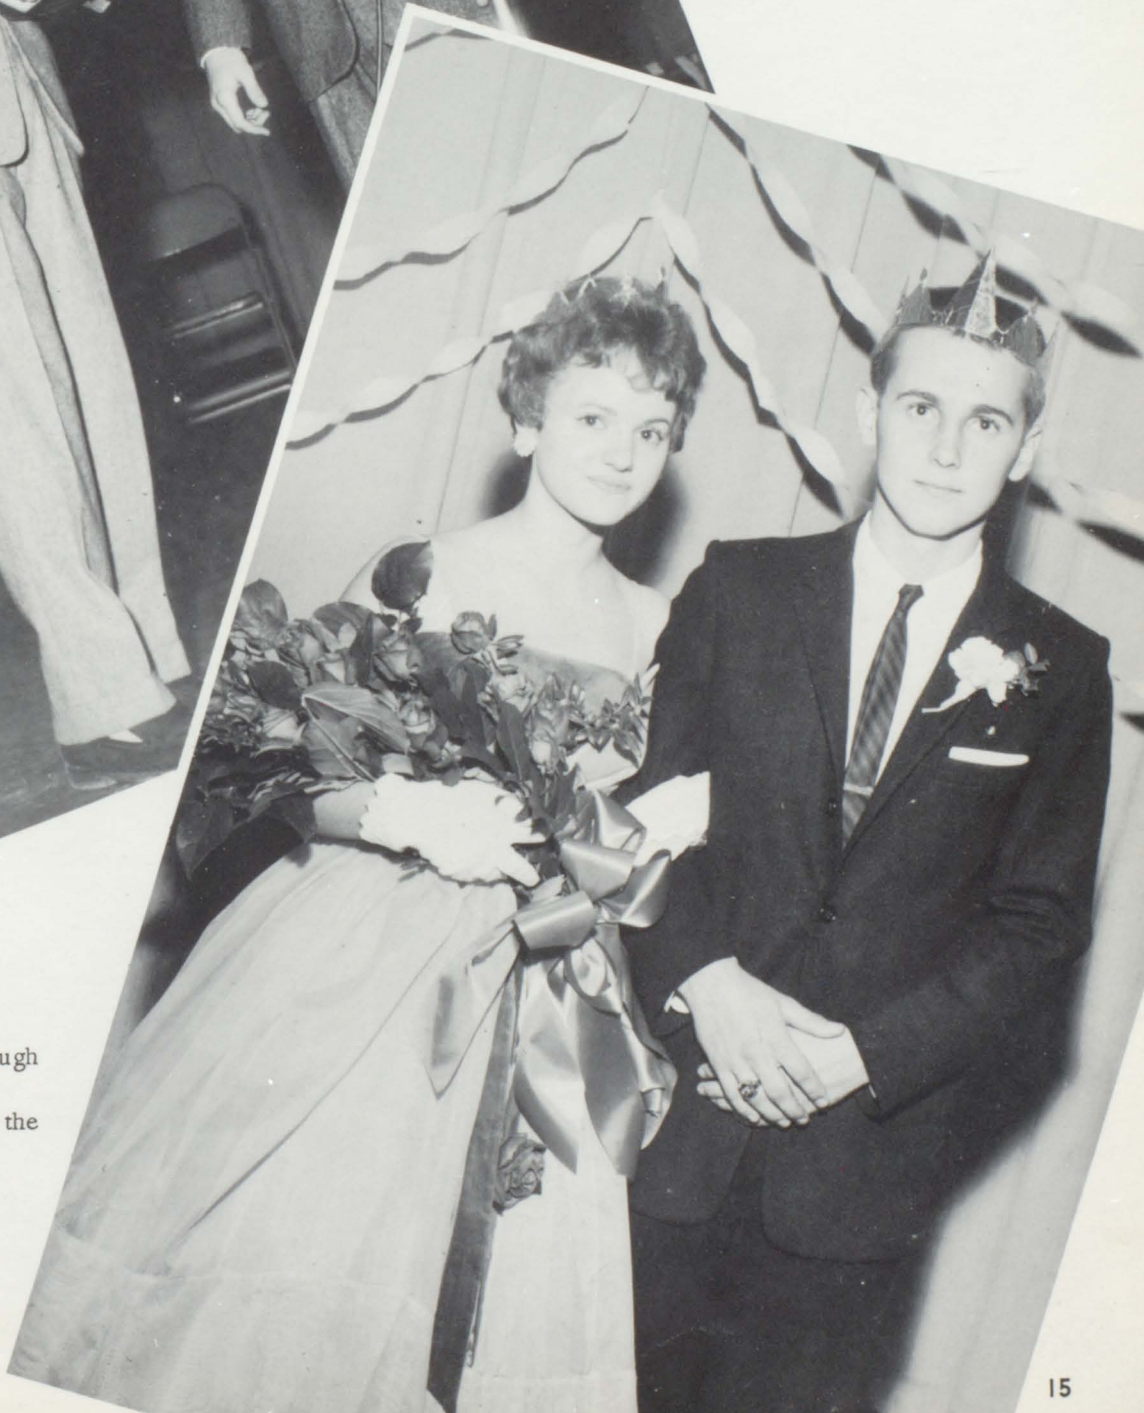

The band is always here on hand to give a good performance when our Orioles make a touchdown.

Dick Davis, President of the Senior Class, accepted the much-coveted Pep Jug from Don Peterson, President of the Student Council.

King Bruce Himebaugh and Queen Carolyn Locke reigned over the climax, which was the Homecoming Dance.

To add even more glamor to the Homecoming pageant, the seniors chose four couples to represent them on the court. From these, the student body selected the king and queen who were to reign over Homecoming.

ROW TWO: Doug Sattler, John Mahon, Judy Hampton, pro tem Dick Davis for Don Willen.

"We won!" "We won!" were the joyous shouts of the seniors at Homecoming as it was announced that they had won the Pep Jug for the second time. It was quite an honor because they were the first class to win it twice.

The candidates for Homecoming King and Queen were: Donna Brazee, Judy Hampton, Judy Fischer, Carolyn Locke, Bruce Himebaugh, John Mahon, Doug Sattler, and Don Willen. Bruce Himebaugh and Carolyn Locke were crowned at the dance following the Homecoming game.

December 17 was chosen as the day for the senior play with Judy Hampton and Jim Hope playing the leads.

Arthena Higginbotham was chosen as D. A. R. Girl by the faculty while Susan Campbell was the Girls' State Representative and Bruce Himebaugh was the Boys' State Representative.

The seniors held a number of record hops throughout their high school career which added quite a lot to their treasury.

The seniors surprised everyone but themselves when they had their skip day early in the spring.

They were honored at the Junior-Senior Banquet on April 8.

From there they went on to end their journey through Quincy schools at Baccalaureate on May 21 and finally Commencement May 25.

Class colors for the Class of '61 were blue and white and their flower was a blue tinted carnation.

The Class of '61 chose "Life is what you make it," as their motto to guide them on the first steps toward the future.

Varsity tied for second in Little "C"

Coach Hubert Hansel stated that the Quincy Orioles were the most powerful offensive team in the League but left much to desire defensively. This he felt was due to the lack of experience and depth.

During the past two years, Quincy has fielded a team that has brought honor to itself and its school. They have always lacked depth and experience, but have supplemented it with guts and desire, Coach Hansel commented.

The Orioles won four games and lost three games making it a three way tie with Homer and Litchfield for second place in the Little "C" Conference. Quincy gridders scored 169 points to opponents' 107.

The Juniors

The Class of '62 successfully jumped a few high hurdles this year. The first was the Junior Play, and this was followed by the Junior-Senior Banquet and the J-Hop.

The competent officers who led the class over the hurdles were: President, Leon Parrish; Vice President, Mike Purcell; Secretary, Sharon Shepard; and Treasurer, Mary Keller.

The Class of '62 had a membership of 83. The class was fortunate to have Grace Cortez from Mexico for a while. Ken Herlan from Beaverton, Michigan, joined the class, while two old members returned; and one dropped out.

The biggest highlight of officially becoming juniors was receiving class rings when school started.

Sharon Shepard and Roland Finley represented the Class of '62 on the Homecoming Court. The float of a black and white clock placed third in the Pep Jug contest.

The juniors indicated they are grateful to their class sponsors: Mr. Stanley Klyman, Mr. Eric Warden, and Mr. James Hacker, who helped the class attain another rung on the ladder to future success.

The Class of '63, composed of 84 sophomores, chose their executive leaders in the spring of '60. The results were President, Andrew Zeck; Vice President, Judy Hutchins; Secretary, Karen Rupp; Treasurer, Jackie Ames; Reporter, Jackie Brown and Historian, Jill Wagner. Advisers were Mr. Monk (head adviser), Mr. James Hope and Mr. Thomas Polan. This year they gained Rosalee Peterson from Lakeland and lost 11 members.

Homecoming, a major event of the year, was again successful for the class of '63. After winning the Pep Jug last year as Freshmen, few expected the class to come close at all this year. But with great vigor the class came in a close second to the seniors in winning the Pep Jug. Representatives for the King and Queen's Court were Mike Clemenson and Karen Rupp.

The class came in third in selling the most magazines in the magazine drive.

Early in the fall, the sophomores held the first record hop of the year with a WCSR disc jockey. It went over extremely well with $90 profit. A WOWO record hop held in April was another major event for them. The sophomores also held 2 class parties. The sophomores were not only tops in society but in sports and academic grades as well. All in all it was a full year for the Class of '63.

Cadet teaching influenced many.

Quincy's Future Teachers Club spent a successful year, under the supervision of Mr. Ross VanNess. Many of the members helped teachers in elementary school during their free hours. During this time, they gained experience in dealing with children. The members, totaling approximately thirty, took part in a successful slave auction to add to the treasury. The officers they elected for the year were: President, Nancy Ehl; Vice President, Bill Armstrong; Secretary, Cheryl Thompson; and Treasurer, Bonnie Hart.

Nurses aided in local Health Center

Fourteen new members were initiated into the Future Nurses Club in the course of the year. The sponsor, Mrs. Charles Geishert, and the adviser, Miss Sally Schwem, both nurses, took the girls on a tour in hospitals in the surrounding area. The club members also learned a lot about nursing while doing volunteer work at the Branch County Health Center.

A profit of $35 was made by the club on a WOWO record hop after the last football game of the year.

Long march shortened

The ninth graders

in science.

The Freshman Class started the year with 83 members. They were sorry to lose seven members, but they were happy to gain Mary Helmick, Pete Talbot, and Mike Berry. The class was led ably through the year by President, Werner Helfers; Secretary, Linda Brown; and Treasurer, Darlene Miller. The members of the Freshman Class were sorry to lose their President-elect, Gretchen Coates. All during the year they had the helpful guidance of their three advisers: Mr. Orin Chalker, Mrs. Gladice Gay Adams, and Mr. Anthony Zito.

The class faced many new experiences, including planning the Bunny Hop, which the officers predicted would be very successful.

The freshmen were very enthusiastic about Homecoming. They were represented on the Homecoming Court by Darlene Miller and Jim Rogers. A proud Freshman Class took first place with their float, a mounted 'V' for victory.

The class is looking forward to three more successful years in senior high.

Student Council promoted varied projects.

The 1961-1962 Student Council had charge of the Homecoming parade and dance, both of which were successful. A new constitution was approved.

The annual magazine drive turned out to be successful once more. A budget for the council was set up this year.

The new Inter-League Student Council met at Quincy and a most enjoyable time was had by all who attended.

A record player was purchased for school use. At Christmas time the council collected food and turned it over to the World War II Mothers for distribution.

The council sponsored various assemblies throughout the year, set up a National Honor Society for Quincy, had a clothing drive for "Save the Children Federation," and sponsored a record drive for the State Home and Training School at Coldwater.

All in all, our council has done a very good job this year under the leadership of these officers: President, Don Peterson; Vice President, Judy Hampton; Secretary, Mary Ann Batman; and Treasurer, Autumn Dobson.

The Varsity Club of a high school is valuable to a school in that it sets standards by which the letters are won and promotes athletics. To be qualified to join the club a student must win at least one letter. He may win these letters in football, basketball, track, baseball and in two years of tennis.

The officers of the club are: President, Bruce Himebaugh; Vice President, Arden Anthony; Secretary, Tom Douglas; and Treasurer, Doug Sattler. Mr. Hubert Hansel is the sponsor. A constitution was adopted last year.

The advantage of being a member is that a boy would be in a social group that has common interests. It gives the member an opportunity to regulate athletics in the high school. It is here to set and maintain high standards.

Mr. Hansel stated, "Although the Varsity Club has been inactive, it will gain momentum and in the near future will be functioning at its maximum. A Varsity Club should be exercising authority in the school and be a credit to its name."

They caught onto the social whirl quickly

This year, eighth grade classes were guided by advisers: Mr. Don Whitmer, Mr. Hubert Hansel, Miss Janet Hartman, and Mrs. Jane Roberts.

The officers for 1960-61 were: President, Bonnie Horn; Vice President, Kenny Peterson; Secretary, Glenna Marquart; Treasurer, Bradley Moore.

This year they had their class party just after the end of the semester. They went to tobagganing and everyone had a good time.

At Homecoming the class did fairly well for being in junior high school.

The eighth grade class seems to have been successful in all their works this year.

United Nations was subject of debate.

The 1960-61 debate season started with one win and one loss, but Quincy's teams came through in the second round with both affirmative and negative victories. Both sides looked forward to more successes and a triumph at the tournaments.

STANDING: Richard Wagoner, Ron Nelson, Larry Satchfield, Jim Hope.
SEATED: Adviser Mr. Eric Warden, George Bolton, Bill Todd, Diann Williams, Dana Queen, Tom Brockman, Andy Zeck.

Bible Club offered Fellowship.

STANDING: Advisers Mr. Hubert Hansel and Miss Janet Hartman; Dana Queen, Jerry Wortz, Ruth Hermance, Martin Preston, Nancy Hardy.

The purpose of the Bible Club is to further Christian fellowship among the members and to win others to Christ. This was promoted through speakers, Bible study, and the singing of hymns. The club was represented in the Christmas assembly by Diane Hoopingartner and Judy McCann, who sang.

Picking up roll was only one of the many duties of the office girls who helped Mrs. Donna Omo and Principal C. William Hanichen. Among the other duties were: putting mail in teachers' mailboxes, filing, answering the telephone, and contacting teachers or students when they are wanted.

Running the duplicating machine was another job of these office girls: Gayle Weber, Donna Brazee, Judy Smith, JoAnn Zimmerman, Karen Semmelroth, Joanne Kestner.

Quincy High School is lucky to have a safety patrol squad; not every school has one. Protecting students from traffic hazards and from their own carelessness isn't an easy job.

Executives made first lap of journey worth while

When school started the seventh grade had 109 students in the seventh grade. Since then they have lost two students: Jerry and Paul Elston. However the seventh grade acquired five new students to take their places. They are: Judy Helmick, Judy Hufnagle, Karolyn Kurtz, Sharon Powers and Carol Talbot. As a result there are now 112 students in the seventh grade.

This year the seventh grade didn't sponsor any money-making projects. They were satisfied with going to the dances and other money-making projects which other classes sponsored.

This year was the first year they had class officers. They elected President, Alan Himebaugh; Vice President, Gerry Smith; Secretary, Marlene Trenary; Treasurer, Barbara Hall. The class was lucky to have four advisers this year. They are Miss Margaret Matthews, Mr. Michael Kenney, Mr. John Lantz, and Mr. Argyle Omo.

They had one class party this year. The class went roller skating at the Hillsdale Stadium. The Class of '66 also had a float for the Homecoming.

worked hard for their new uniforms.

During the year the Oriole Band was moved from Class C competition to Class B, which proved really rugged.

The band marched at every home football game to help support the team and traveled many places. As usual they presented their annual winter and spring concerts. They also performed at the District Band and Orchestra Festival in Battle Creek.

The 'A' Band selected these officers: President, Nancy Ehl; Vice President, Leon Parrish; Secretary, Maryann Smith; and Treasurer, Judy Hutchins. Bob Anderson was chosen to be student director of the band.

This has been an important year for the band as they have been working very hard with the Band Parents Organization to earn money for their new uniforms. Judy Hutchins and Neil Wilcox were chosen to represent the band members at the committee meetings with representatives of various civic organizations to choose the style and colors of the new uniforms. The final choice was a military style in midnight blue (black) with orange and white trim. Band members planned to have the uniforms for their trip to Holland Tupic Festival. They appreciated the cooperation everyone in the community has given them on the project. This was a full and busy year for the band.

'B' Band is promising

The fall season found the 'B' Band hard at work on marching season. They marched in the Homecoming and Halloween parades and performed at the half of one varsity and one reserve football game.

The band was led during the marching season by Mark Van Patten, drum major, and the twirlers Twinkle Young, Anna Marie Bollegraf, and Iris McDowell. The band members selected their officers for the year: Mark Van Patten, president; Bradley Moore, vice president; Renae Eaton, secretary; and Beth Alexander, treasurer. Dick Howard led the band as student director.

On December 10 the band members held a party in the band room; during the second semester they held another party.

The band journeyed to Battle Creek on March 3. There they participated in the Band and Orchestra Festival sponsored by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association.

The band presented winter and spring concerts and ended the year by marching in the Memorial Day parade.

The Quincy Queens carefully rebuilt their team after losing the core of the team at last year's graduation. The team defense showed steady improvement; however, without a strong offense the team cannot be victorious.

The Queens are looking forward to a victorious year, after having learned many fundamentals which are beginning to show the development of a stronger team.

Good Athletes develop better individuals

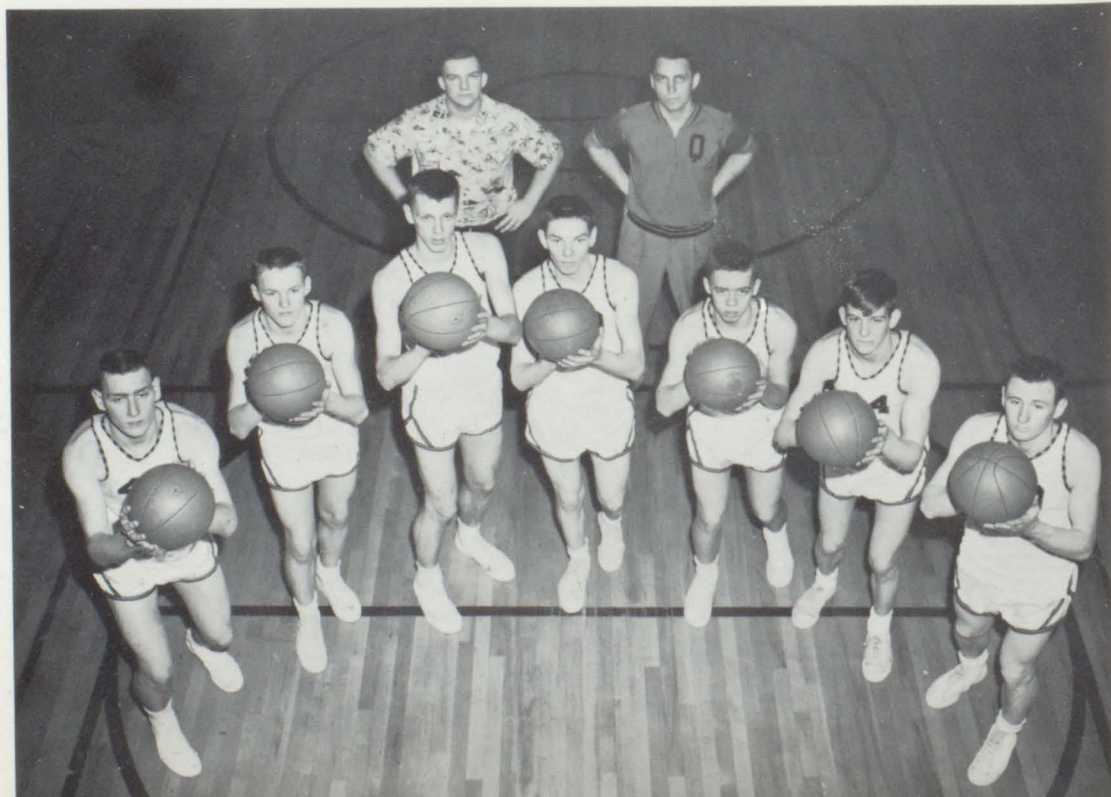

This year the varsity basketball team had its ups and downs as it did in previous years.

The team record was 3 wins and 13 losses. Even though the win and loss record was unimpressive, the team kept its poise and finished the season playing a respectable brand of basketball.

Coach John Lantz said he felt that in the near future basketball at Quincy should experience a noticeable improvement.

Dick Davis and Robert Anderson are the two seniors that were lost through graduation.

Seniors showed talent abilities

Speech Play was out of this world

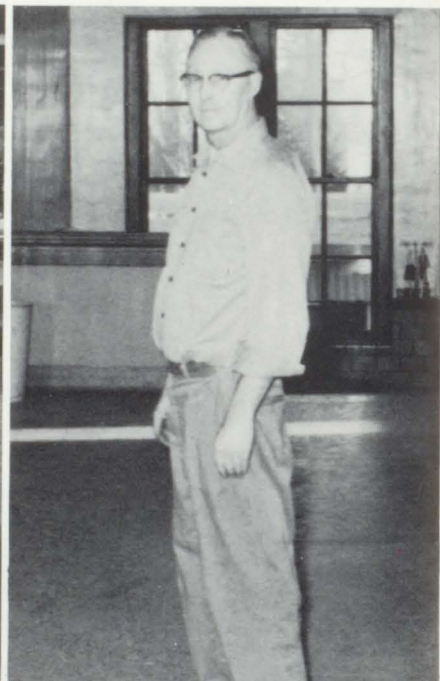

The Speech Class of 1959-60 put on a play "Visit To A Small Planet" as a class exercise. The play was a comedy about a person coming from another planet that was more advanced than ours. It was directed by the speech teacher, Mr. Eric Warden. The cast was as follows: Kreton, Andrew Zeck; Roger Spelding, Charles Vicory; Ellen Spelding, Pam Mangas; Mrs. Spelding, Margaret Cook; John Randolph, George Bolton; General Powers, Richard Wagoner; Aidel, Larry Guisinger; Paul Laurent, Larry Satchfield; Second visitor, Charlene Jenkins; and President of Paraguay, John Mahon.

Building Staff works diligently

SPRING

*We ran,
we jumped,
we won!*

ROW TWO: Dan Dobson, James Willen, James Clark, Walter Buell, Willard Ingersoll, Richard Wagoner.

Last spring's Quincy Track team sparkled in a few events. Wayne Gripman shattered the conference record and Coldwater Track record by winning the 880 dash in 2:03.5. Bob Wilson started off his first year in track by finishing second in this 880 dash. In the 100 yard dash Walter Buell came in fifth. In the field events last spring, Tom Douglas came in fifth for Quincy in shot put. Willard Ingersoll came in second in the pole vaulting event which ended in a three way deadlock.

In the Little 'C' Conference, Quincy finished in fifth place and was over Bronson, Union City and Litchfield. The Little 'C' Track meet saw the record smashed as six new records were established. It lived up to its reputation as being a highly competitive league in which many excellent athletes took part.

Quincy participated in other meets, relays and special invitation meets in which they represented themselves well. Quincy was the only school in the Little 'C' that placed a champion in state meets. Wayne Gripman was one of the three heat winners in the tournament of champions which was held at Kalamazoo last June.

With spirit, we fought

The baseball team last year, headed by Coach Mr. John Lantz, had some pretty rough competition; therefore they came through with only one win. Larry Paul was the pitcher for the whole year. Catcher for the year was Bob Wilson. Gerald Todd was the foremost hitter of the Quincy team last year. Three boys, Duane Crapo, Gerald Todd, and Dale Conant had participated in baseball for three years.

Six learned to play tennis

Students learned self defense

Instruction in self-defense was offered to these students during the 1960-61 school year: Pat Mason, Mary Ann Smith, Larry Paul, James Willen, George Bolton, Don Willen, and Mr. Stanley Klyman, instructor.

For the first time this year, the librarians took a regular course in library science, thereby giving Quincy Community High School a staff of well-trained library assistants.

Librarians, Hall Monitors serve fellow students.

Keeping our halls quiet and clear so classes could work was the job of the hall monitors.

"The Doctor in Spite of Himself" was the name of the speech play presented to the student body May 5, 1961. The play was written by Moliere and was a comedy taking place in the seventeenth century.

The director of the play was Mr. Eric Warden, teacher of the speech class; assisting him were Richard Wagoner and Andrew Zeck. The twelve characters in the play were: Sganarelle, played by James Hope; Martine, Diann Williams; Robert, Melvin Sanderson; Geronte, Tom Brockman; Valere, Andy Krymis; Lucas, Kay Myers; Jacqueline, Arlene Persails; Lucinde, Dana Queen; Leandre, Bill Todd; Thibaut, Larry Satchfield; Perrin, Ron Nelson; and the maid, Alice Buck.

Juniors, speech students become thespians

The Junior Class presented a play to the community on April 14 in the high school gym. The play, entitled "You, the Jury," written by James Reach, was a courtroom drama in three acts.

The director of the play was Mr. Eric Warden, one of the advisers for the Junior Class. There were fifteen characters, which were: Allan, played by Leon Parrish; Edith, Nancy Ehl; Miss Carver, Gearldine Marsh; Clerk, Andy Krymis; Stenographer, Theresa Kunder; Bailiff, John Fazekas; Barbara, Beverly Anderson; Mrs. Lake, Karen Semmelroth; Judge Findlay, Leonard Scott; McPherson, Melvin Sanderson; Rennie, Larry Satchfield; Gwendolyn, Mary Keller; Sheila, Autumn Dobson; Janice, Jackie Smith; and Jimmy, Mike Purcell.

Close race sparks magazine drive

The Quincy High School Student Council gained $969.37 from the annual magazine drive which had a total sales of $2,793.45. The school's share was used to defray part of the student activities expense, as well as help furnish the student commons in the new high school.

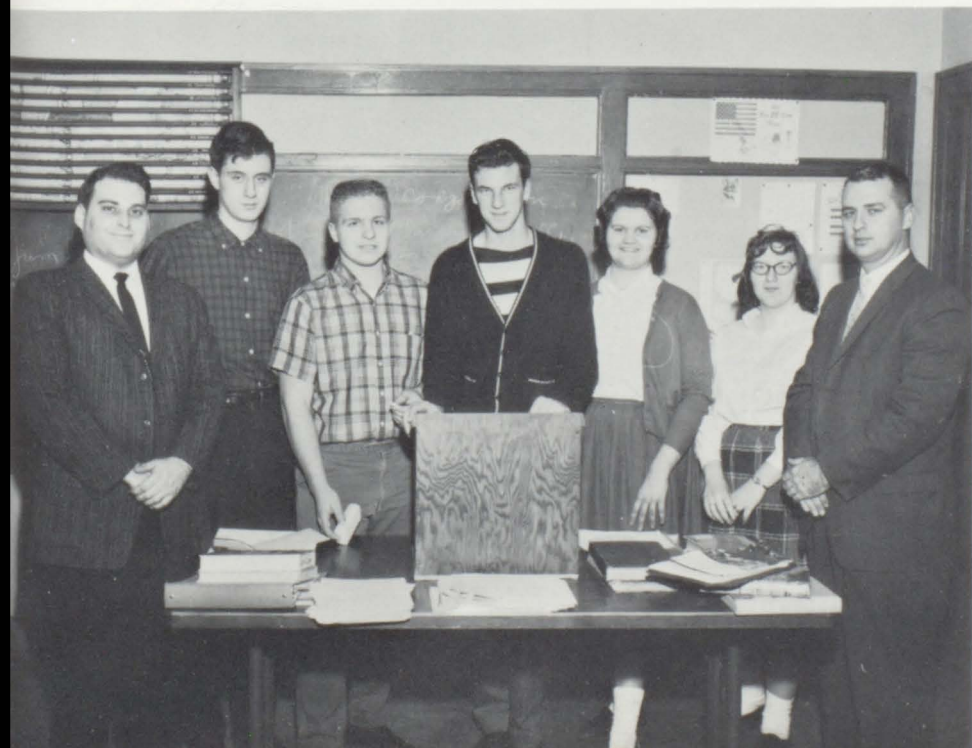

Mrs. Nell Volkert and her secretarial class and the homeroom captains deserve tremendous recognition for their wonderful work and patience through the magazine drive.

The top five winners were: Robyn Brown, top salesman, who received a four-speed record player; second high salesman, Gerald Smith, who received a camera; Lorinda Cole, as third, who got a watch; Ken Fraiser, fourth high awardee, who got a travel alarm clock; and Donald Daniels, fifth, who received a pair of opera glasses.

Mr. Stanley Klyman, Leonard Scott, Dick Knirk, Richard Wagoner, Joan Lampman, LaVonna Estep, and Mr. C. W. Hanichen.

MUNA attracts Q.H.S. students

The Model United Nations Assembly was set up with the purpose in mind of giving students a realization of the functions of the United Nations.

The Model United Nations Assembly (MUNA) is held at Hillsdale College every year. This year MUNA was held March 17 and 18.

The Quincy High School students represented France and Honduras in the General Assembly.
