A T I O N

For his excellent leadership in the Manual Arts Department, for his assistance with stage constructions in connection with plays and concerts, for his valuable opinions as assistant coach, and for his fine example as teacher and friend, we dedicate this 1938 Cardinal to Mr. Bertrand Grigg.

ADMINIS

I extend greetings to the staff of the 1938 Cardinal and congratulate the students of C. H. S. for their cooperation in making this year-book an outstanding publication.

To the Class of 1938 I extend my best wishes for continued success and I wish to assure you that Coldwater expects fine things from each of you.

This year-book is a story of your school life in Coldwater and should mean much to you now and its value will increase as you go out into a fuller life of good citizenship and look back on these happy school days.

Most sincerely,
JOHN T. SYMONS,
Superintendent of Schools.

JOHN T. SYMONS

TRATION

W. F. MURRAY, Trustee C. F. VINTON, Treasurer
L. A. HUTCHINS, President A. J. PRATT, Secretary H. K. SNYDER, Trustee

The above gentlemen are the members of the Board of Education elected by the qualified tax-paying voters and parents of school children of Coldwater, at each annual school meeting, to represent them in the matter of determining the policies of the school system of the Coldwater School District. All of these men are intensely interested in the task of providing the best facilities for education of the students of this district as the means at their disposal will allow. It naturally follows then, that they are equally interested in the success or failure of the students graduating from this system.

In behalf of the above gentlemen then, allow me to wish you all the success that can come to you, particularly that kind of success which compels your fellow citizen to esteem you highly because of your individual worth to your community.

Sincerely,

L. A. HUTCHINS, President
Board of Education.

ROBERT E. SHARER

Principal*

*Junior High School
Principal*

TO THE CLASS OF 1938:

It is significant that as many young men and women in the past fifteen years have been graduated from the Coldwater High School as in the entire sixty years preceding. During the decade and a half just past two thousand students have passed through our high school; about one thousand having been graduated; the remainder leaving school before graduation.

The world which the Class of 1938 is entering will severely challenge every graduate. I wish each graduate happiness and success in every worthy enterprise, sincerely hoping that the years of preparation in Coldwater High will be of real help to them. I hope also that each graduate will continue to be a learner, remembering that "true education is the constant remodeling of our lives according to ever nobler specifications."

Sincerely,

Robert E. Sharer
High School Principal.

MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF '38:

You are the youth of today. Tomorrow you will be the leader. You have been thrust into a world of prejudice, greed, and regimentation. A hopeful world is awaiting you. Democracy, justice, tolerance depend upon you. The problems you face seem insurmountable. Are you sympathetic toward all your fellow men? Are you unselfish in all your dealings? Are you brave enough to face tomorrow in all its insecurity and social injustice? Will you accept the challenge to make your world a better place in which to live? You are the youth of today.

MEMORIES

Awake! the sun's already dawned
On life's beginning year.
We must arise and start our work
Though memories linger here.

We must our own strong masters be
In days that we shall find,
Through all our joys and troubles too—
But memories stay behind.

Some classmates may be leaders who
Are lauded far and near,
Still, though they reach the greatest heights,
Their memories linger here.

So we must toil and labor well
'Ere reaping harvests great,
But minds will oft be turning to
The days of thirty-eight.

CLASS OF '38

The fall of 1932 brought a group of nervous seventh graders wandering around the Junior High halls, waiting to be told where to go and even then not knowing where that was. Finally after learning where to go and what to do they settled down to the routine of school work. They spent most of the year finding out what they could do and proceeding not to do it.

The second year of Junior High they found rather fun but still a great deal of work. This year they elected Horace Woodward-president; Webster Treat, vice-president; Elizabeth Pellett, secretary; Betty Wise, Treasurer; for their class officers. The class advisors were Miss Squires, Miss Terpening, and Mr. Dennis. At the beginning of the year they had a party on Friday, November 24. The affair turned out nicely although the movie failed to arrive.

As supreme rulers of Junior High our ninth grade group quite formally elected Betty Wise, president; Webster Treat, vice-president; Ivan Scaggs, secretary; Horace Woodward, treasurer. The class advisors were Mr. Latchaw, Miss Squires and Miss Terpening. The big events of this year were the celebrating of the 300th Anniversary of the Public Schools and a big Circus in which the ninth grade participated.

After fully realizing that they again were in the position of seventh graders the Sophomores acquainted themselves with the Senior High Building. This year they elected Charles Wheeler, president; Raymond Thacher, vice-president; Natalie Faulkner, secretary; Paul Weaver, treasurer. The class advisors were Mr. Green and Miss Burrell. After being welcomed by the Sophomore Reception they returned the gesture by giving the Christmas Party, Friday, December 20.

The Junior Year the school routine was changed by having the Home Room System. Each class was organized with the Top-Hatters having Elizabeth Pellett-president; the Will Rogers room-Bryant VanAken-president; the Queen Mary room-Erwin Feller-president. The regular class officers were Charles Wheeler, president; Raymond Thacher, vice-president; Ralph Love, secretary; Horace Woodward-treasurer. This year the Juniors decided to start the banking plan for the Washington trip. The Junior Play, "Yours Truly Willie" was a success, helping the class put on the Junior-Senior Reception, May 14. The class helped make the circus a paying success and thus the school debt was paid off and they bought new band uniforms. The Diamond Jubilee was also celebrated. The school put out an Annual for the first time since 1921. In the school elections Horace Woodward was elected Mayor over Webster Treat; Natalie Faulkner was elected vice-mayor over Jean Caldwell.

The dignified Seniors of 1938 elected Jack Barnes, president; Mavis Wood, vice-president; Charles Woodward, secretary; Hortense Bond, treasurer. They gave the Sophomore Reception and had a successful Senior Play, "You're Telling Me". The year closed with the customary Junior-Senior Banquet; graduation, and plans for a grand Washington Trip.

While in the eighth grade, Walton McCort, Phyllis Zinn, Richard Maxfield, Martha Coombs, Smith Ferguson and Margaret Wise were members of the Junior High School Student Council.

The next year Oliver Marion was elected president of the student council. Other members of the council were Wayne Archer, Smith Ferguson, Rosella Wheeler, Margaret Miller and Mary Ellen Snyder. During this year the citizenship period was instituted between 1st and 2nd hours and proved very successful.

During the year 1937-38 the class basketball team won enough victories over the other class teams to lead in the race for class champions.

A new scheme was tried with the Sophomore Class this year in the form of a new class called Social Living. The class met first hour every morning and was in charge of five different teachers who took the class in turn with as many different subjects. The courses taught were Hygiene, Safety, Appreciation, Personality and Manners, and Home Management.

This class enjoyed its own company very much and class parties, the last of which was held April 9, of the Freshman year, were always fun for the entire group.

FRESHMAN CLASS

For their last year in Junior High School this active Freshman Class chose Gerald Edwards as Class President. He was aided by Eugene Shook as Vice-President and Norma Baker acting in the combined positions of Secretary and Treasurer. Dick Kerr, Virginia Smith, Betty Hecht and Mike Service represented the class in the Student Council. The size of the grade was greatly increased because of the influx of rural students at the beginning of the ninth grade.

With the assistance of Mr. Lyons, Miss Lazenby, Mr. Dennis and Miss Schultz two class parties were held during the school year. The first took place in the kindergarten room in January and the second was scheduled for the gym in May. The freshmen's year ended in their cooperation with the seventh and eighth grades for the annual Junior High picnic at Coldwater Lake.

FRESHMAN CLASS

During their stay in the eighth grade this class was divided into three home room groups under the supervision of Miss Squires, Miss Lazenby and Mr. Kline. Jim Murray, Dick Kerr and Bill Monday acted as spokesmen for the grade in the Student Council. This year also included a class party in April through the combined efforts of the three home rooms.

During their sojourn in the Lincoln Building, this class has had many of its members in regular high school activities such as assemblies, sports, forensics and band or orchestra. With such a start it is certain that their high school years will be very successful.

EIGHTH GRADE--CLASS 1942

The officers of the eighth grade are: President, David Green; Vice-President, Corwin Zinn; Secretary, Lora Lee Ruple; Treasurer, Richard Asbury.

The following were elected as representatives in the Junior High Student Council from the eighth grade: Martha Treat, Bertrand Sibley, Wanda Davis, Robert Kuchta.

An interesting historical assembly was given by eight or nine eighth grade students from Miss Evelyn Squires' group.

The major event of the year was a gala Valentine party.

Representing these three home room groups in the Student Council were: Pauline Gilfillan, Charles Gray and John Woodward.

A party, which was made possible by the combined efforts of these three rooms, was held on April 23.

SEVENTH GRADE--CLASS 1943

As advisors of the Seventh Grade, Mrs. Slee, Miss Terpening and Mr. Kline were surprised to find about 135 students enrolled in the class. After this large group became accustomed to Junior High School they elected their class officers to direct their efforts. Elizabeth Wert was elected President; Darryl Papke, Vice President; and Bernadine Simonds, Secretary-Treasurer. Guinevere Weaver, Earl Schultz, Clare Wise, and Janice Corless were chosen to represent the class interests in the Council.

The Seventh Graders' first social highlight was a party in December that proved interesting and entertaining.

The rest of the Class is looking forward to the rapid rise of this Class into the affairs of the High School.

THE CARDINAL

As a result of the Diamond Jubilee Edition of the Yearbook, there was a great demand on the part of the students for a yearbook this year. A vote taken early in the school year showed a vast majority of the students desired a bigger and better Cardinal.

Betty Wise was chosen editor and was assisted by Neil Pfost who acted as business manager. These leaders chose their staffs with Jack Barnes as sports editor, Janet Flint as Art Editor, and Marjorie Sherman as Advertising Manager. These students led the rest of the staff through a successful year.

It is planned to continue the yearbook idea in future years and the staff this year is to be congratulated on its successful follow-up of the Diamond Jubilee Edition published in 1937.

Mr. Weeks served as advisor of the Editorial Staff; Mr. Clute acted in that capacity on the Business Staff.

THE MIRROR

A staff for "The Mirror" is appointed by Mr. Sharer for each semester. As the first semester staff retires a new staff from the journalism class is appointed for the second semester. The Mirror is published once every two weeks by the staff and the journalism class and is printed by a local printer. During the first semester of 1937-38 the staff consisted of five members, but it was found there was little work for the Assistant Editor and Junior High Editor. Accordingly the staff for the last semester was reduced to three members.

An innovation in The Mirror was made by Editor-in-Chief Horace Woodward. The inside sheets were printed in the usual manner but the two outside pages were made into one large eight-column sheet. This layout proved very popular with the student body and was retained for the remainder of the school year.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The officers for the year 1937-38 are: Mayor, Horace Woodward; Vice-Mayor, Natalie Faulkner; Chief of Police, Harry Wingard; Clerk, Peggy Wise.

The Alderman from each grade are: Walton McCort, Oliver Marion, and Ruth Sweezy representing the Sophomores; Norman Faulkner, Elinor Stickan and Neil Pfost from the Junior class; Walter Nye, Alice Walter and Fred Speaker as representatives of the Seniors.

The Student Council has been unusually active this year and many things have been accomplished, such as the changing of the Constitution. Much credit should be given our Mayor for his fine work in drafting the new Constitution. Under this new Constitution the membership was cut down from seventeen members to five members and the Principal of the High School. These five members will be: Mayor, Clerk, and three Commissioners. The Mayor shall be from the Senior class, the Clerk from the Junior class and a Commissioner may be from either the Sophomore, Junior, or Senior class. This new Constitution was voted on by the students and passed with an overwhelming majority.

Besides this the Council has put a new merit system into effect.

The Council has sponsored one or two dances during the last year which have been the major events.

Three excellent luncheon meetings were held during the year and were found to be well liked.

THE JUNIOR HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL

The members of the Junior High School Student Council chosen by the students for this year are: Ninth grade, Dick Symons, Betty Hecht, Dick Kerr, Gerald Edwards, and Mike Service; Eighth grade, Martha Treat, Bertrand Sibley, Dave Green, Robert Kuchta and Wanda Jean Davis; Seventh grade, Earl Shultz, Clare Wise, Guinevere Weaver, Janice Corless and Elizabeth Wert. The presidents of the grades: Mike Service, Dave Green and Elizabeth Wert automatically became members. Four other representatives were then chosen for each grade. Also, the president of the council, Dick Symons, was chosen by the students. The secretary, Betty Hecht and the treasurer, Dick Kerr, was chosen by the council itself.

This body usually meets once a week on Monday. Here plans for the Junior High parties, the annual picnic and assemblies were discussed. Here, also, laws are made or changed.

The Kangaroo Court is a court chosen by the council in which the council is the jury and Mr. Bates is the judge. Any problem, like arguments over demerits, etc., which the Junior High School students have are brought up and judged upon in court.

GIRL RESERVES

This year's group of Girl Reserves consisted of fifty members.

The officers were: President, Barbara Watson; Vice-President, Edwina Gridley; Secretary, Martha Snapp; Treasurer, Ruth Ann Asbury.

Elizabeth Pellett was in charge of the programs. The refreshment committee was headed by Eleanor Gould. In charge of the finance committee was Betty Hutchins. The music was directed by Miss McLean accompanied by Betty Wise.

A plan was adopted this year, whereby each girl paid fifty cents as dues to help the Girl Reserves meet their financial expenses, instead of raising the money by other means, as baked goods sales and shoe shines.

Hobby groups were organized which met every two weeks. The remaining meetings were given over to outside speakers or social gatherings.

Among the speakers were: Mrs. Hurrell, who gave the initiation address; Mrs. Renshaw reading several articles on personality; Dr. Leeder speaking on his experiences in Canada; and Mr. King who gave an illustrated talk about his trip around the world.

The social gatherings consisted of pot-luck suppers or dancing and games followed by light refreshments.

The biggest event of the year was the district conference at which the Coldwater Girl Reserves acted as hostesses.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

The Coldwater Chapter of the National Future Farmers of America has been active since 1934. This year's officers were: President, Raymond Young; Vice-President, Robert Smith; Secretary, Wayne Archer; Treasurer, Glenn Furney; Reporter, Cale Dean; and Farm Watch Dog, Hylen Traver. Mr. Lyons, the Agriculture teacher is the club's leader and advisor.

Delmer Haynes was sent to Kansas City to represent the local club at the National F. F. A. Convention.

During the year the club organized a basketball team. Besides playing several other F. F. A. Clubs on our own floor, the team went to Marshall and Lakeview. The members of the team were: Raymond Thacher, Dale Dean, Robert Smith, Raymond Young, Wayne Archer and Harold Kipp.

To round off a successful and active year the entire club attended the F. F. A. week at Michigan State College, Thursday and Friday, May 5th and 6th.

SENIOR HI-Y CLUB

This year's Hi-Y had the most members since the beginning of the club in 1920. The members totaling 44, had a very successful year of interesting activities. Those initiated this year were: Fritz VanAken, John Ball and Barney O'Neil.

The officers were Charles Woodward, president; Bryant VanAken, vice-president; Erwin Fellers, secretary; Webster Treat, Treasurer. Mr. Sharer was the club's advisor.

The first meeting was a potluck supper at Treat's cottage, Coldwater Lake. After the meal the boys listened to Cliff Drury talk on the purposes of the Hi-Y Club.

Throughout the year the members heard talks on various things such as: Aerobics, War and Vocations. Some of the speakers were George Parker, Tex Evans, Dr. McClusky and by Prof. Royal S. Hall of Albion College.

On March 25, Hi-Y and Girl Reserves from Angola, Sturgis and Hillsdale were invited here to the Tri-City Party. It was held in the gym and started with a grand march led by Charles Woodward and Barbara Watson. Throughout the evening the guests danced to the music of Elwood Carn and his orchestra.

A picnic at some nearby lake will end the Hi-Y Club's successful year.

THE HARMONICA BAND

The Harmonica Band is purely a voluntary organization of the Junior High School Students. It originated in 1937 when a few interested students expressed their hope for such an organization. This interest was not especially original with the students but was an outgrowth of the Hilly Billy Band started a year before by the Hobby Club of the Junior High School.

All boys who are interested or who could play the harmonica, jews harp, jug, or other similar instruments were invited to be members. After several practices on pieces suitable for this type of band, interest and membership grew steadily until the total number of members reached nearly thirty. The ability of the players improved so rapidly that soon opportunities opened up for the presentation of programs outside the school. With this increased activity the Harmonica Band became a noticeable factor in the immediate community, under the capable direction of Mr. Kline.

Practice periods were held after school once each week and all members proved faithful in this preparation. From the beginning of school in September last year to the present time this organization has enjoyed the privilege of having fun, music and education.

The following is a record of the occasions in which the Junior High School Harmonica Band appeared:

THE SENIOR PLAY Director, Mr. Frederick Weeks

The Seniors chose as their dramatic presentation of the year a 3 act comedy by Wilbur Braun entitled "You're Telling Me". The story tells of the desperate attempts of the newly rich Mrs. Regan to launch her family into society. The play proved to be very successful both from the standpoint of entertainment and financial returns. The class of '38' is to be congratulated on its Senior Play.

THE JUNIOR PLAYS

Directors: Miss Marian McLean, Mrs. Russell Green and Mr. Frederick Weeks

The Juniors tried an innovation this year by presenting three one-act plays instead of the usual three-act performance. "FIREMAN, SAVE MY CHILD," was an old fashion melodrama with a hero, heroine, and a much-hissed villain. "THE MIDNIGHT GHOST" was a farce comedy with an added touch of mystery which gave the audience many thrills. "THE VAL-IANT," was a bit more on the sentimental side taking place in a prison just before an execution. The variety of this program was greatly enjoyed by the audience and may set a precedent for future Juniors.

HIGH SCHOOL GLEE CLUBS

The Girls Glee Club has been in existence for several years but this year saw the beginning of a Boys Glee Club. The Girls Glee Club met every Tuesday and Thursday morning while the Boys Glee Club practiced before school on Wednesdays and Fridays.

Betty Wise played the piano accompaniment for both Glee Clubs. Miss Hawkins directed the Glee Club during the first semester and Mrs. Bovee completed the year. Both Glee Clubs participated in a fine Christmas program.

During the spring the Girls Glee Club supported two movies: Front Page Woman, and California Bound, to help with the expenses of the year.

The Glee Club Concert given in May was the climax of the year's activities. The program for this Concert is listed below:

Very few members of either the band or orchestra are graduating which gives promise of another fine year in 1939.

One outstanding feature of the band this year was the expert baton twirling of James Tompkins, our flashy drum major. The annual band and orchestra concert was an unusual success featuring many novelty numbers.

DEBATE

The debate team finished the year with the most successful season in six years. Five letter members were back this year and were supported by an unusually large squad.

As the season opened the team participated in preliminary debates with all of the Twin Valley schools and many other schools nearby. A little later in the year the team took part in two practice tournaments, one at Kalamazoo and the other at Ann Arbor.

After all this warming up the team took great pleasure in defeating Albion, Adrian and Lakeview, in the Twin Valley Tournament and losing to Marshall. This put Coldwater in second place in the Twin Valley League and qualified us to enter the State eliminations.

In the first round Coldwater defeated Homer making Coldwater one of the 32 schools left in the competition between 260 schools. In the second round we were defeated by Comstock. This excellent showing in the State Tournament gave Coldwater her second consecutive wall plaque and in addition to the plaque, each debater received a lapel button to wear.

This year's varsity squad was composed of Katherine Amaden, Paul Hurrell, Neil Pfost, Erwin Feller, Barbara Watson and Betty Wise.

In the spring Speech Contests John VanAken, a sophomore, starred for Coldwater, by winning first place in the sub-district and second place in the District Contest with his declamation, "The Shadow of the Swastika." Neil Pfost was our representative in oratory, and Erwin Feller was our extemporaneous speaker.

Seniors graduating this year were: Barbara Watson, Erwin Feller, and Betty Wise, all capable speech students.

FOOTBALL

When the Cardinal football squad reported last fall the prospects seemed especially bright for a good season.

Bert Wheeler and Abe Treat, each with two years of varsity service reported for their positions of left and right end respectively. Olie VanAken with two years on the varsity and Mel Brayton with one returned to the tackle posts while Ralph Love, another two-year veteran, and Ivan Scaggs, a 1936 regular, flanked in at the guard positions. With Doc Mann, capable center returning, an all veteran line was to provide more power than Coldwater had had for several years previously.

Bob Simonds, a speedy halfback with two years varsity service, and Paul Weaver, plunging fullback, were returned to their backfield positions. Harley Greenwich soon won the quarterback position and Bill Doll secured the remaining halfback post to round out a well balanced team.

The Cardinals journeyed to Charlotte, Friday, Sept. 17 to meet the Charlotte Orioles. The game proved beneficial for Coldwater who returned the victors by the score of 20-7.

Gaining confidence by whipping Charlotte, the Redbirds hung up a victory over Three Rivers the following Friday night at Waterworks Park, in the first home game, by scoring thirteen points to their opponents seven. Bob Simonds was injured in this game and replaced in the line-up, for the remainder of the season by Bob Mahaffey.

Playing the Dowagiac Chiefs, Friday night, Oct. 1, the Cardinals were again victors, this time 22-6.

Marshall's Redskins came to Coldwater Friday, Oct. 8, and although thoroughly outplayed, handed the Cardinals their first and only defeat of the season, by the score of 6-0.

The following Friday Coldwater played their first conference game in opponents territory and defeated the Albion Wildcats, defending Twin Valley Champions, by the score of 6-0.

Showing traits of overconfidence, the Cardinals defeated the Adrian Maple Leafs by the very close score of 13-12. This game was the most poorly played game turned in by the gridders for the entire season and they were very fortunate to eke out the victory.

Apparently liking close battles, the Cards again won by the margin of one point the next Friday at Hillsdale this time 7-6.

Having tuned themselves up with the first seven games the Cardinals were ready for their annual Armistice Day clash with their old rivals, the Sturgis Trojans. Before a very large crowd the Redbirds stopped the previously unbeaten (in conference competition) Trojans by the score of 12-6. By winning this game the Cardinals gained a share in the Conference championship.

As a tribute to their fine playing Chuck Wheeler, Bryant VanAken, Captain Mark Mann and Paul Weaver were awarded positions on the Twin Valley all conference team.

Mark Mann, who had acted captain for seven of the eight games was elected honorary captain of the team at the squad meeting.

In addition to the very fine record turned in by the varsity, the reserves also had a good season.

They won from the Sturgis second stringers, 7-0 for their only victory. In addition to this the Junior Redbirds held the strong Hudson varsity to a 12-12 tie.

The Quincy Orioles were held to a 13-12 victory over the reserves. Besides these games the second stringers lost to the Albion Wildcat reserves 33-0. Playing the Trojan juniors for the second time the Coldwater reserves were nosed out 7-6.

BASKETBALL

After the football team had captured the Twin Valley Championship, hopes soared high that the basketball team would do likewise and make this year a banner year as far as athletics were concerned.

With Mark Mann, Abe Treat, Charles Wheeler, Paul Weaver, Ivan Scaggs, Rolland Bates, and Harry Wingard all returning from last year's team, there was a very good reason for this hope. In addition to these, there were many of last year's reserve team back to fight for positions on the team. The standouts among the 1936-37 reserves who were to assist the varsity were Walt Balcom, Fred Bauer, Wayne Wright, Harley Greenwich and Bob Mahaffey.

The Cardinals opened their fourteen game schedule, twelve of which were conference games against the Adrian Maple Leafs in Roosevelt gymnasium Friday, December 10, and lived up to all expectations by soundly thrashing them, 40-17. Wednesday, December 22, they journeyed to Hudson for a non-conference game and won 48-10.

The following Wednesday they defeated the Albion Wildcats, 40-25.

Playing on the huge Sturgis floor, Friday, January 7, the Cardinals were handed their first defeat 36-26.

The next Tuesday the Redbirds nosed out the Hillsdale hornets 40-34 in a thriller at Hillsdale and a week later easily squelched the Lakeview Spartans at Lakeview, 45-20.

Friday, January 21, the Marshall Redskins (Kahler, Wilson and Purcell incorporated) came, saw and conquered the Cardinals before a very large crowd, the score being 38-32.

Playing the Adrian Maple Leafs for the second time of the season in the very small Adrian gymnasium, Coldwater escaped with a thrilling 26-25 victory.

Believing in accuracy, the Redbirds almost duplicated their earlier victory over Albion by handing them a 41-24 defeat, this being only two points variation from the margin by which they had beaten them earlier.

Friday, February 4, the Cardinals were to entertain the Sturgis Trojans and try to gain revenge for a setback suffered earlier in the season at the hands of the mighty Trojans but Sturgis again triumphed, this time, 45-25.

The following Friday the Coldwater lads played the Lakeview Spartans at Coldwater and defeated them for the second time, the score being 37-29.

The cellar-stricken Hillsdale Hornets (Burke and all) came to Coldwater, Tuesday, February 15 and received their usual thrashing at the hands of the Redbirds the score being 13-27.

After finding out that they couldn't win the Championship, the Cardinals decided to set a court record for Coldwater lads to aim at for many years to come. When Hudson came to Coldwater, Tuesday, February 22, the Cardinals did just that by scoring 95 points while holding Hudson to 16.

The Cardinals ended their regular season at Marshall, Friday, February 25, by being completely humbled by the Twin Valley Champs, 43-17.

Friday, March 4, the Cardinals entered the district tournament at Hillsdale and successfully defended their title of district champions by licking the fighting hornets of Hillsdale 35-17.

Having qualified themselves for the regional tournament by their victory over Hillsdale the Cards went to Albion and were eliminated by the powerful Marshall Redskins 28-9.

In addition to the fine season enjoyed by the varsity, the reserves had a very good year, playing fourteen games and winning twelve of them.

Paul Weaver was awarded a position on the all conference team in addition to being the leading Conference scorer. Abe Treat and Doc Mann were given honorable mention.

Bert Wheeler was named honorary captain of the varsity and Walt McCort of the reserves.

BASEBALL

With Bob Mahaffey, Bert Wheeler and Carl Sanders, veteran outfielders, Olin Siler, Abe Treat, Walt Balcom, Harry Hauska, Bill Doll and Paul Weaver, veteran infielders, Doc Mann, and Harley Greenwich experienced, all returning from the 1937 baseball squad, Coach Bauer's baseball problems had been apparently solved before the season opened.

But with all of these talented baseball players there was trouble ahead because of the lack of experienced pitchers, and because a few of the other boys not considered as veterans decided to crash into the role as regulars.

Bert Wheeler and Paul Weaver were converted into pitchers and by the addition of Bob Elliget, a portsider, the pitching staff was balanced.

Joe Elliget soon forced his way into the second base position and, with Treat, Hauska and Doll, the Cardinals had a very good infield.

When Bob Mahaffey was injured in a pre-season practice, Olin Siler was shifted to the outfield and with Doc Mann alternating with Harley Greenwich as catcher the Cardinals were stronger than they had been for several years previously.

Opening the season at Hillsdale, May 3, the Cardinals defeated the Hornets by the score of 8-1 with Bert Wheeler turning in a startling mound performance, allowing but four hits and striking out twelve.

Having gotten off to a good start, the Cardinals finished one of the best seasons on record.

TRACK

When the call for track candidates was sounded there was unusual response and many reported. In fact, for the first time in many years a full squad reported to Coach Green.

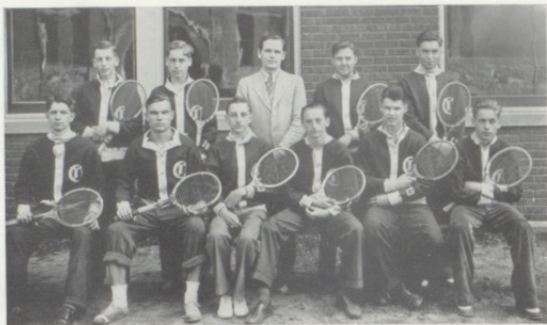

There were seven veterans from the 1937 squad, namely: Rolland Fenner, pole vaulter and 220 yard dash, Barney O'Neil, broad jump, 100 yard dash and 220 yard dash, Bob Simonds, low hurdles and 220 yard dash, Morris Smith, miler, Sumner Smith, high hurdles and pole vault, Abe Treat, high jump, Bert Wheeler, high jump and broad jump. Bill Wilcox, 880 yard dash, Elmer VanAken, shot put and 220 yard dash, Fred Speaker, shot put, 100 yard dash and 220 yard dash, Ed Peterson, 100 yard dash and 220 yard dash; Walt McCort, 440 yard dash; Harold Klipp, 440 yard dash and Richard Huegli, 880 yard dash, won positions on the team.

The squad opened the season at Hastings, competing in the annual Hastings relays there, placing fifth among twelve entries.

Albion furnished the opposition for the next meet and were completely humbled by the Cards at Waterworks Park.

It was only natural that with the best squad in many years and with a good start, that the squad should hang up the best record in several years, winning third place in the Twin Valley meet.

In addition to the regular track season the fiftieth annual marathon was held May 5, with the Seniors the victors, the Juniors, a close second, and the Sophomores third.

TOP ROW—Hurrell, M. VanAken, Coach Weeks, Swihart, Russell

BOTTOM ROW—Wright, Speaker, Bowerman, Marothy, Wingard, J. VanAken

TENNIS

Having lost four seniors from the Twin Valley Championship team of 1937, there were several good chances for prospective tennis players as the 1938 net season rolled around, with Mr. Weeks again acting as coach.

Lured by these chances, many new players turned out for the first practice as well as, the two-year veteran, Harry Wingard, a Junior, Warner Marothy, a junior one year man and Spike Speaker a one year senior veteran.

Being held off from the courts by the early spring rains, the Cardinal netmen worked out in the gymnasium and after training diligently for several weeks the squad was ready to go out of doors when the sun finally did drive away the clouds and spring came to stay a few months. After several outdoor practices, the Cardinals met the Battle Central Bear Cats twice to open the season and were nosed out each time. However, after the boys hit their stride and began meeting schools of the same class they hung up a very good record, starting their Twin Valley activities by defeating Sturgis 6-2.

The following players received awards for 1938 tennis: Harry Wingard, Warner Marothy, Fred Speaker, Wayne Wright, Jack Bowerman, Ted Powell, Dick Kerr, Leonard Russell, Mark VanAken and John VanAken. With only one letter winner graduating, the Cardinals should have a good tennis team for several years in the future.

TOP ROW—A. Pask, W. Green, S. Smith, M. Smith, A. Cofer, J. Sissem

BOTTOM ROW—J. Moody, B. Simonds, M. Corey, J. Parker, N. Brown, C. Fuhrman, D. Linton

TUMBLING

For several years Mr. Green has coached a tumbling team composed of students in both Junior and Senior High who liked it and wanted to learn how to tumble.

They received no letters or awards, entering wholly for recreation.

As usual last fall when the call was sounded there were many candidates who reported. The team was composed of Sumner Smith, Morris Smith, June Sissem, Arlene Pask, Joy Moody, Arthur Cofer, B. Simonds, M. Corey, J. Parker, N. Brown, C. Fuhrman, D. Linton and W. Green.

By circus time the team was very well trained and gave a startling circus performance before large audiences each time making a hit with the audience with their one hand flips, rolls, dives, etc.

After the circus, the tumblers continued their training and mastered many more acts soon being able to give even a more startling performance than before.

When they went to Marshall as part of the exchange assembly cast they were the biggest hit of the show.

Having gained a widespread reputation by their fine performances, the team was invited to give a performance at the annual builders show at Sturgis.

They accepted the invitation and gave a very fine performance before many people to spread farther their fame.

Although they received no awards the tumbling team has gained as much fame as any other high school team or organization.

It Pays to Advertise

We have heard for years unending
Advertising men advise
From the dailies and the billboards
That it pays to advertise.

Put the facts before the public,
Tell the world you have the best,
Find a slogan for your product
And the public will invest.

Psychological researching
Proves that people, just like flies,
Swarm to buy the products
Of the men who advertise.

I, for one, did not believe it.
Note the reason listed here.
I'd been looking for a girl-friend
Slightly more than half a year.

There was I, a darn good bargain,
Advertising for a girl,
And the weeks and months still found me
Far outside the social whirl.

Won't some advertising genius
Fabricate some catchy ads,
That will make those high school darlings
Wave goodbye to other lads?

Life looked dark and dreary to me
Till the Cardinal met my eye;
Just a line in that ad section
And the girls were chasing "I".

Yes, it's true I'm going steady;
Swellest girl; that nose, those eyes,
Have restored to me the knowledge
That IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE!!

Apprentice Training

In September 1938 a decision was made to enrich the high school curriculum with another vocational subject known as "Apprentice Training."

This subject is defined as a combination of school and work in industry and tends to meet the long felt need of the student in the upper grades or the graduate who wants to continue his education and work at the same time.

A great amount of interest was shown in this subject and the enrollment has been constantly increasing until at present there are 18 in the high school class and 7 in the night school class that meets from 7:00 to 9:00 in the evening.

The occupations that are available in a city the size of Coldwater are well over the century mark and 18 are represented by these two classes.

The amount of money derived from these occupations each month would be sufficient to arouse the interest of any student desirous of coming on the program.

Naturally the instructor in charge of such a program must have considerable teaching experience and for this position D. C. Austin was chosen. He is known as a Coordinator of Apprentice Training and comes to us from Dixon High School, Dixon, Illinois, where he has been engaged as Director of Manual Arts for the past 16 years. Mr. Austin has attended Ypsilanti State Normal, University of Chicago, University of Illinois and received his B. S. degree from Western State Teachers' College in 1926. He is completing his graduate work at the University of Michigan.

SCANTY SCANDAL

By Mavis

Several events of interest and importance occurred during the school year '37-'38. First, an increasing interest in the parks of the city prompted the students to appoint Bill Davis as Park Commissioner.

An important style note was the popularity and use of kerchiefs as chapeaux, a camouflage for collarless shirts, and (believe it or not) handkerchiefs. The race for Neckkerchief was won by G. Hobus and W. Wright who were neck and neck at the finish, much to the chagrin of our Knot-Tying Queen, K. Amaden.

The most popular hobby this year was taking candid camera shots. Some of the better pictures in my album show E. Feller hurrying from Doris McMurray to Jean Caldwell with Pellett insisting in a wavering voice, "Now, Erwin, you promised me!"

My pictures taken on the Chicago Trip were all under-exposed due to poor lighting on the N. Y. C. R. R. In the teachers car I got a dandy of Bud "Heart-throb" Bryan for which I have been offered sums, but Gosh! It's not everyday, etc, etc.

Nancy Branched off in several directions, mainly Pfoot and Penn. But enough of the Chicago Trip—Some folks want to forget!

Carl Sanders has been looking to his Lauries and toting "Annie" around Sunday night, (a rainy one, by the way) Hawley Penn fell in the oil pit at Ernie's Service Station. He recovered as well as could be expected and was in school the next morning, MUCH to the teacher's dismay.

Carl Vinton took up the career of a Susiephonist. One day while blowing diligently on his horn he hit "B". The "B" chased Powell around the back yard and stung him. Bob says, "That sure was sharp."—Ow!!!

Miss Steffaniak has been encouraging her Senior "Lit" classes to write poetry. Some of the better ones, I have listed below. How's this one, frinstance,

There was a guy, O'Neil,
He musta been a heel,
He tried to kiss Wood,
"Cause he thought he could,
And he did."

If you think that's good, listen—
Girls wrote notes to Duane,
Notes gave Duane pain,
Duane gave girls pain,
He proved their life's bane,
They never do again.

Ah!!!! Milton—
But it has been a good year. A lot of Pears. Some Nuts. A few Peaches-
Many Dates, and a lot of Hooley.

We had fun,
So good-bye.
The year's done
And so'm I.
