"As far as the eye of God could see
Darkness covered everything,
Blacker than a hundred midnights
Down in a cypress swamp.

Then God smiled,
And the light broke,
And the darkness rolled up on one side,
And the light stood shining on the other,
And God said, "That's good!"

James Weldon Johnson

Mankind is dependent upon light, the creation of God, as a source of life and a necessity for survival. Yet light in its many forms has also bestowed upon man the liberty to explore things of the universe, to be enlightened, and to learn.

"A University should be a place of light, of liberty, of learning."

Similarly Coldwater High School strives to illuminate the shadows of ignorance and present the opportunity to enrich its students through learning.

The students of CHS seek the light of understanding with which to focus upon life. That illusive messenger of truth will give us the vision with which to guide ourselves and others through darkness.

"In the past we have had a light which flickered, in the present we have a light which flames, and in the future there will be a light which shines over all the land and sea."

Winston Churchill

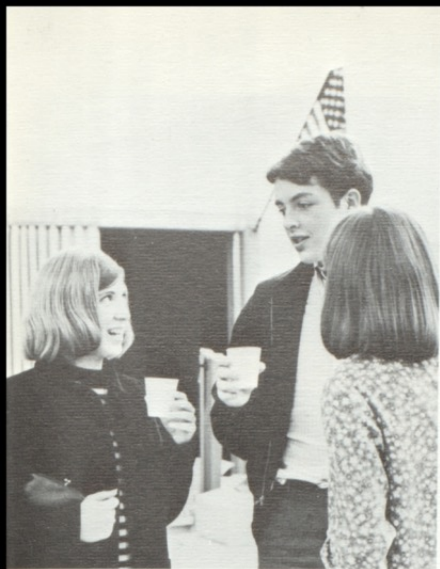

"I know not what course others may take; but as for me, give me liberty or give me death!"

Patrick Henry

Americans have been blessed with liberty for nearly 200 years. But the challenges facing us in today's world strike at the roots of the much valued freedoms and privileges we now possess — the liberty to choose our own way of life, to search for truth and beauty. We cannot abandon our struggle to preserve this liberty. Instead in our years at CHS we must continue to gain the knowledge and wisdom vital to building a better world.

"The energy, the faith,
the devotion which we bring to this endeavor
will light our country and all who serve it —
and the glow from that fire can truly light the world."

John F. Kennedy

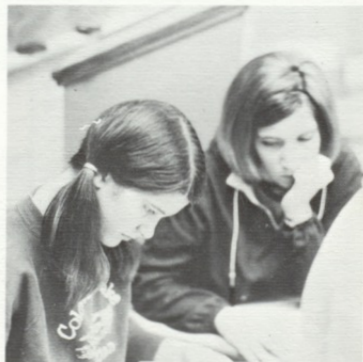

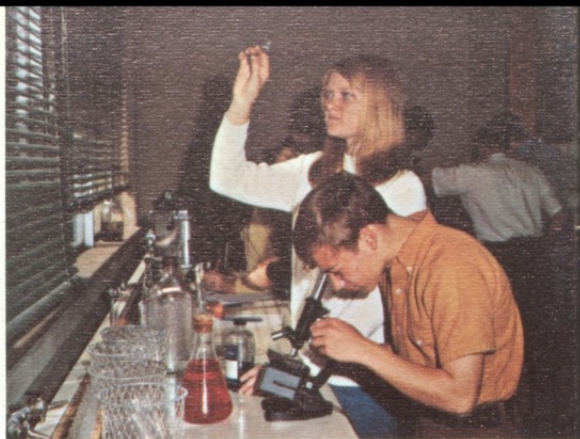

Oriented toward the future, CHS provides the opportunity for effective learning in a variety of ways. For all it means that the educational family stands ready to assist students in becoming responsible individuals who will exemplify worthwhile, productive, and satisfying lives.

Norman C. Olmsted
Superintendent

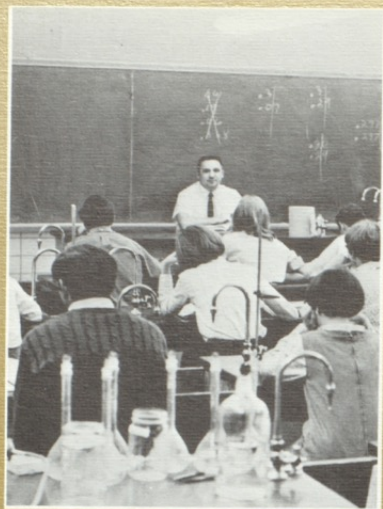

Life resembles boats on a great river. All sorts of boats go up and down the stream: canoes, rowboats, motorboats steamboats; big boats and little boats. But they are all on the river. So are we in life today just as much as we ever will be or can be. We must learn to navigate.

Establish Guidelines For CHS

SUPERINTENDENT: NORMAN C. OLMSTED.

This year Coldwater welcomed a new superintendent from Ann Arbor, Mr. Norman C. Olmsted. Superintendent Olmsted has many executive duties in fulfilling his responsibility. In addition to working with the Board of Education to establish the policies by which the educational programs operate, to appropriate funds and select the best qualified personnel, Mr. Olmsted states that his role as superintendent is to assist teachers in sharpening the intellect of the student, developing abilities and building upon a base of individual responsibility and judgment.

The much respected title of principal of Coldwater High School is worn by Mr. Kermit Dennis. This is Mr. Dennis' twenty-first year of service to Coldwater schools. The team of Mr. Dennis and Mr. Gerald Weaver work together to provide all students with valuable information and the opportunity for expression and creativity.

Ronald Frambes, Trustee; William Wilson, Vice President; Muriel Wigent, Executive Secretary; Norman C. Olmsted, Superintendent; James Burke, M.D., President; William Bobier, Trustee; Dr. James Nash, Trustee; George Pierce, Trustee; Marjorie Barnes, Secretary.

Miss Shieri confers with Principal Mr. Dennis about school records.

Miss Shieri Offers Assistance

As school secretary, Miss Delores Shieri, deserves special recognition by all associated with C.H.S. Throughout the year she maintains records and accounts, types the daily bulletins, and answers any questions a student or faculty member may have. Her devotion and ability has been invaluable in keeping the school running smoothly.

Receiving and recording telephone messages are only a small part of Miss Shieri's job.

Mr. Kelly, Mrs. Dickson, Mr. Simmons, Miss Wilson, Mr. Seal, Miss Smith, Mr. Martus.

Student Teachers Learn By Observation And Practice

Continuing a tradition begun in 1962, Goldwater High School welcomed twenty new student teachers to the curriculum, under the supervision of Mr. Ramer.

Student teaching enables prospective instructors to learn the methods of education through experience and observation. Each participant gains valuable practice by actually teaching classes. During free periods they have the opportunity to watch other teachers and can thereby obtain practical insight into their chosen career.

Guidance Dept Aids Students Throughout High School

With assistance to students the major goal of the guidance department, students are given advice on their educational progress, vocational planning, and personal and social outlook. This department also provides an opportunity to learn more about oneself through such activities as College Night, bulletins, and a testing program.

Library Receives Additional Material

During the 1967-1968 school year the high school library subscribed to several new periodicals for student use in research. A highlight in reference service was the purchase of a new microfilm machine, making important news and literary magazines available for easier use.

The Humanities Form The

ANNE HAYES
Hillsdale College
B.A.

In tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade English classes students are given the opportunity to study the elements and characteristics of foreign, American, and English literature. Teachers endeavor to challenge the student and to stimulate his inquisitiveness in the area of humanities. With emphasis placed on creative and expository writing, the student develops his skills in expression of ideas and moods.

This practice in composition skills is continued in journalism class. This is a course designed to develop within the student an intellectual curiosity in school, local, state, national and world affairs; to increase his ability to express himself and evaluate ideas. To aid in learning the fundamentals of journalism, students contribute to school publications.

Mrs. Hayes uses individual attention to promote a better understanding of journalism.

Languages

CHS curriculum offers to the student a choice of three languages — Latin, Spanish, or German. Latin II is taught by Mrs. Winemiller who supplements lessons with mythological history from the Latin classics. Mr. Parker and Mrs. Hayes share the responsibility for endowing students with the ability to communicate in Spanish. Instruction in German, a conversational and scientific language, is under the supervision of Mr. Olsen, a native of Germany. Each course also presents to students information about the various countries through visual aids and lectures.

Studies Department Prepares For Active Participation

Zolton Ferency, state Democratic chairman, was one of the many political speakers who aided in making social studies classes more enlightening.

World History provides a guide for understanding conflicts through knowledge of man's history in relation to our modern way of life. Administered in the tenth grade, it also provides a valuable background for more advanced studies in the social science field.

In eleventh grade United States history classes, textbook materials are linked to current events. Programs produced by the social studies faculty make the history of a great nation more interesting to students.

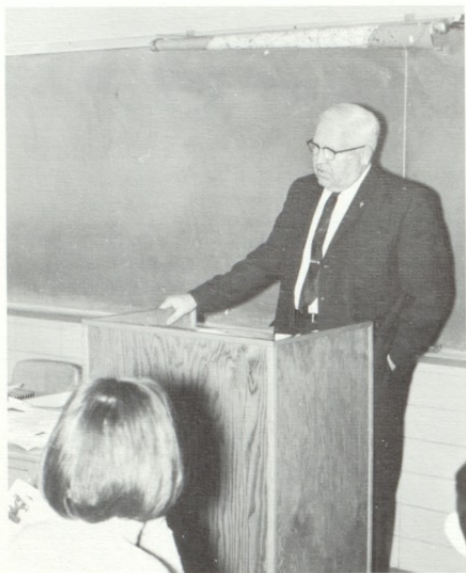

Historical material, current events, and the proceedings of government are combined in the twelfth grade government course. Belief that the success of our nation lies in the hands of well informed citizens prompts faculty members to bring our political system to life.

Here Is Taught The Past Of America

Mr. Renshaw lectures to one of his American History classes.

In American History emphasis is placed on current events. Coach Hobart and Mr. Renshaw provide an insight to world problems as well as their causes, extent, and possible solutions. Utilization of the American Observer enables students to become aware of the changing world on a week to week basis.

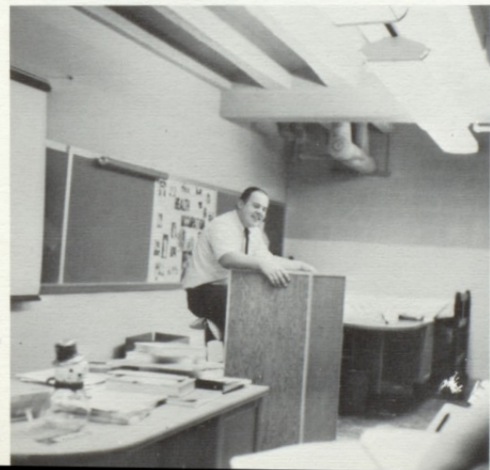

Coach Hobart teaches his fifth hour class how our foreign relations problems with Latin America started.

New Approaches Prove

The sounds of the "physics skateboards," the buzzing of the electric timers, the screaming of the slinky as it slithered across the floor, the humming of 50,000 volts of electric potential, and Gulliver, the Lilliputians, and King Kong, all put into one package launched the Physics Department into an adventure with PSSC Physics. These and many other experiments have all been put together into a fascinating new program designed to make physics more exciting and fun. We'll never forget measuring the size of a molecule with a meter stick or finding the mass of an electron with a rolled up piece of paper, or the lab reports worth 10 points if they were done by the next day. All of the labs, the tests, the problems, and films made it a memorable journey into the exciting land of physics.

Successful In Science Dept

In a new approach to the science of chemistry, students learn in terms of generalizations. Then, as new information is gathered and more precise measurements are made, thinking is adjusted to formulate new theories in terms of new evidence. Emphasis is also placed on mathematical descriptions of the fundamental laws of the universe. Finally, technical use of some of the more sophisticated modern laboratory apparatus is taught.

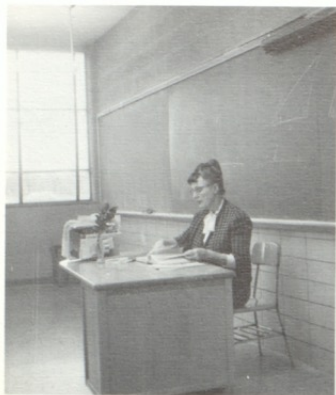

1967-68 is the second year of individualized study in general biology. Students may work at their own speed with those finishing assigned materials going on to advanced work. Several kinds of laboratory and reading materials are available to suit the needs and abilities of the student. Three days a week are spent in the laboratory and individual study while two days are lecture days. The laboratory is the most important part of the program with the student conducting his own investigation and writing the reports which are turned in weekly. Lecture materials range from problem solving to evolution.

The instrumental and vocal music departments experienced an active and successful year. The band, under the new direction of Mr. Gordon Sabin, maintained their consistent high rankings at marching festivals and concerts. With the choir chosen as one of four Michigan schools to perform at the Midwestern Music Educators Conference at the University of Michigan in January, director Arvid Berg spent many hours preparing his noteworthy choir for the appearance. In addition to appearances before the student body, members of both departments had opportunity to perform before the public in various ensembles.

It is the philosophy of the fine arts instructors that all students should become aware of the world around them — the beauty and the ugliness. The art, speech, and dramatics departments strive to inspire in the student an insight and sense of observation and evaluation. This must be reflected in the student's work. Expression of thoughts and emotions are continually revealed in speeches, dramatic readings and creative art. Various exercises and practice sessions enable the pupil to develop his talents to the fullest.

Phys. Ed. And

To students of C.H.S., physical education used to mean sit-ups, running laps, and other exercises; it has changed. Phys. Ed. has become exciting, enjoyable, and educational. The activities of the year range from basketball and football to archery, gymnastics, and bowling. All year emphasis is placed on team skills as well as individual skills.

Drivers' education, with 30 hours of study in the classroom and six hours spent in practice driving, is geared to developing a proper attitude for safe driving in the student. This year Mr. Lopez felt that the entire student body of CHS would profit from a review of safe driving principles and a series of movies was shown in the gym during homeroom. The theme of the first movie summarized the necessary attitude for an A-C-E defensive driver: Alert — Courteous — Educated!

Vocational Ed. Offers Practical Work Experience

The vocational education department, under the direction of Mr. John Dygert, includes a variety of programs designed to give students the opportunity to receive practical work experience in their chosen vocation or the training necessary to enter a particular field upon graduation. Approximately 300 students participate in this type of curriculum, working on cooperative training, health occupations, home construction, vocational drafting and auto mechanics. Each course strives to expand the student's knowledge as well as to develop in him the qualities of dependability and initiative.

Boys Learn Through Building

In a three hour building course junior and senior boys are offered the opportunity to prepare for occupations in home construction. Under the supervision of Mr. McCurley the boys construct the framework of the house, install plumbing, wiring and heating themselves. The completed house is later sold by the Board of Education and upon graduation from the course the boys are ready for initial full-time employment with building contractors or have the background to enter an apprenticeship program.

Vocational Ed. Trains

The Automotive Skill Center is located in downtown Coldwater. This shop is the third largest high school auto shop in Michigan, and has been operating for three years. Students are selected from Quincy, Coldwater, and Bronson High Schools. These students spend half a day every day learning about the repair of automobiles. This popular course serves as a springboard for students who are interested in entering the automotive service field.

Industrial Arts, including both metal and wood shop, provides CHS boys with a practical knowledge of tools and their use in industry. In addition to standard equipment, Mr. Stankey has taught the students the use of a new tensile tester, lathe and surface grinder.

Students learn the functions of the various parts of the automobile engine.

Mr. Stankey gives a lecture to one of his many shop classes.

This year a new course was added to the CHS curriculum. Offered to interested and capable students is a vocational drafting program to supplement the regular drafting class. The three hour class held downtown in the distributive education building, has allowed instructor, Mr. Cook, to expand drafting techniques with the aid of new equipment.

For The Years Ahead

Fred Harris is taught some of the finer points of drafting by Mr. Cook.

Mike Kelly assists a fellow student in the new Vocational drafting course.

Since homemakers must perform multiple roles in today's world, it is important that every prospective housekeeper learn how to budget time, energy, and money. For that reason, the home-economics program at CHS has been expanded. Today it includes consumer education, food, money and home management, clothing and personal hygiene. The scope of home economics also includes family living courses, taught by Mrs. Cooper, which are studies in personality growth and family relationships. Through such a planned curriculum, CHS girls learn valuable information that has direct application in daily life.

The Future Teachers Association is an organization designed to inform students about a teaching career. As a part of this goal, members are offered the opportunity to cadet teach. Afternoons are spent at elementary schools in the community, teaching pupils or simply observing methods at various grade levels. This is an attempt to give future teachers insight into the profession and to prepare them for college.

The Staff Works Hard To Complete

The CARDINAL staff began making plans for the 1968 annual in August of 1967. A number of students attended summer institutes at Midland and Detroit to expand their knowledge of yearbook journalism. So that the book could contain more colored pictures and quality construction, staffers began an early advertising campaign to raise funds. New photographic equipment was purchased and photographers Dave Medendorp, Phil Jewell and Sami Lytle were kept busy taking pictures and developing prints.

Editors Rhonda Smith and Bonnie Lukazek along with staffers worked together in the evenings struggling to meet deadlines with finished pages that would bring memories to life with vivid copy and exciting pictures. It was the goal of the 1968 staff and advisor Ken Hamlet to produce a CARDINAL unsurpassed in excellence.

The Mirror Is

Under the leadership of Jane Shedd, the MIRROR staff publishes the school newspaper 16 times annually. Students receive the informative paper through payment of group dues. The MIRROR features articles of current school activities, editorials, and sports. As each year progresses an effort is made to expand the paper to include more pictures and colorful stories. The publication serves as a reflection of CHS activity.

In the past two decades modern competitive debate has enjoyed a significant revival in the United States. Television programs with widely publicized debates have contributed to our national awareness of the merits of public debate.

Historically, the origins of American debating can be found in colonial times, flowering in the Revolutionary period, and reaching maturity in the majesty of the debates in the Constitutional Convention. The names of some of our earliest debaters — Hamilton, Webster, Randolph, and Douglas — are revered by all students of debate. Alexander Hamilton, at the age of 16, participated in debate at King's College. One can recall the momentous debates between Webster and Hayne on Foot's Resolution, or Lincoln and Douglas on slavery, and more recently the debates between Kennedy and Nixon. Thus, debate has been intimately associated with the history of the United States from its earliest days to the present.

Similarly, Coldwater High School is proud of its debaters. We do not believe that debate as a scholastic endeavor should be pilloried as time consuming and an extra-curricular frill. We believe that debate offers to the student many positive educational values. It promotes basic library skills in research, trains critical thinking and evaluation of the main issues in any problem, emphasizes the virtues of careful deliberation and judgment as opposed to impulsive utterance; requires the development of physical and mental self-control; trains the participants in clear, logical, and distinct speech; teaches the criteria to be utilized in evaluating public discussion and statement; concentrates attention on vital matters, rather than trivialities in assertion; encourages the development of persuasiveness in the presentation of ideas; demands that unfounded assertions be rejected for lack of proof; accepts the realization that all viewpoints have valid support and encourages tolerance of opposing ideas.

Coldwater High School debaters participated in National Forensic League competition this year, as well as Michigan Forensic Leagues.

"Nothing seems to me more noble than to be able to fix the attention of assemblies of men by speaking. This art has constantly flourished above all others in every free state, that has ever exercised great power. For what is so admirable as that, out of an infinite multitude of men, there should arise a single individual who can alone, or with only a few others, exert effectually that power which nature has granted to all? For it is by this gift that we are most distinguished from brute animals, that we converse together and express our thoughts by speech. Who, therefore, would not justly make this an object of admiration, and think it worthy of his utmost exertions to surpass mankind themselves in that single excellence by which they claim their superiority over brutes?"

CICERO, DE ORATORE

Coldwater High School has one of the most outstanding and successful forensic programs in the state of Michigan. Offered in competitive speaking is the opportunity to participate in declamation, oratory, extempore speaking, radio, serious interpretative reading, humorous interpretative reading, and multiple reading.

Seniors Exhibit Talent In

On November 16 and 17 the Tibbits Opera House resounded with the words of the stage adaptation of Stephen Vincent Benet's Pulitzer Prize winning poem "John Brown's Body." Seventeen talented seniors portrayed the anger, patriotism, and excitement generated by the Civil War years in this unique class play. Effective presentation of this narrative rested with seven main readers and a large chorus whose task it was to convey mood and sound effects.

The entire cast performs in a scene from the parade.

First mate, Jeff McConnell, and the captain, Allan Roscoe, discuss matters concerning the slave ship.

Ellyat, played by Fred Harris, fights an enemy soldier.

“John Brown’s Body”

Lawrence E. Carrico directed the seniors in their production of the play. The main narrative part was read by Stephanie Lanz. Larry Martin had a leading role as John Brown and Abraham Lincoln while Allan Roscoe characterized Lee. Fred Harris, Donna Snow, Peg Zimmer and Denise Layman also had substantial roles. The chorus consisted of Rosemary Brooks, Susan Chapman, Beth Frasier, Ron Helmer, Karen Kollmorgen, Jeff McConnell, Gordon Pierson, and Fred Porter. Linda Loud and Tom Aldrich were soloists.

Linda Loud sings “Hush Little Baby.”

Elyatt meets his lover, Melora.

The play reaches a climax with Larry Martin’s dramatic portrayal of John Brown.

Choir Receives Many Honors

THE CHORAL CLUB

THE CARDINAL CHOIR

The Cardinal Choir, under the direction of Mr. Arvid Berg, met an extremely busy schedule this year. In May of 1967 a tape was made of the choir and sent to the Michigan School Vocal Association. The Coldwater choir was one of four groups in the entire state of Michigan selected to perform at the annual Midwestern Music Educators Conference at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor on January 12 and 13, 1968. Competition in various contests in March and the annual Christmas and spring concerts, also required much attention of the choir members.

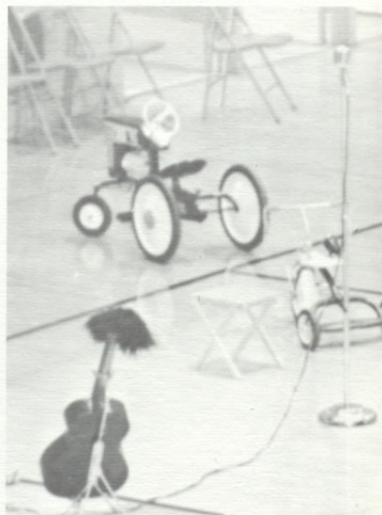

Coach Hobart presides over one of our numerous Pep assemblies.

Jean Ann Williams plays selections from "The Sound of Music."

Assemblies

Provide Entertainment

Dave Pierce performs his version of the Hula.

Mickey the Chimp shows off to the student body.

During the past school year, the student body reaped the benefits of last year's commission in the form of the fine, widely-varied professional assemblies which were presented. The theme of the 1967-68 school year ranged from the hilarious antics of Mickey the Chimp, to trampoline exhibitionists, to a demonstration of the mysterious craft of the hypnotist.

The overall high quality of every assembly demonstrates, in just one phase of student life, the Commission's continuous striving to bring the best in student activity to the student body.

Happiness Was The Christmas Formal

Highlighting the winter social activities was the annual Christmas Formal sponsored by the senior class on December 22. With "Happiness Is A Falling Snowflake" chosen as the theme of the dance, the decorations were centered around the famed "Peanuts" characters. Couples danced to the music of Dan Neill and his Orchestra in the wintery scene of Christmas caroling, building snowmen, and decorating Christmas trees.

Seniors enjoy their last Christmas Formal at CHS.

Hurry up Roger? This looks even better.

Dan Neill and his Orchestra added a final touch with lively music.

The Teen Chamber of Commerce is a service organization which works closely with the Greater Area Coldwater Chamber of Commerce. Meetings are held the first Monday of every month. During the Christmas season the Teen Chamber judged residential decorations and assisted with the food and clothing drive. As part of learning about city government, members exchange places with various officials for one day. To provide teens of the city with a better atmosphere for recreation the Teen Chamber conducted a "clean-up the Youth Center" campaign.

PEP CLUB - '68

Pep Club Bubbles

Pat Pohl was chosen Miss Pep for 1968.

Pep Club members and advisor, Mr. Keeslar, work throughout the year to promote school spirit among students and faculty. It has been instrumental in encouraging all extracurricular activities. Creative and colorful signs posted in the hallways before games demonstrate that the C.H.S. Pep Club leads in "CARDINAL SPIRIT."

Artistic ability is shown by Tobi Lytle and Shelby Stanley while they help paint pep signs.

Foreign Languages Create Understanding

The Spanish and German clubs strive to broaden their knowledge of Spanish speaking and German speaking countries. Each club has had the opportunity to see travelogues of the regions of the world and the German club featured a series of films on the life of Adolf Hitler. Members of the Spanish club made a trip to Jalisco's Mexican Restaurant and a special Christmas party featured the breaking of the traditional pinata.

This year CHS was privileged to welcome seven foreign exchange students from five countries of the world. From Germany comes Jutta Stalleicken, Doris Ripke, and Wolfgang Herzberg. Mabel Perez Gamez and Marcela Fravenberg, natives of Venezuela and Chile, added a Spanish touch to the atmosphere of CHS. Constance Rau and Susan Chapman brought with them customs from Holland and Northern Ireland. Through active participation in a variety of activities, these students have been able to teach the students of CHS and members of the entire community about the cultures and beliefs of their lands, and through the Youth for Understanding Program, have contributed much to the improvement of international relations.

Chess And Audio-Visual Clubs Explore Opportunities

The Audio-Visual Club is a relatively new club at C.H.S. It is responsible for the maintenance of the audio-visual equipment.

Coldwater High School students are given the opportunities to prove their skills in chess, a game requiring imagination and an ability to think. The Chess Club tries to improve one's understanding of chess, and helps students to satisfy themselves with various moves and combinations.

Members of Tri-Hi-Y "create, maintain, and extend" service to the community. Fourteen members of the club travelled to the state capital in Lansing in December to attend a youth legislature convention. Under the supervision of Mrs. Lori, the girls planned several worthwhile projects, one of which included raising funds for Unicef.

Key Club Exhibits Enthusiasm

Highlighting the Key Club's year of service was participation in worthwhile projects to develop initiative and leadership in the school and community. With Mr. Gerald Weaver as advisor, the club has become well-known for its annual Christmas tree sale and clothing drive, painting the lines in the school parking lot, placing the waste containers around the school, contributing to the Student Loan Association, and being ready to assist whenever needed. "We Build" has proved to be an appropriate motto for the Key Club.

Boys meet regularly to discuss projects of the Key Club.

Future Secretaries Learn To Tackle Mounds Of Paperwork

The goal of the Future Secretaries Association has been to promote knowledge of office work. Programs were geared to demonstrate new techniques and equipment. Through field trips to business establishments in Coldwater the girls have learned about employer-employee relationships, grooming for office work, and various aspects of a clerical career. Under the supervision of Donna Dolan, the group also visited buildings in Detroit.

Gridders Led By New Head Coach

Quarterback Bruce Young looks for an open pass receiver.

Under the leadership of new head coach Al Schorhaar, the Coldwater varsity football team improved gradually throughout the season and finished their schedule regaining the coveted silver football with a 6-0 upset over the Sturgis Trojans.

The team finished with a 1-6-1 record, but in spite of the losing season the players were never discouraged and there were very few drop-outs. Many of the senior varsity members were lost to injuries and had to be replaced with inexperienced players. They did an excellent job and should prove to be a tremendous asset to next year's team.

As Terry Clark takes a moment of rest on the sidelines, he ponders about the game.

Doug Rogers tries to evade the Pennfield defense to gain valuable yardage.

JV's Place Third In Twin Valley

Both teams watch as Tim Davis kicks another extra point.

During the 1967-68 season Coldwater had one of the best reserve football teams it has had in many years. Averaging over three hundred yards gained per game, the powerful J.V. offense scored 245 points in eight games. With a 5-2 record in league competition, the team took third place in the Twin Valley Conference.

Large Crowd Attends Homecoming

The excitement of homecoming preparation reached its culmination during halftime of the Harper Creek game. Mayor Pillsbury traditionally revealed to Valerie Borden, 1967 Queen, who the lucky girl was. The student body had chosen Miss Donna Snow to represent CHS. Others on the court who shared in the exhilarating homecoming festivities were Louisa Lopez, Mickey Galinis, Nianne MacDonald, and Cecile Mosier. The evening was concluded with a dance held in the cafeteria.

Again Jim Bilsborrow crosses the finish line first.

Under the leadership of captains Jim Bilsborrow, Joe Fitch, and Roger Williams the CHS Cross Country team ended up with best record ever held at Coldwater in this sport. The harriers won twelve meets and were beaten only by Charlotte, in the first meet of the season, and a tough Sturgis team.

Among the accomplishments of the season was finishing third in the Lawton Invitational, in which seventeen schools entered.

Senior Jim Bilsborrow proved to be the best runner for Coach Browne. Jim finished first ten times and second once in the eleven meets that Coldwater had this year. In the Twin Valley Meet he took a third.

With most of his runners back next year, Coach Browne is looking forward to another successful season.

Quinn Berry finds himself surrounded by Panthers, all eager to take the ball away.

The 1967-68 Varsity Basketball team finished with a 12-6 record. This is the best record held by any Coldwater basketball squad in nineteen years. One of the main reasons for the team's success was its tough defense. Coldwater had the best defensive club in the Twin Valley League. League opponents were held to an average of 56 points per game by the Cards. A strong bench also proved to be an asset to the team. If someone was in foul trouble or was injured, Coach Hobart could replace him with another experienced player. One problem the team had was lack of height, but the high spirited players were not fazed by this and outrebounded many taller opponents.

The Junior Varsity Basketball team had one of its finest seasons this year. The squad finished third in the Twin Valley standings with 7-5 win-loss record in league play. Over all the J.V.'s had an excellent 11-6 record.

The club had good scoring balance and averaged 49.4 points per game. Ron LaBelle scored 214 points in seventeen games to lead the team in total points. He also led the team in rebounds with 127. Tim Davis was close behind for scoring honors with 203 points. Dennis Scheidler made the most assists with 38.

Many of the players show great potential and should help the Varsity team immensely next year.

112 pounder, Scott Barringer, begins a match looking for another win.

Lacking experience and having few new team members, the Coldwater High grapplers finished their season losing eleven and winning only three. The lack of participation in wrestling can be seen by the fact that only fourteen boys finished the season. Throughout the season many matches had to be forfeited for this reason.

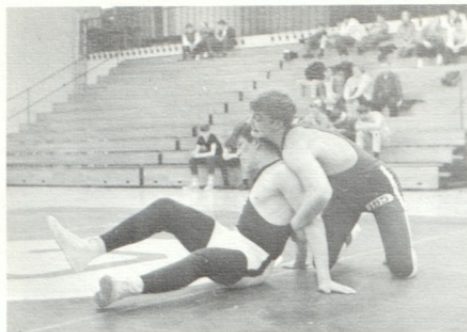

Scott Barringer and Dave Jewell had the best win-loss records for the season. They were 13-6 and 16-8, respectively. In the Twin Valley Meet, 95 pounder, Charlie Gann took first place while Scott and Dave finished second in their weight divisions.

Tom Jones was voted Most Improved Wrestler, Scott Barringer, Most Valuable, and Steve Longstreet won the Fastest Fall trophy with a fifty-one second pin.

Awards Are Presented To Juniors And Seniors

SALUTATORIAN: CHRISTINE HANNON

Jane Shedd was chosen as the 1968 DAR Girl by faculty members for having demonstrated the qualities of a good citizen. In addition to maintaining an admirable scholastic record, Jane has assumed the responsibility of editing the Mirror and the position of First Vice-President in the Teen Chamber of Commerce. Service, dependability, leadership, and loyalty to American ideals has characterized Jane's high school career.

As a result of her high score on a written knowledge and attitude examination for senior girls, Beverly Beerbower was named CHS' 1968 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. Beverly is a home economics major with an excellent record of ability in her chosen field.

Quill and Scroll Awards are presented each year to those students who have shown ability in the journalistic field. Awards were given to staff members of the CARDINAL, Mirror, and Chatter. The recipients have demonstrated a sincere interest in journalism and have taken the opportunity to expand their knowledge by using their ability in the publication of school items.

Rhonda Smith and Christine Hannon were selected as Valedictorian and Salutatorian of the 1968 graduating class.

Scholarship and activity has characterized the high school years of Miss Smith. She has been Dean of Debate and Forensics, editor of the CARDINAL, and a member of the Thespians and Teen Chamber. Rhonda will attend the University of Michigan in the fall of 1968 to study political science.

Recently a transfer student from St. Charles, Christine Hannon has been active in the Math-Science Club, Catholic Teens and the Teen Chamber. Also a member of the Forensics team, National Honor Society and Top 10%, Christine plans to major in education at the Western Michigan University.

IDEAL BOY: JIM BILSBORROW

IDEAL GIRL: PAM MACRAE

Student Honors Are Announced

Representative of honest and sincere personalities, Jim Bilsborrow and Pam MacRae are the 1968 Ideal Boy and Ideal Girl. Jim has excelled in cross country and track and as a Boys' State representative is genuinely interested in the welfare of CHS. Pam is recognized for her vocal talent which has brought her many honors. She has also played a major role in the administration of the Campus Life Club to which both she and Jim belong. Both seniors will be attending universities next year.

The Arion Award for band was given to Kit Moss, an oboist. Kit has studied music for many years and has had an opportunity to attend the Interlochen Music Camp and workshops at Olivet College. His excellence in music has been demonstrated in concerts, contest, and solos. Certainly, Kit Moss is deserving of such a high honor.

Reflections

Now that the flurry to meet deadlines is over, there is a time for quiet and solemn reflection. We are reminded of the colorful showcase that greeted students with "Let's Make It A Great Year," on the fifth of September. It is with that goal in mind that the CARDINAL has captured the 1968 image of CHS — one of light, liberty, and learning. For many the year has held awakenings and happiness and for others it was filled with bitterness and failure. Yet for all there were new experiences to fill the daily journal. Using the insight we have gained we must now look to the future with renewed vision and courage.
