As we are nearing the close of our second year in the new high school building we realize what a big difference it makes to have a beautiful well equipped school. We now seem to have gained a sense of familiarity with our surroundings and have settled down to study.

This year has been a year like other years but yet somehow it has been different. This has been a year of gaining new experiences and knowledge to help smooth the rocky road of life. This was the first year for the massed Band Concert, which was held in our gym. This was the first year trigonometry was offered as a part of our curriculum. For the first time, Union City, served as host for the conference tournaments. Yes, it has been a year of pride in achievements won.

The new first lady, Jacqueline Kennedy, with her fluency in foreign languages, seems to have made our French students work harder than ever. President Kennedy's intense emphasis on science has caused an increased interest in chemistry and physics. We realize that the race with Russia can not be won without science. The entire tense world situation has had an effect on our student body. Everyone has been working harder at his or her studies so that we may someday help to preserve the freedom that has made our schooling possible.

It is with a touch of sadness but with an even stronger desire for adventure into the future which is ours that we watch this year come to a close.

Organization and Efficiency Begin At The Top

Mr. Robert Brewer, Mrs. Lillian Leitch, Secretary; Mr. Max Parks, Treasurer; Mr. Carl Henderson, President;

Mr. Ross Pendill, Vice-President; Mrs. June Washborn, Mrs. Gladys Hagerman.

WILLIAM L. ADAMS, Principal; WILLIAM A. DYER, Superintendent

Studying and planning by the superintendent, principal, and board of education, and the co-operation of the voters of this school district resulted in our new high school, now two years old. Along with the new school, the administration has added two new subjects to our growing curriculum. Three new teachers have been added to help our overburdened faculty. These and many more wonderful aids to education have been provided by our parents and the administration.

Service and Efficiency Keynote School Personnel

Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Perkins, and Mrs. Mabus serve lunch to our hungry students.

HOT LUNCH HELPERS: Brenda Rarick, Janet Keller, Kay Bussema, Cathy Hawver, Susie Grigsby and Pat Biteman.

THE CUSTODIANS: Mr. Johnson, Mr. Mattson, Mr. Ellenwood and Mr. Miller, keep our school looking new.

Our faithful bus drivers bring us to and from our school.

ACTIVITIES

Student Life Helps To Make The Year

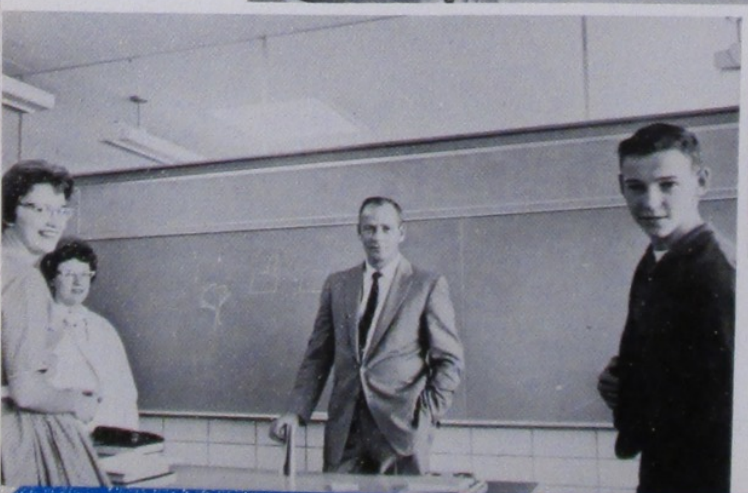

Mrs. Davison demonstrates shorthand by using an overhead projector.

It looks like everyone is studying hard today in honor study hall.

Mr. Martin, who taught English here last semester, was giving pointers on public speaking until the cameraman interrupted him.

One To Remember By All

Sherry Masters is putting up a colorful display on careers.

Band members are boarding a bus bound for the Michigan State Fair at Detroit.

In January, the Athens, Quincy, and Union City bands met here under the direction of Dr. Leonard Meretta from Western Michigan University.

Mrs. Hooker gives helpful advice to freshman, Patsy Youngs.

Nothing can interrupt Janice when she studies.

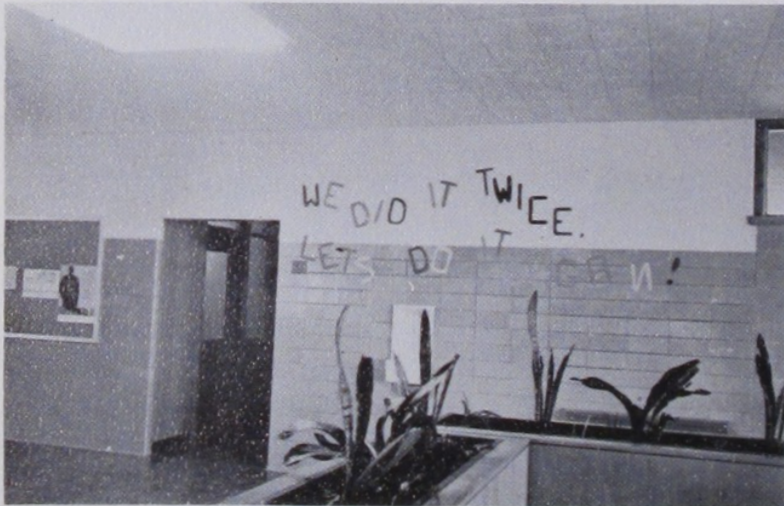

Activities Help To Liven Up

Before every football game this fall, scenes like this greeted us in our halls.

A typical noon hour occurrence.

These encouraging words put spirit into the team as well as the student body.

Mrs. Converse gives pointers on the use of the sewing machine.

The gym floor rapidly fills as a record begins during the WOWO record hop.

The newspaper goes on sale and the students gather to read the latest news.

The School Year For The Students

Artistic designs like this caught the attention of the students during the Christmas season.

The lunch line eyes the food approvingly.

Working out on the parallel bars is one of the many phases of physical education.

Students browse through the latest edition of "The Maroon and Grey."

Queen Annie and her escort Roger have the honor of opening the dance.

Council Makes News For Junior High Press

The Junior High Student Council consists of representatives from grades seven and eight. The Junior High Council's representatives took over the process of selling the student pictures. They made a total of $61.21 on the sale. They also sponsored a Community Chest Drive. Their goal was $25.00 which would be a contribution of ten cents a person. They also passed class parties.

The Junior Reporter staff with a membership of eighteen seventh and eighth graders was organized during the first semester. Meetings take place on alternate Thursdays at noon. Aims are to read newspapers with understanding, to write with a journalistic style, and to publish the Junior Reporter every six weeks. An attempt is made to deliver the Junior Reporter to all junior high school pupils.

Senior High Council Voices Student Opinion

The officers of the Student Council confer with Mr. Adams.

Our student council is composed of two regular members and one alternate from each class, ninth through twelfth. These are the hard working students that did all the preparation for the homecoming dance, handled all the money for the underclassmen pictures, made several new rules for the dances, approved all social events and donated $75.00 toward new cheerleading uniforms this year. Their advisor was Mr. Adams.

SEATED: Linda AcMoody, Treas.; Ronnie Swain, Pres.; Mr. Adams, Roger Smith, V. Pres.; Nancy Watkins, Sect.,

Class of '62" Plot Dirty Work at the Crossroads

The villain, Bob, now converses with the widow, Janet Smith, just before poisoning her tea. This scene provided a surprise for the actors on the first night since the cupful of poison (Bromo-Seltzer) foamed over unexpectedly.

Nellie, Annette Gray, comes upon her hero, David Youngs, being framed by the villain and villainess, Bob Washburn and Linda Pendill. At first, these positions were hard to hold without falling.

After the death of the widow, the stage is set, with most of the play cast mourning her death. Mookie, at the far left, was shocked at the experience of breaking a "live" egg in his pocket just before this scene. This provided a good laugh for the rest of the cast who conspired the idea against him. LEFT TO RIGHT: Mike Hoppe, Bob Washburn, Pinky Hagerman, Linda Pendill, Ann Clark, Alice Eldred, and Annette Gray.

In scene three Little Nell, Dale Marie Robinson, and her mother grieve at the thought of the little girl's imprisoned father. The girls find it hard to cry and not to laugh in this picture, don't they?

Much time and work is put into the annual every year. Students stay after school and take time from study halls planning, trimming, pasting, and typing to bring you this year's Maroon and Gray. We on the staff hope you'll enjoy remembering this year, and will be proud of your Maroon and Gray.

Nan Lee, Judy, Linda, Kathy, and David help paste the underclass pictures under the direction of Mrs. Johnson.

Paper Helps To Spread Much School News

Carol, Kathy, and Martha spend hours after school working on the paper.

A lot of time and effort are put into each issue of the Maroon and Gray. The staff should be lauded for their success in making it a paper that keeps the student body informed on the activities and events in the school. Behind each issue there is the news gathering, composing, typing, stenciling, stapling and finally distributing in order to put out a paper that the students can enjoy and be proud of.

This is the second year for the French Club. It has helped the members gain fluency in the language through games and dramatizations carried on in French. They have had parties with French food and songs. Also they have studied French history. The club sponsored a fund raising dance for a French orphan and hope to make it a club project. This has been a rewarding year for all who actively participated in French Club.

Brigitte, Yvon, Simone, Jacques, and Marthe read a popular French magazine, Paris Match.

The Future Teachers of America is planning on giving a scholarship which one of the members will receive. To raise money for this they held dances and sponsored other activities. F.T.A. is exploratory. A cadet teaching program is maintained, with the members devoting half-day periods helping the elementary and junior high schools. Guest speakers were invited to discuss some of their experiences in teaching and to explain the problems and joys of the profession.

Being in this organization is both educational and rewarding.

Carol enjoys working with the fifth graders and Mrs. Mattson as part of her F.T.A. life.

The boys enrolled in F.F.A. have been very active this year. They have helped to improve the appearance of the school grounds by planting shrubs outside the agriculture room and by seeding the football practice field. The boys have had several money raising projects, among which are selling garden seeds, tractor seats, and Christmas trees. Several very educational agricultural exhibits have been put up on the bulletin boards by them. A few of their other projects have been trimming trees, planting on a pine tree plantation, hunting fertilizer placements, and studying soil formation. The boys in F.F.A. have performed many services to the school and community.

The U.C.H.S. Band started out their 1961-62 year by traveling to Detroit, for the Michigan State Fair. Next in line was the colorful district marching contest, held in Coldwater. Another highlight was the first massed band festival, held here

January 24, consisting of Athens, Quincy, and Union City Bands. We were well represented by soloists and ensembles who went to the district contest. The final event was the annual spring concert.

Inexperience plagued the Little Maroons this year. The largest team in years to report for fall practice was a task indeed for Coach Wade. They reported for practice at the same time as did the Varsity. Basic fundamentals were the main object of the first few weeks of practice.

Although some of the Little Maroons scores were lopsided every player on the team was giving 100% to the cause of the game. They gained experience that will benefit all of the future U.C.H.S. Varsity teams to come.

Why Look So Glum; We Tied Them (Athens)

The Maroons got off to a very fast pace, winning four straight games without being scored upon. When archrivals Athens came to town before a record attendance the Maroons had much to be proud of. This was the official dedication of the new scoreboard which was the first electrically operated in the entire Little "C" Conference.

The Maroons reported for practice in late August, two weeks before school was to begin. The coaches wanted everyone to be in top shape, so under the stifling heat they ran sprints, ran the hill, exercises, et cetera until everyone was in top physical shape by the time school started. This year, unlike others, we were ranked in the state ratings many times. Also an "All Little "C" Conference All Star Team" was chosen. These boys were selected by the players themselves from all players in the conference. From our Mighty Maroons four players were chosen: Ron Swain, offense and defense, halfback; Drew Craig, defensive tackle; Steve Harvey, defense guard, and Jim Adams, defensive end.

Both Coach Wheeler and Wade did a superior job this year with the boys. They instilled in their minds good sportsmanship, fair play, and above all, teamwork. Both coaches deserve our congratulations.

Two of our seniors along with Bob Wetherholt and Larry Oliver (past graduates) set the school record in the mile relay in 1961. We are very proud of David and Sam for helping do this feat.

Sports Talent Recognized By Varsity Club

New varsity club members this year, will always remember this year's initiation. Many new tricks were pulled on the new members.

This year the varsity club sponsored a dance after one of the games. They also had a dance during the Christmas vacation. Plans were discussed about a possible trip to a professional basketball game in Detroit.
