DEDICATION

*We, the Class of 1922, do lovingly dedicate this volume of
The "Mirror" to
Our Fathers and Mothers and those, whose sacrifices have made our High School education possible.*

COLDWATER HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

FOREWORD

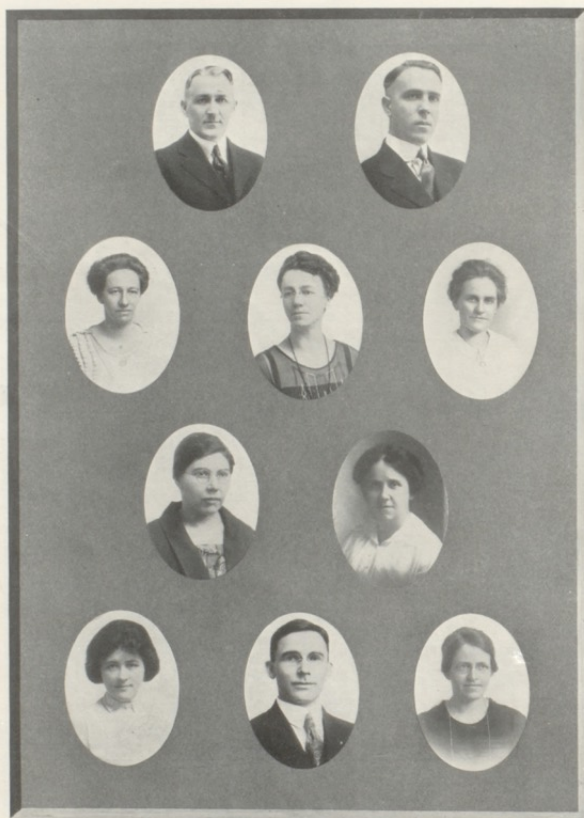

IN preparing this year's Mirror, the members of the Class of Twenty-Two have endeavored to give to C. H. S. the best Annual possible.

It is intended to be a mirror of our High School life during the year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-Two. It is to be not only a Mirror, but a memory crowded with events of greatest interest. If, in turning its pages in later years, you see yourselves as in Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-Two, happy, joyous, brimming over with the spirit of youth, and live again the many good times pictured and written herein, we shall feel we have accomplished the purpose for which we have worked.

*Here's to somebody staunch and true,
Who's always around when there's work to do,
Who keeps a supply of 'pep' and cheer
For all us folks for all the year.
Who knows that a gentle, loving smile
Is the best of tonics for all the while.
That there's nothing so bad that it can't be worse,
A case of blues is a terrible curse.
So here's to Mrs. Randolph staunch and true,
Who's the main stay of the Class of Twenty-Two.*

CLASS HISTORY

CHAPTER I

In the beginning our class was without form or order. Professor Swank therefore said, "Let there be a classmeeting," and there was a classmeeting.

And it came to pass that Melvin Ralston emerged from the multitude as president, Arthur Hellenberg as vice president, Marguerite Shattuck as scribe, J. T. Symons as class advisor, and behold the class of '22 looked upon their work and saw that it was good.

It was the custom in those days for the Seniors to give unto the Freshman a reception. And it was done.

Then there descended upon the school a great plague called the "flu." And the Rabbies bade us flee from our studies until the plague had ceased.

And behold! There came forth from our midst three men of might. "Tootie" Mohrhardt, Hubert Spade, and Clarence Hackett, who overcame the enemy in fierce athletic contests.

Thusly ended this year with much glory for us.

CHAPTER II

The next year we again assembled in the antique temple of learning. The rites of selection were again performed. Arthur Hellenberg became president; Max Earley, vice president; Vey Holmes, scribe; and Miss Bannister, class advisor.

And it came to pass soon after we gathered together on Hallowe'en a huge company to eat and make merry. And all the company did dance to the sound of music and laughter.

There came unto the land of C. H. S. a money changer to make a covenant with us concerning a play, Katcha Koo by name. Verily, I say unto you, a goodly part of the talent for the play came out from our class.

And our men of might were greatly increased in number and added to their glory on every occasion. And at the end of the year we journeyed into a strange country. Here we ate in abundance the fruits of the field and engaged in a combat, "The Interclass Meet."

CHAPTER III

Then after three months we went up again unto the land of C. H. S. and again we chose new leaders, Margaret, daughter of William of the House of Milnes, with Hubert Spade and Kenneth Olmsted as assistants. We chose Mrs. Randolph to advise us in the hour of need.

Not many days after, this wise prophethess bade us partake of a feast at her dwelling by the seaside.

Once again we gathered together at the Parish House and rejoiced among much merry-making and refreshments.

The Lord looked upon us with favor and once more did we smite our enemies and would be champions for another year.

And Lo! it did happen that our upper-classmen were to graduate after much toil. It appeareth that many shekels were needed to fill our coffers in preparation for a banquet and dance thereof. And with our mind upon this, the public was bidden to attend our benefit. And Lo! the people from all the surrounding territory did come and bring unto our treasury the shining shekels.

Now on the third day of the sixth month of the year one and twenty, our tribe did give a big feast to the tribe of '21 saying, "Come ye, come ye and make merry with us." For we knew that the upper classmen were about to depart from our midst.

And on the following Lord's day we did all assemble in a body and heard along with our upper classmen of the path that lay before them.

And it came to pass that on the night that our friends were about to depart from the land of C. H. S., we did again assemble in a body, but this time at Tibbit's Theatre. And here we did witness them securing their coveted sheepskin, and listened to a great prophet from the far country of Ann Arbor.

And our men of might had returned to us from smiting the enemy with still greater honor.

Thus the third year of our sojourn in the land of knowledge came to it's end with a feast by the seaside southeast of our land of dwelling.

CHAPTER IV

Now this, the fourth year in the history of this tribe of two and twenty has ended. A new leader, Max Benjamin and his assistants, Donald Draper and Elizabeth Woodward, were chosen from the multitude. Mrs. Randolph was again chosen from among the Rabbies, to guide our rising steps. And we sent up unto that ruling assemblage, the council, Gertrude Fredrichs and Donald Draper. And honor was done unto Draper and he was made president.

And then after a short time we bade all the tribes in the land of C. H. S. to assemble at the temple of learning. And they did attend a Reception which our tribe gave unto the Freshman tribe. And we gave much entertainment to make the children merry.

And the tribes of our land could not enter into combat with other lands in the winter for the place of combat had become evil in the Lord's sight and been destroyed by fire. How-be-it, our coffers became fat with gold and silver shekels from the benefits and the great Senior Play which our tribe presented unto the world. For much money was needed to make a fitting paper which would do honor unto our tribe, that we might the better remember our tribesmen when we traveled in far off lands.

And the wise ones of our tribe were made to sit before the artist, each by himself and in groups and there came to be a great exchanging of likenesses.

And then every tribesman was very busy for we were preparing to leave the temple of learning. And at last, on the eighth day of the sixth month of the year two and twenty our tribe gathered together at Tibbit's Theatre and received our sheepskins. And our tribe forever left the land of C. H. S.

And now we wish much success and pleasure to all the future tribes who dwell in the land of C. H. S.

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of '22 of Coldwater High School, City of Coldwater, County of Branch, State of Michigan, being of sound mind and body, do ordain and establish this to be our last will and testament in the manner following, hereby declaring all others null and void.

I. We devise and bequeath our happy school days to our successors, hoping they will enjoy the pleasures of school life in the years to come as we have enjoyed them in the past four years.

II. We leave to the class of '23 the Senior Hall provided the waste paper is picked up at least twice a week, otherwise said hall shall go to the keeping of the class of '24.

III. Lucile Wickes wills and bequeaths her ability to chew gum to anyone who wishes to practice the same in the presence of Miss Secor.

IV. Leona Roby wills and bequeaths her cosmetics to next year's Senior girls that the Senior hall may not lose its color.

V. To Harold Morgan we give "Fat" Earley's celebrated whistle, said whistle to be used only when calling Harold's dog.

VI. We leave to Clayton Russell the many home brew formulae now possessed by Wayne Jordan, that the said Clayton Russell may become accomplished in the making of light wines and beers when the 18th amendment is repealed.

VII. To Eloise Hyatt we give and bequeath the romantic spirit of Mildred Evens that the bashful Eloise may become more ardent in her love affairs.

VIII. Ithmer Coffman wills and bequeaths her splendid debating to "Art" Lyons, hoping that Coldwater may become famous.

IX. For the benefit of the Class of '23 "Shorty" Holmes wills and bequeaths his ability and skill in art to Ralph Turner that he may become Art Editor on the Mirror Staff.

X. "Pete" Dorrance wills and bequeaths his splendid dancing ability to Helen Tift, that the said Helen may become more accomplished in the art of fantastic dancing.

XI. Howard Conklin wills and bequeaths his graceful manner of walking to Lee Corless, hoping he will be able to make use of said asset.

XII. Alice Ross wills her book on 'How to Become Slender' to Vivian Weller, that the said Vivian may in time become a perfect 36.

XIII. Mildred O'Shaughnessy wills and bequeaths her privilege of eating free ice cream sodas, in the Sugar Bowl, to the Hodgman twins.

XIV. To "Jud" and "Marg" we bequeath Mr. Symons' office, including the Oriental rug and antique furniture, that the said couple may begin their housekeeping in perfect style.

XV. Marguerite Shattuck wills and bequeaths her dignity and proper manners to the class of '25.

XVI. Max Benjamin wills and bequeaths his extra points and credits to Clare Graner that the ever industrious Clare may graduate with next year's senior class.

In witness thereof we have hereunto set our hands and seals this third day of June in the year of our Lord Nineteen Hundred Twenty-Two.

CLASS PROPHECY

Extracts from the Diary of J. T. Symons

June 9, 1922. Attended commencement exercises. Class of 1922 has graduated at last. Another class off my hands.

July 12, 1930. Have accepted position as Superintendent of Schools at Dayton, Ohio. Very pleased.

January 4, 1945. Just arrived in Paris, don't know how I'll like it. Everything so different.

January 5, 1945. I received quite a surprise this morning. An invitation to the reunion of class of 1922. I remember them as quite a lively class. I'm going back and I'm sure the reunion will prove interesting.

June 1, 1945. I'm sailing on the Comet Air Line. Much to my surprise I found the captain, a very congenial man, to be Donald Draper. This world isn't so large after all.

June 2, 1945. I passed by a person this A. M. whose face looked familiar and sure enough it was Ithmer Coffman just returning from England. She is Librarian at Columbia University. Two old friends were with her, they were also Coldwater bound. One was a capable woman, Mable Harvey, and the other was Alice Preston. She had been doing Social service work in England. Married an English manufacturer. I hardly recognized a poor old soldier with them. He had a wooden leg and glass eye, lost both nature gave him, in the Battle of Jxblszm in 1932. But even his wooden leg couldn't disguise him. As he swung across the deck I recognized Hubert Spade. I was interested in a book I found on deck. It contained several beautiful sonnets and poems by Lucile Taylor. She is rapidly rising as poetess of today. I find that there are also three other members of the class of '22 enroute to Coldwater. Yevie Angevine, Carrie Hickey and Vivian Powell, are returning from Africa where they have been teaching in a Missionary school.

June 4, 1945. Landed at New York. Our party made arrangements to meet Marguerite Shattuck after her evening performance. I learned that this is her last night at the Pantheon where she has been giving some most wonderful recitals. She will accompany us to Coldwater. We all went to the Waldorf Astoria for dinner. There we surely had a surprise. Through the glass door, a cap on one ear, was Arthur Waite, chief "hash slinger." We sent for him and he will join us tomorrow. Wayne Jordan is the partner and manager.

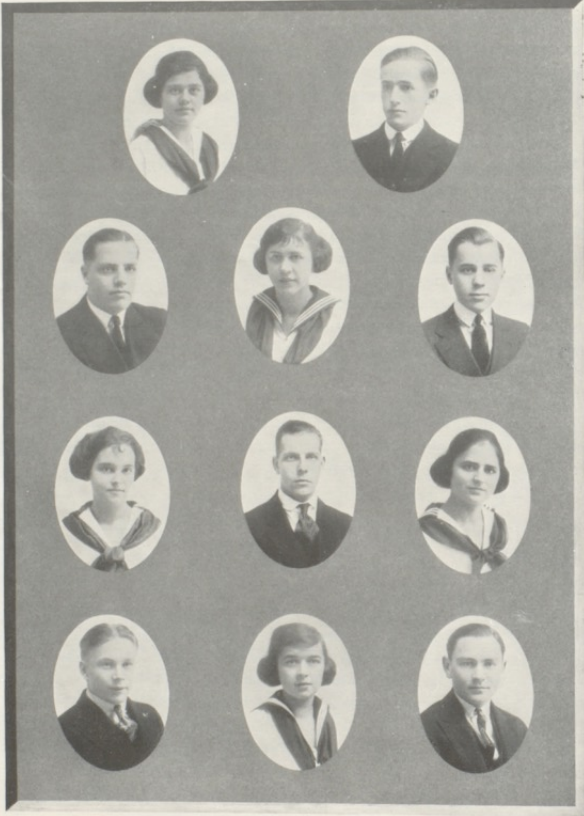

June 7, 1945. Adelma Dickey and Ruth Baker joined us at Cleveland. They are doing charity work there and enjoy their work immensely. Carl Mannerow and Howard Conklin also boarded the train. They are drawing plans for a bridge across Niagara Falls. Everyone has great hopes for the success of their plans. If they are the same boys they used to be I have no doubt as to their success.

June 8, 1945. Here is Coldwater—such a city as it is! Electric lines and sky scrapers. The reunion will be held in the banquet hall of the NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING. I wouldn't mind being principal again in this building. There is a large factory off from Chicago Street. "Pete" Dorrance, Manufacturer of the most famous floor wax. Lorena Garmen and Wava Brunson are his private secretaries. "Dolly" Ralston is president of a fine new bank on Main Street. Out on Tibbits Street is a large musical college. Leona Roby and Gertrude Friedrich are the principal instructors. Coldwater certainly has grown, thanks to the Class of '22. Met "Kenny" Olmsted this morning. He is an undertaker in Indiana and doing fine.

June 9, 1945. Guess I'd better write about the banquet last night. Well, Florence Humphrey, Gladys Buys, Margaret Hyatt, and Esther Ruppert came in from the country where they are teaching school. Hallie Wood came in on the Electric from Girard. He is conducting a large dairy farm out there. The banquet hall was beautifully decorated. It was the work of Avis McNaughton, who has a large greenhouse. "Art" Hellenberg came over from Olivet College where he is acting as football coach there. Mildred is not assistant coach as we expected but is the successor of Mary Pickford in her latest production, "Why Girls Leave Home for Twenty-five Cents." There was quite a delegation from Chicago. Margaret Milnes, who is now connected with Redpath Chautauqua. Three learned women, Starr Joseph, Marjorie Jucket and Dorothy Winemiller, also from Chicago, are members of the faculty of a business college. Mlle. Margaret Doerr is a successful milliner in Chicago and was present. "Fat" Earley and Lajoie Faust also from Chicago were present. They are managers of a large shoe and clothing store there. There was a very good program after the banquet. Professor Max W. Benjamin of Boston Tech. was toastmaster. He's quite an orator. "Shorty" Holmes, who is now acting as cartoonist of the Coldwater Reporter and is doing some very fine work, gave an interesting chalk talk. Marion Balcom gave the first toast. It was on the three years spent in the Senate and very interesting. We were then honored by a vocal solo by the famous Miss Carol Dove of the Neapolitan Trio. She was accompanied by Lucile Wickes and Sylvia Johnson on the piano. Miss Fannie Moog gave a toast on woman suffrage. She and her classmate, Miss Dorothy Lehmann are now traveling and giving lectures on equal suffrage. Her talk was very forceful. Ila Bates has devoted her life to the Lutheran League, while "Shady" Havens is a minister. Alice Ross is a model for J. B. Branch & Co., and Ruth Wilbur is teaching French in the local High School. Rex Bennett is physical trainer at Ypsi and sent his regrets for being absent on account of track meet with Ann Arbor. Haskel Whitcomb is a successful farmer near Coldwater. Alice Smiley could not get away from her ranch in Arizona. Mildred O'Shaughnessy was not present because her home is under quarantine with measles. Nothing has been heard of Mabel Edwards since she left Coldwaer in 1924. Rolene Olmstead owns a theatre and Eleanor Koch came down from Detroit where she has a tea room. Glema Weaver is happily married and living in Coldwater.

June 10, 1945. The festivities of the reunion are all over now and everyone voted a splendid time. I will remain about ten days visiting old friends before returning to my duties.

The Class of Twenty-Two present this book to Coldwater High School which is the second annual edited by a Senior Class.

With the hearty co-operation of every individual we trust the work done has been satisfactorily accomplished.

We have earned the money to make the publication of such a book possible, in the main part, by our Senior Play, entitled "Oh! Oh! Cindy." This was given on March 17, 1922, and financially successful to the extent of two hundred and sixty-five dollars.

We also have had numerous movies which were most successful. "Benefits" seems to be our money-makers, for, it seems, we could even sell a ticket to a wooden Indian.

The Editor, at this time, wishes to state her appreciation of the work done by the other members of the Staff. They have been more than faithful in their support in making this book one of which, we hope, the class of Nineteen Hundred Twenty-Two will always be proud.

CLASS SONG '22

- 1st. We're going to leave you C. H. S.,
And we are glad to go
'Twill give the others all a chance
To graduate, you know.
- Cho. So tonite we'll merry, merry be
For we're through with school, you see,
And the future seems so free,
And all exams are over.
- 2nd. Here's to Symons, King and Good
And to our Class Advisor---
Who put us straight on every point
And told which would be wiser. Cho.
- 3rd. And if you try to be like us,
Good fortune will pursue.
For what has more successful been
Than the Class of Twenty-Two? Cho.
- Marguerite Shattuck.
Lucile Taylor.

CLASS POEM

There's a memory dear to our class,
As we leave old C. H. S.
Of the days of gloom and the days of cheer
While we've tried to do our best.
There's a memory dear of the friends who helped
On the long hard way we came.
So we'll give to them our greatest thanks
And we'll ever do the same.

There were the good times too, that we have had
The thoughts of leaving them make us sad.
There were numerous gatherings of the whole band,
And the parties and picnics of all our class
There will be more good times in the days to come
Parties and picnics and all kinds of fun.
But we'll not forget as we go on with the rest
The good old times in C. H. S.

As we take our part in the game of life
And play it with the rest
The lessons we've learned in C. H. S.
Will help us in the strife.
There may be some who will fail, and some who will win
But whate'er the cost, what'er the returns great
We will all be game. (fame.)

VALEDICTORY

Yette Angevine

"To Strive, to Seek, to Find, and Not to Yield"

We are in sympathy with Ulysses because we too have reached one of the turning points of our lives, the end of our high school education. For twelve years we have been tutored, directed, and guided. We have been as children led along a pathway; now we come to a cross-roads. The grasp of the friendly hand is now loosed. We are left to choose which path we are to follow; the one that is rugged and leads over the steep mountains, or the one that is easy and winds through the pleasant valleys of life. Commencement is an arch through which we can see the world and these two paths; one rugged, steep and lonely, the other smooth, and are left without these friendly,

As we pass through this arch a easy, but leading where? guiding hands, how great the temptation to say, "I am weary and would rest awhile," forgetting that every hour of endeavor, every effort we make would only make the rough road easier to lead us to newer and better things. Then let us not tarry in the pleasant valleys of life, but start while our ambitions are still strong, and while we have the faith to conquer all things.

There we know not what adventures await us, though we may often fail, there is always some work worthy of our efforts. Our struggle is but begun; with free hearts, free minds, with Ulysses we may yet follow knowledge like a sinking star, and find that youth holds not all. "The best is yet to be."

"That which we are, we are: one equal temper of heroic hearts, made weak by time and fate, but strong in will to strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield." It may be that in years to come, some of us may reach those happy isles, may know fame, fortune, or far lands.

We have learned from the past that the heart of man kind does not change from generation to generation. Ambitions, desires, and yearning for nobler things remain the same through the ages. History teaches us that the daring souls of the world, those we call heroes, are the ones who, obtaining knowledge, overcoming obstacles, achieving success; they are not content to settle down in peace and enjoy the rewards of their efforts, but restless, unsatisfied, press on, ever seeking new worlds to conquer. I am going to tell you the story of one of these high-hearted heroes of old, Ulysses.

Many, many years ago, Helen, the most beautiful woman in the world and wife of Menalus, King of Greece, was carried off by Paris, son of the King of Troy. From this incident there arose a war, known as the Trojan war. The King of Greece called all the great Chieftains of his country together for the purpose of rescuing Helen. Ulysses, who had married Penelope, a cousin of Helen, was loth to go to war as he was happy in his home, his island kingdom, Ithaca, but due to the call of the king it was necessary for him to obey.

Greece being successful in the Trojan War, Ulysses was allowed to return home. After ten years of struggle, hardship, and adventure, he finally reached home safely.

During Ulysses' absence, Penelope had been besieged by many suitors. Ulysses, however, soon righted matters and settled down to enjoy the ease and comfort afforded him by peace and prosperity, but he soon grew dissatisfied with the easy life he was living and could not content himself there.

One of our greatest English poets, Alfred Lord Tennyson, has given us the point of view of the old hero, his dangers past and nothing left but to stay at home and be happy—growing tired of inaction and resolving to set forth again in quest of new adventures:

“It little profits that an idle King,
By this still hearth, among these barren crags,
Match'd with an aged wife, I mete and dole
Unequal laws unto a savage race,
That hoard, and sleep, and feed, and know not me.
I cannot rest from travel: I will drink
Life to the lees: All times I have enjoy'd
Greatly, have suffer'd greatly both with those
That loved me, and alone: on shore, and when Thro' scudding drifts the rainy Hyades
Vext the dim sea: I am become a name;
For always roaming with a hungry heart
Much have I seen and known; cities of men
And manners, climates, councils, governments,
Myself not least, but honor'd of them all;
And drunk delight of battle with my peers,
Far on the ringing plains of windy Troy.
I am a part of all that I have met;
Yet all experience is an arch wherethro'
Gleams that untravell'd world, whose margin fades
Forever and forever when I move.

How dull it is to pause, to make an end,
 To rust unburnish'd, not to shine in use!
 As tho' to breathe were life. Life piled on life
 Were all too little, and of one to me
 Little remains; but every hour is saved
 From that eternal silence, something more,
 A bringer of new things; and vile it were
 For some three suns to store and hoard myself,
 And this gray spirit yearning in desire
 To follow knowledge like a sinking star,
 Beyond the utmost bound of human thought.
 There lies the port: the vessel puffs her sail:
 There gloom the dark broad seas. My mariners,
 Souls that have toil'd, and wrought, and thought with me—
 That ever with a frolic welcome took
 The thunder and the sunshine, and opposed
 Free hearts, free foreheads—you and I are old;
 Old age hath yet his honor and his toil;
 Death closes all: but something ere the end,
 Some work of noble note may yet be done,
 Not unbecoming men that strove with Gods.
 The lights begin to twinkle from the rocks:
 The long day wanes: the slow moon climbs: the deep Moans round with many voices. Come, my friends,
 'Tis not too late to seek a newer world.
 Push off, and sitting well in order smite
 The sounding furrows; for my purpose holds
 To sail beyond the sunset, and the baths
 Of all the western stars, until I die.
 It may be that the gulfs will wash us down:
 It may be we shall touch the happy Isles,
 And see the great Achilles, whom we knew.
 Tho' much is taken, much abides: and tho'
 We are not now that strength which in old days
 Moved earth and heaven, that which we are, we are:
 One equal temper of heroic hearts,
 Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will.'

It may be that some of us, tempest tossed, may not reach the port for which we strive; but all, one equal temper of heroic hearts, may still with noble mariners of Ulysses "Over the horizon follow the gleam" beyond the sunset and the path of the western stars into the broad ocean of noble manhood and womanhood.

Oh, Oh, Cindy! presented March 17 under the auspices of the Senior Class was one of the most striking and artistic of the plays presented by high school talent.

The first scene is in New York with Cinderella VanAlstine, one of the principals of the "Follies" becoming dissatisfied with her surroundings. In a dream she is permitted, in company with associates of the Follies, to visit RobinsonCrusoe on his island. Needless to say that she is disillusioned as well disallusions Robinson Crusoe, Lily White, the black men, Friday and Saturday, and the little cannibals.

From the island she is transported by aeroplane to the Land of Heart's Desire. Because wishes are realized instantly and she may not do her own shirring, Cindy is again dissatisfied and wishes the magical machinery smashed so she may go to good old New York.

She awakens in her dressing room at the theatre in time to proceed with the evening performances.

Prominent with the "Songs of Yesterday and Today" was La Crier. This part required the expression of many moods in introducing the various groups consisting of "Two Little Girls in Blue, Indians, Irish, Quakers, Japanese, Hulas Orientals and Starlight girls. This, the grand finale, was the most striking part of the play.

Other groups worked in during the play were the Flappers, Harlequins, Aviation Chorus, Tickletoe group, Ballet, Messengers, Drum Corps, Cannibals, Gnomes and Fireflies.

Some of the Clever songs were, "Oh, Miss White," sung by Friday, cannibals and chorus; "'Quack' said the Duck" sung by Santa and the big four; "Come Along to the Movies," by Cindy, Blanche, Three Bears, Robinson Crusoe, Steve Craig and Santa; "Oh, what a Bump," by Santa, Steve and Godmother; "In our Aeroplane," "Aviation" group; "I want a chance to Beat that Drum," Friday; and, "The Light of my Life," Steve and Cindy.

The scenery and costumes were both elaborate and beautiful. The play was a medley of color and music. The music was of that catchy, lingering type, with airs that made you want to whistle. There were no moments of rest in the production because of its wealth of artistic dancing and clever playing.

MAY DAY PICNIC

The Senior Class held their May Day Picnic at Cedar Bank Pavilion, Coldwater Lake, on the second of May 1922. This was the first May Day Picnic ever held by a graduating class of Coldwater High School and was attended by a large majority of the class.

In the morning occurred two base ball games in which both the girls and boys participated. At noon a pot luck dinner which consisted of escalloped potatoes, potato salad, sandwiches, macaroni and cheese, cottage cheese, pickles, olives, fruit salad, cake, pie and fruit was served.

The afternoon was spent in dancing, games and discussing plans for a reunion to be held next year.

The Senior class hope to see this made an annual affair so that other graduating classes may have the pleasure of looking forward to it.

This year the Junior and Senior girls have their own Glee Club. Under the faithful and careful direction of Miss Wood they were able to put on the operetta entitled "Windmills of Holland." They have also sung on the Fortnightly program, Chapel program and several other times where they always delighted their audience. This is Miss Wood's first year here and she has already won the high esteem of the pupils, and to her is attributed the success which has been attained this year.

The Freshman-Sophomore Club has been a great success under the directorship of Miss Dorothy Wood. During the year it has appeared before the Farmers' Convention, the Branch County Institute, cooperated in church services and taken an active part in chapel exercises. Each public appearance has shown great ability on the part of both instructor and students.

The Boys' Glee Club was organized early in the school year and has been one of the most successful organizations of the High School. It sang before the Branch County Teachers' Institute and took part in church services. It participated in chapel exercises and very successfully entertained the members of the High School with its jolly songs and excellent ability.

Much tribute is due to the earnest and sincere guidance of Miss Dorothy Wood who has been the Glee Club's instructor during the past year and has always had the interests of the club at heart.

In 1920 a Hi-Y was organized in Coldwater, under the leadership of Mr. Good, by the Hillsdale Hi-Y. The association has for its advisory board the old Y. M. C. A. advisory board. To these men and Mr. Good is due a large amount of credit for the success.

The charter members of the association were the fellows returning from the State Older Boys' Conference at Grand Rapids during the fall of 1920.

In the fall of 1921 an amendment to the constitution was made admitting Freshmen to the association under a separate organization but controlled by the Hi-Y council.

The main purpose of the club is "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the community high standards of Christian Character." The aim of each member is to make more firm and complete the triangle of all around manhood which has for its sides; mind, body and spirit. Each of these has its place in the meeting of the association which is divided into three parts; devotional, vocational, and recreational.

The pin of the association is a red triangle with a white cross within. The white cross stands for purity. The red triangle stands for red blooded growth in body, mind, and spirit.

Two annual banquets are held, the banquet for old Hi-Y members held during the holidays, and the Lads' and Dads' banquet held in the spring.

The Roosevelt Debating Club is still very much on the map, though its membership was decreased greatly through the graduation of the class of 1921.

Under the leadership of Ithmer Coffman and Fannie Moog, the club has done its best this year to live up to the purpose of its organization, the welfare of debating, and have enjoyed themselves and benefitted greatly at its meetings. The club also owes much to the energy and wisdom of its faculty advisor, Miss Ralph, who has done much for its welfare.

After a year of inactivity, C. H. S. again entered the State High School Debating League. Due to financial difficulties she was unable to complete her schedule of five debates, and three members of the team Roland Lucas, Duane Sanford and Marshall Hungerford were not afforded a chance to participate in active debating.

Because of the inexperience of the members of the teams three debates were lost but the experience of this year has afforded a good foundation for the debating team of "23."

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The Junior-Senior Banquet took place at the Elks Temple on the second of June. The color scheme was purple and white, Senior colors, carried out in painted butterflies. The dance hall was decorated in multi-colored butterflies, all leading to one huge blue and gold one. The menu as follows:

Creamed Chicken in Timbales
Mashed Potatoes			Green Peas
	Rolls	Fruit Punch
Pineapple Salad			Wafers
	Lemon Ice	Ladyfingers

A very clever toast to the Seniors was given by Ruth Whitney and it was equally well answered by Melvin Ralston. The faculty was toasted by Orus Davis and Miss Kempster held up the honor by her answer.

SENIOR FRAZZLE

On September 19, 1921, the class of '22 held their first social event of the year at the home of Miss Ithmer Coffman.

Shortly after school many of the members of the class walked out to the Coffman home and by supper time a large majority of the class was present. The time before supper was spent in playing tennis, pitching quoits and dancing. The supper was in the form of a frazzle and was enjoyed by all.

The time after supper was spent in discussing plans for the Freshman reception.

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

The Senior class entertained at a most enjoyable party at the Parish House on January the thirtieth. The program was in charge of Carol Dove, who selected her own committee and arranged a delightful program which was opened at 8 o'clock with selections given by the Toy Symphony orchestra; a reading by Miss Edith Secor; piano solo by Miss Allene Swain; fantastic dance by Marion Olmsted.

The latter part of the evening was featured by a peanut hunt, a "Who's Who" contest, in which baby pictures of the contestants played a large part in the game.

Refreshments were served and the evening's enjoyment was made complete when the "Coldwater Serenaders" appeared on the scene and furnished music for the dancing.

The football team of 1921 by hard work and training made a good record this year. Considering the fact of the loss of so many men from the previous year's team. The positions left open were filled by those who remained from last year's team and from the new material which reported to Coach Martin for the 1921 season. Coach Martin carried out the filling and training of men for these positions not only benefit to the team but also with credit to himself, and in a short time had a team trained and fit for a hard season, which, under the guidance of Captain Earley proved equal to the task.

The first game of the schedule was with Union City, at Coldwater. Union City had an unusually strong team who put up a hard fight. They started in from the very first and hit our line for good gains. The local squad being inexperienced, lacked organized team work. The Union City team finding the weak spots, pushed one score over in the first half. In the second half, the visiting team came back strong. This, along with the fact that the local team seemed unable to carry the ball on the offensive for consistent gains, made our chance of winning look slim, until near the finish of the game when by means of a long pass, the local team brought the ball well down the field, which in the end, made possible a touchdown for C. H. S.

Score, C H S 7—Union City 7

Two weeks following, on Saturday, the local team drove to Jackson by auto to play. Jordan was sick and unable to play. Levy was injured from practice, but managed to play the entire game. This left the line in a weak condition. In spite of this the local squad held Jackson well for the first quarter. But from then on our team seemed to lose its power of defense, and Jackson pushed thru the line for long gains. During the remaining three quarters, Jackson netted four touchdowns while C. H. S. was unable to come back against the Jackson team for a score.

Score: C. H. S. 0—Jackson 28

The following week the local squad made a trip to Adrian. Here, as was the case the year before, the locals played the best game of the season. Adrian was mindful of the defeat C. H. S. gave her the previous year, and planned to square up for it against this year's team. The locals were confident of winning, so the game from the very start was a hard and fast one. The first few minutes of play showed the two teams to be evenly matched. As neither team was able to make their downs, they were both forced to punt during the entire game. The locals brought the ball to within three feet of Adrian's goal by intercepting one of Adrian's passes, but lost it on a fumble. The rest of the game was a hard fight on the part of both teams to secure a touchdown before time was called. Adrian attempted many times to make good a place kick but Coldwater's defense was good and the plays were easily broken up.

Score: C. H. S. 0—Adrian 0

The next game was with Albion at Coldwater. After the defeat Albion gave C. H. S. the year before, the local team thought it necessary to give the visiting team a setback. The Coldwater team was ready for a hard fight but Albion proved to be easier defeated than that for. Altho Albion put up a game fight, their eleven could not hold back the local eleven.

Score: C. H. S. 12—Albion 7

The succeeding game with Three Rivers was an easy one. Three Rivers having taken up football this year after they had discontinued it for several years, had a team composed of all inexperienced players. The game, which was played from start to finish in a drizzling rain, was slow and lifeless. The local team experienced little opposition against the visiting team, due probably to their inexperience and the weather condition.

Score: C. H. S. 25—Three Rivers 0

The next game on the schedule was Marshall. The day of the game was very cold. The local squad was cold and unable to get warmed up before the game was called. Consequently they were slow and played lifeless. Marshall who had a fast team, rushed the local team off their feet at the very start, making three touch-downs in the first five minutes of play. The Coldwater team put up a game fight, but the Marshall eleven was too strong and fast for them. Marshall was able to score twice more before the finish of the game.

Score: C. H. S. 0—Marshall 31

One week later, on Armistice Day, a game was played with Edon, Ohio, at Coldwater. Much had been heard about the record of the Edon team, leading the Coldwater eleven to believe they would encounter a hard game. The visiting team, however, proved to be less formidable than expected, the locals having little difficulty in running up a winning score against the opposing eleven.

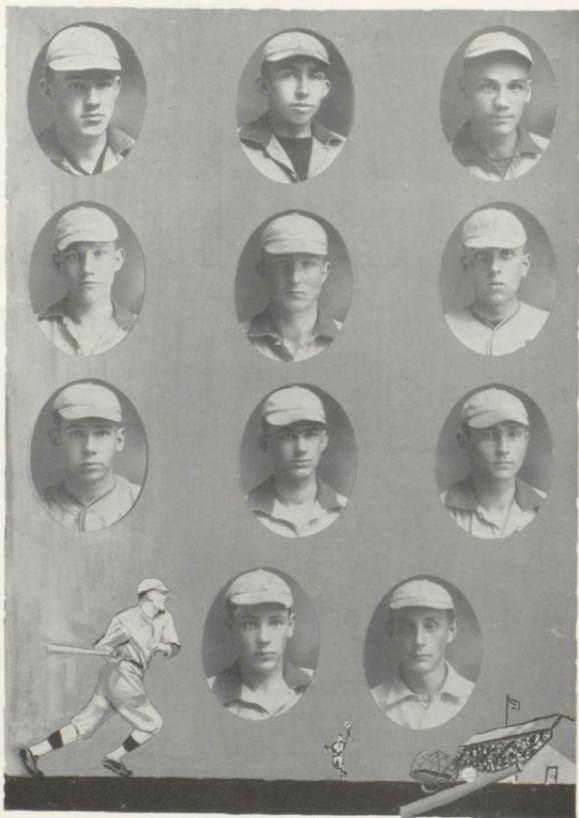

Score: C. H. S. 20—Edon, Ohio 7

Next on the schedule was a game with Sturgis. This was an easy victory for C. H. S. Altho the Sturgis team played a good game, they were too light to hold back the Coldwater eleven, the locals pushed four touchdowns thru the Sturgis line in the first three quarters of the game. Then having the game practically cinched, second team men were sent in so that they might gain experience for the coming year. By the end of the last quarter the entire team was composed of second team men except two. Sturgis scored once during this quarter.

Score C. H. S. 27—Sturgis 7

The Thanksgiving game played at Hillsdale was a disappointment for C. H. S. Coldwater High had won from Hillsdale for several consecutive years and desired very much to keep up such a record. To accomplish this the locals put special effort and longer hours of practice into developing and practicing new plays to use against the Hillsdale eleven. The game was played on the college field following a game between Olivet and Hillsdale Colleges.

Score: C. H. S. 6—Hillsdale 20

BASEBALL

Arthur Hellenberg Captain

The baseball season was very rainy and many games were canceled on account of the weather. Players were prevented from practicing which tended to lower the morale of the team. The team, however, has finished the season with good spirit and a fair record. Most of this year's players were experienced players.

The first game of the season with Athens was a close game. The local nine had the game cinched at the end of the seventh inning. The score being 9 to 5 neither team scored in the eighth inning. With C. H. S. four scores in the lead at the beginning of the ninth, it looked as if Coldwater had an easy victory, but in the ninth the local team played a little careless, and Athens managed to run in five scores on an error made by the Coldwater team.

Score: C. H. S. 9—Athens 10

Four days later the Coldwater team made a trip to Hillsdale. Here the team played a poor game and the whole team showed little spirit. Hillsdale, on the other hand, played in good form and had an easy task to win from C. H. S.

Score: C. H. S. 1—Hillsdale 13

The following game with Union City at Coldwater was an evenly matched game, C. H. S. winning by one score. The men played a better style of ball than in the previous game. Gruner pitched with Bennett catching behind the bat. Union City played a hard game but were not able to defeat C. H. S.

Score C. H. S. 9—Union City 8

On May 6 the local team played Albion. Both teams showed spirit and pep in their plays. Paul pitched for Coldwater, his first game in the box for C. H. S. and the rest of the players were at loss to know what the results would be. However, he pitched a fine game and has held down that position the remainder of the season. The game was a tie score, 2-2, from the third to the eighth inning. Albion then scored three times in the 8th and once in the 9th, while C. H. S. only scored once in the 8th and once in the 9th.

Score: C. H. S. 4—Albion 6.

The team next made a trip to Athens to play a return game. But due to unfair decision of the umpire, the game was forfeited by C. H. S. The score stood 13-9 in the ninth inning, C. H. S. having the lead.

Score: C. H. S. 10—Athens 1.

On May 15, the local team played Union City, this being a return game here. Our team defeated Union City in the previous game and were quite confident of repeating the victory. With the local battery working in good shape and each player making good batting averages off the Union City team, Coldwater easily won the game.

Score: C. H. S. 10—Union City 6

The following game with Bronson was not a scheduled game, it being played to fill out games that were cancelled on account of bad weather. Spade pitched in order to save Paul for the Three Rivers game. Whitecomb caught, Bennett being out of the game with an injured ankle. The local had nothing to worry about from the Bronson nine.

Score: C. H. S. 10—Bronson 4

May 31st a game was held with Three Rivers. The game was played on a fine field, and as both teams seemed keyed up for the game, it turned out to be very interesting. Paul pitched a good game with all of the players backing him up. The opposing pitcher, however, was not easily hit. Hellenberg made three safe hits and Gruner made a three-bagger. The game was close, the score being 4-4 at the end of the eighth inning. But Three Rivers crossed the slate once in the ninth, giving them the game.

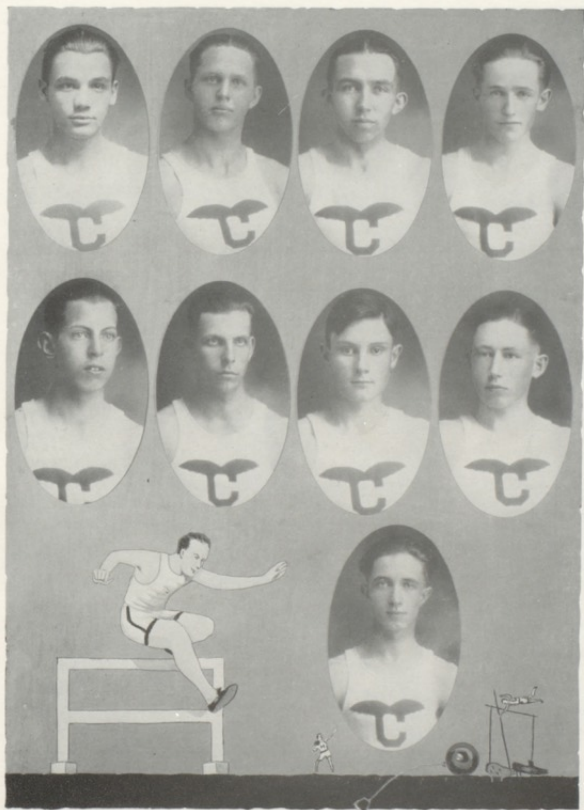

Score: C. H. S. 4—Three Rivers 5

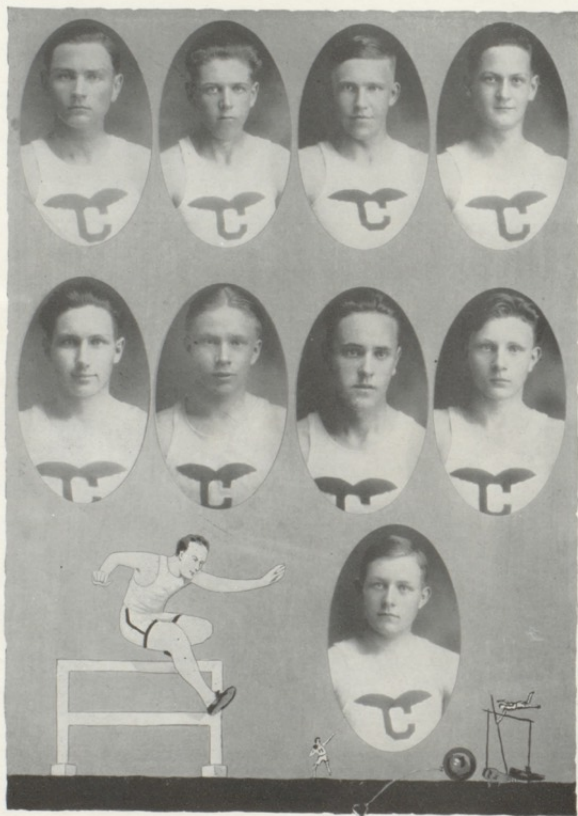

The last game on the schedule, Coldwater vs. Hillsdale, was another victory for Hillsdale over C.H.S. The local team seemed to think that they could not defeat Hillsdale after the 13-1 trimming Hillsdale gave them in the first game. All of the players played slow and careless ball. The Hillsdale team did some good playing, making a double in the ninth inning.

Score: C. H. S. 6—Hillsdale 12

TRACK

C. A. Martin
R. Bennett

Coach
Captain '22

The track team of 1922 has taken up the work of encouraging and developing this line of sport in C. H. S. They have had no convenient place to train; but have accepted this inconvenience as part of their work. The team as a whole, has endeavored to carry on the good record of last year's team to the best of their ability.

The annual inter-class meet, which is the first of the season, was entered into with much enthusiasm by the members of the different classes. The class winning receives the privilege of having their name and year engraved on the Osborn trophy cup. The first event of the inter-class meet was the six mile cross country relay race from Quincy to Coldwater. The Seniors won this, giving them 10 points toward the winning of the trophy cup. The track events were held next at the Fair grounds.

Then followed the field events at Water Works Park. The Sophomores took the lion's share of the points in both the track and field events, taking nine firsts out of the thirteen events held in the inter-class schedule. Renshaw starred for the Sophomore team, securing seven of the nine firsts taken by the class, also a third place, making him a total of thirty-six points. The Sophs took the meet by a good margin, the final score being:

1st—Sophomore	57 points	2nd—Seniors	48 points
3rd—Juniors	28 points	4th—Freshmen	0 points

On Saturday, May sixth, a field day was held with Albion at Coldwater. A ball game was played in the forenoon and a track meet held at the Fair Grounds in the afternoon. This meet was an easy one for Coldwater, C.H.S. winning by a large score.

On May thirteenth Coach Martin took eleven members of the High School Track Team to the Kalamazoo Normal meet. The records made at the Normal meet this year were much better than those of the previous years. The fine condition of the track and the favorable weather contributed much undoubtedly to the good time made in the events. However, only a few of the men sent were able to place. Those who placed are mentioned below:

H. Spade, High jump, height 5 ft. 8 in., 3rd place

K. Olmsted, pole vault, height, 10 ft., 4th place.

O. Renshaw, Broad jump, distance, 19 ft. 11½ in, 5th place.

The next meet was with Hillsdale and Hudson, at Hillsdale on the afternoon of May eighteenth. Plans were made to let school out early in order that all who desired might attend the meet. Shortly after dinner it began raining and it looked as if the meet would have to be called off. But after some hesitation Coach Martin decided to go even if the weather conditions were bad. Although it rained the entire afternoon the meet was successfully carried out. Hudson, however fell out of the meet, not being able to place against C. H. S. and Hillsdale.

Half Mile Relay—Coldwater 1st. Won by Renshaw, Turner, Hellenberg, Spade.

Scores, C. H. S. 76, Hillsdale 32, Hudson 3.

On Monday, May twenty-ninth the last local meet of the season was held at the Fair Grounds with Marshall. The meet was an easy walkaway for C. H. S.

100 yds—Renshaw C 1st; Spade C 2nd; Turner C 3rd; Time 11 2-5.

Discuss—Heidenrick M 1st; Renshaw C 2nd; Ransom C 3rd; distance, 94 ft. 5 in.

Mile—Holmes C 1st; Kinsey C 2nd; Potter C 3rd; time, 5:06 1-5.

Half Mile—Monroe C 1st; Holmes C 2nd; Reek M 3rd; time 2:18 2-5.

Half Mile Relay—Coldwater 1st; won by Renshaw, Hellenberg, Turner, Spade. Time 1:40 2-5.

Score, C. H. S. 76, Marshall 19.

June 3, Coach Martin with nine members of the High School track team made a trip to the Lansing State meet. The local team made a good showing in the meet, taking fourth place among fourteen schools. Four of the nine boys sent took places in the meet receiving medals. Two of the boys on the teams failed to make the trip and both stood good chances of winning a place. If all of the men had taken part in the meet Coldwater would have ranked close to first. Those who placed were:

Renshaw, high jump, height 5 ft. 5 in., 2nd place.

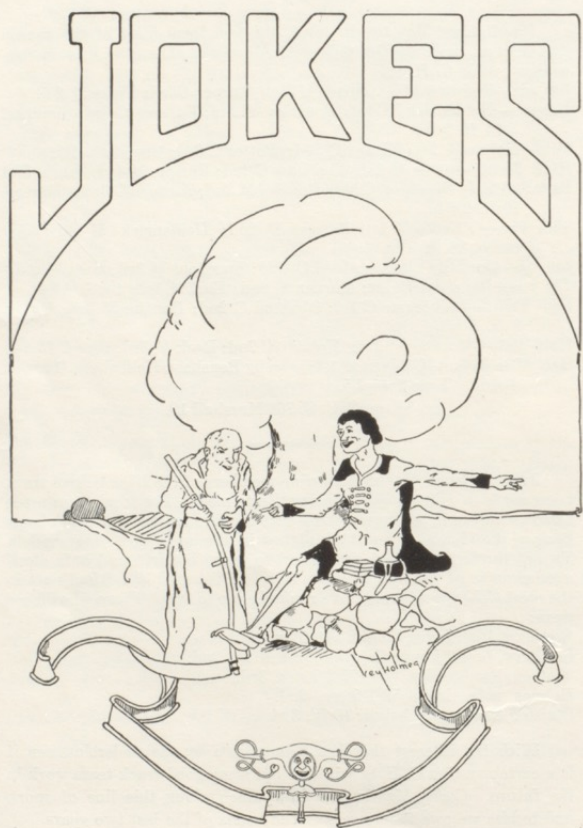

Renshaw, broad jump, distance 19 ft. 10 in., 2nd.

Watson, low hurdles, time 27 2-5 sec., 3rd.

Holmes, mile, time 4:52 1-5 sec., 3rd.

Olmsted, pole vault, height 10 ft., 3rd.

With the interest that has been shown by the underclassmen it is a certainty that C. H. S. will put out some good track team work in the future. Coach Martin has done much along this line of sport, and to him we owe the success of the teams of the last two years.

of coinopia:

Bud A—"I asked Mr. Scholten what it meant and he said he guessed it was an animal."

—:—

Why, Miss Secor!

"It shouldn't be that way a'tall."

—:—

But Miss Wood, opinions differ.

Miss Wood—"I've an engagement to sing at the Fortnightly rooms tonight. The hostess wanted me to sing very badly."

A. Wing—"Congratulations, you're the very one for the job."

—:—

Mr. Jones' sense of Proprietorship.

M. Jones, (6th hour assem.)—"Now you people on the floor, don't hold it all afternoon."

Bluff a little, bluff a little

As you go your way

Bluffing may not always help you—

Many times it may.

HILTON'S

'Tis said that it takes sixty-four muscles of the face to make a frown and only thirteen to make a smile. Why work over time when it can be avoided so easily. A well fitted Shoe from HILTON'S will lower the number thirteen.

Coldwater

Michigan

Setting:— Coldwater Lake, summer nite, big moon, row boat, etc., Carrie and Max rowing on Lake, Carrie seeing moonbeams on water—"Oh, look at all the little drops of moonshine out there, let's go out."

Mrs. Randolph (trying to be witty)—
"Where is my polygone?"

Howard Conklin (in the rear)—"Up the Geometree."

Adelma Dickey (translating French)—
"His father was leading a narrow and squeezed life."

Miss Sands—"What was the result concerning the Turks?"

LoRena G.—"The Turkeys were forced to surrender."

Miss Duval, in Home Dec.—"The Cabriale leg belongs to Louis XIV— (She meant the period in which he lived, but)

Any Exact Size Suits Mr. Martin
"Fat" Earley, (In Mechanical Drawing)
—"How large should this drawing be?"
—Mr. Martin—"Any size, so it's the same size as given in the instruction book."

No Explanations Needed—
Carol Dove—"I can't cut this cloth straight."

Miss Strauch—"Just get it in your eye and cut right along."

Very Simple

How did your Dad know you had the car out last night?

Well, you see, I ran over him.

Mr. Good—What is Sterling silver, Mr. Havens?

Earl Havens—Sterling silver is 92.5 copper.
