Forward

Down through the years it has been customary to dedicate the Quincy Oriole to a person deserving of such an honor. In order to rightfully recognise the all the deserving people at this time, it is my privilege to pay tribute to all the teachers, students and administrators of Quincy High School.

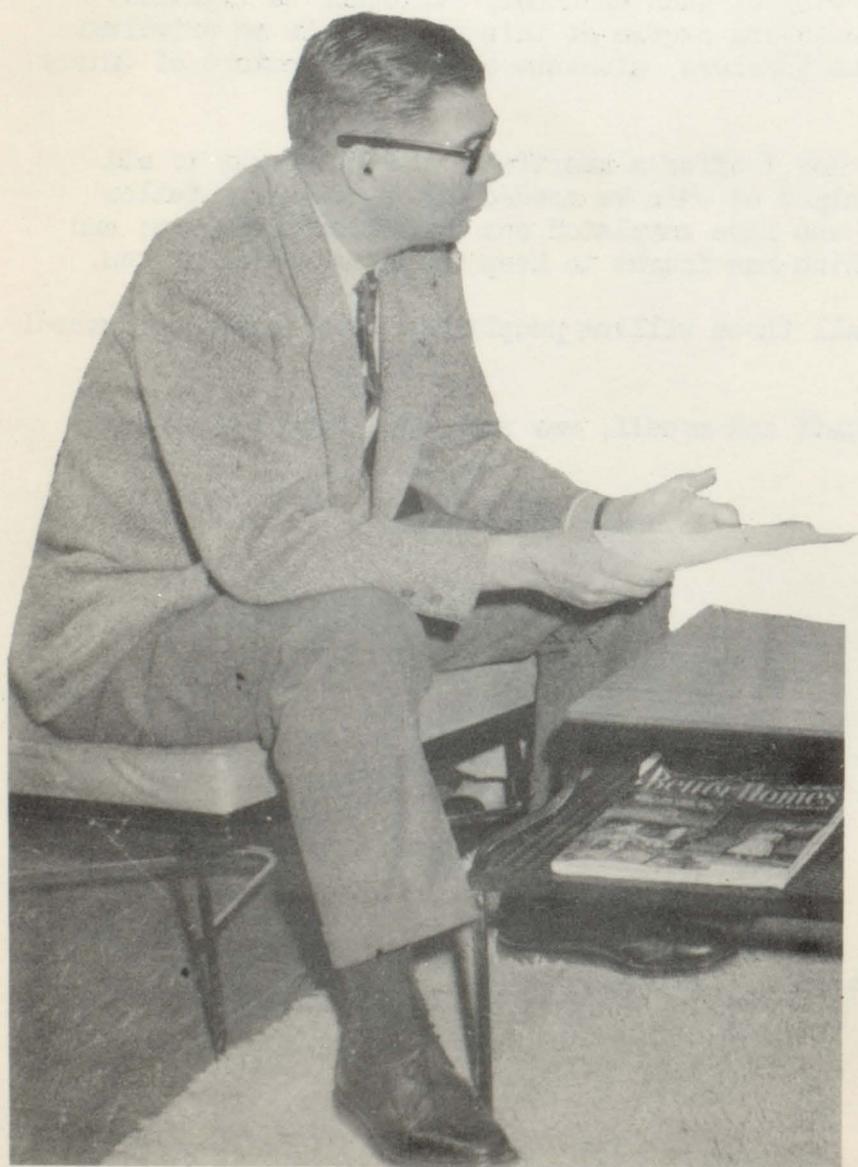

With this in mind, may I offer a heartfelt word of thanks to all our teachers who have helped us when we needed help; to all my fellow students and classmates who have completed our high school careers; and to the administration which has fought to keep Quincy's school on top.

Thanks also go to all those willing people who have backed our school and its activities.

On behalf of the staff and myself, may you enjoy your 1957 Quincy Oriole-Annual.

"I have been delightfully surprised by the outstanding ability shown by many of our students," said Mr. Burt at the completion of his second year in Quincy.

Mr. Newell Burt is superintendent of schools at Quincy.

"Good morning. What can I do for you?" is the way in which Mrs. Susan Lambright greets her customers so early in the morning. She is Mr. Burt's right hand 'man'--secretary, advisor, receptionist.

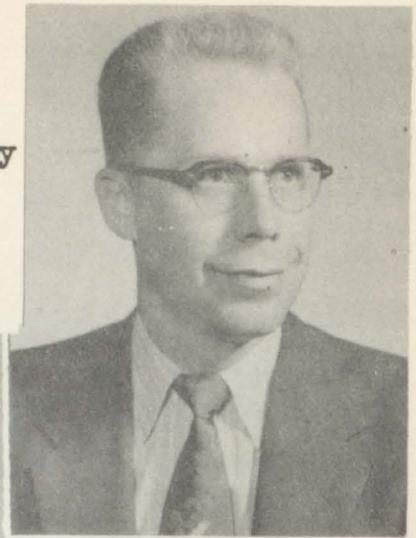

Mr. Dean VanLandingham, nicknamed Mr. "Van," has his headquarters in the principal's office upstairs.

"Do you know where Mr. Van is?" seems to be the most familiar question that Mrs. Donna Omo can remember hearing throughout the school year. Mrs. Omo served as Mr. Van Lendingham's secretary and receptionist the past year.

Mr. Alfred Clyne is principal in our new elementary school in Quincy.

Mrs. Vera Calhoun, besides teaching first grade, manages to act also as principal at the Allen school.

Mrs. Wentworth and Mrs. Smith toiled daily preparing food, balancing budgets, and selecting the Basic 7 for the students of the elementary school.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Osborne did the same procedure for the hungry pupils at Allen.

Custodians

Mr. Clyde Hoffman and Mr. Glenn Houck daily cleaned our high school halls.

Mr. Hildebrand tidied the elementary building during the school year.

Mr. Sebring managed the janitorial duties at Allen this year.

Seniors

High point of the year for the Seniors, of course, was Graduation on May 29. The white robes and caps, accented with lavender tassels and orchids, were a colorful sight as the sixty-five boys and girls received their diplomas.

Much happened through that last year, though. October was our Homecoming; Jim Rockel and Judy Cox were our Homecoming King and Queen. Ken Thomas, the class president, received the "pep jug" in honor of the Senior Class.

The Senior Class of 1957 was very active. Twelve of the brave boys helped the football team to victory. Eighteen boys and girls were in the varsity band. When basketball season came both boys and girls played basketball. Cheerleading was included in the activities, too.

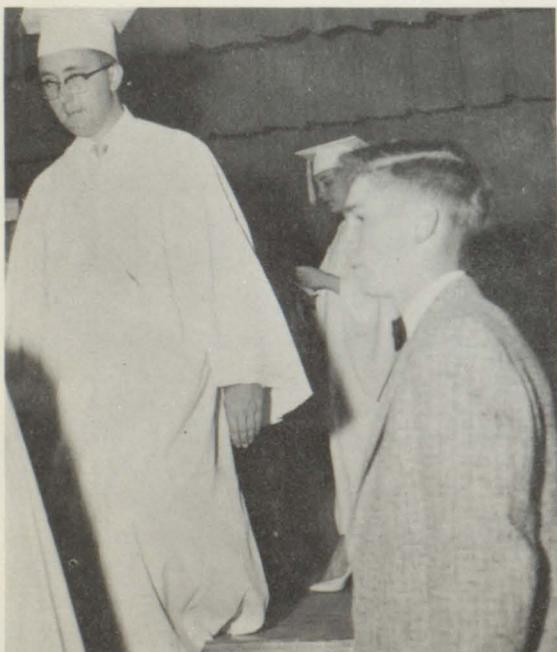

Baseball and track, the spring sports, honored even more Seniors.

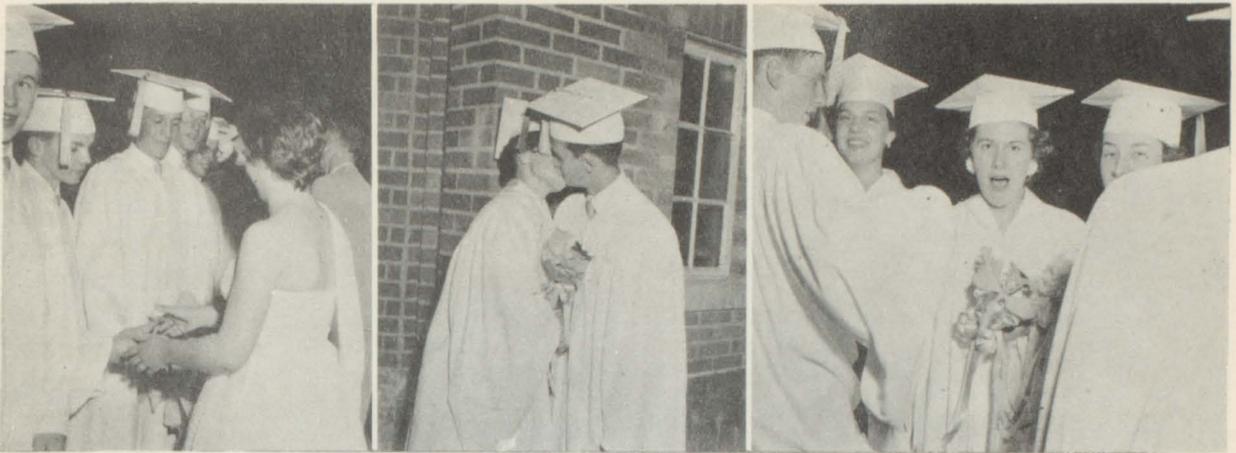

Jane Cook was named D. A. R. Girl to honor her as an outstanding Senior Girl.

For the third straight year Marcia VanDoren won the district "I Speak For Democracy" contest.

This commemorates the end of a l-o-n-g walk for 65 Seniors, receiving their long-awaited diplomas.

Reviewing old times together has already started here, apparently.

After Commencement, the traditional handshake.

Sometimes the Graduate receives a little extra from another member of the class. In this case, it's all right.

However, they can't stand too much at one time. Wha' hopped?

Skip Day at Pokagon State Park proved to be a "riot". Tobogganing, sledding, skating, and eating were the highlights of the day.

The Class of '57 was exceptional. There weren't just 10 students to honor for their outstanding academic work, but there were 22. Heading the list was Ken Thomas, Valedictorian; and Mary Lampman, Salutatorian.

The Senior Play was a great success. What a laugh when David Dunckel dropped "unconscious" Carol Ann Lashuay. Jim Lawler's party was great after the play, too.

The Juniors honored the Seniors at the Junior-Senior Banquet-----the turkey and dressing were delicious.

Six debaters came from the Senior Class. This year, the first time in many years, the debate team went to the regional debate tournaments.

The J-Hop was a conclusion to the social events of the year.

Next came baccalaureate and then graduation to end the careers of the seniors as high school students.

They will go into the world-----some to college, others to make their way along some other road. But they will still be remembered as the best class to walk the halls of Q. H. S.

Judy Cox, Sharon Daniels, and Mary Dawn Dobson working on the annual Senior Play production, entitled "The Clock Struck 12!" It was fun and . . . scary.

Carol Ann Lashway and Teddy Etheridge at their important task of selling Sr. candy.

Christmastime found Sue Mains, Teddy Etheridge, and Janice Barton getting ready for Mr. Claus' eventful appearance, by decorating the High School Christmas tree.

Jr.-Sr. Banquet

Afterwards!

Top Row: Jane Chapin, Reporter; Jeanette Laurell, Vice Pres.; Rita Caskey, Secretary. Front: Richard Faulkner, Treasurer; Jack Knirk, President; Ned Hagaman, Historian.

It seems as if the census in the Junior Class has been on the decrease for the past three years. When the class of '58 started on the turmoil road of high school, they enrolled with a body of 81. When they reached the second rung in the ladder, they had slimmed down to 68. This year they have dropped to a round number of 54.

At the start of the year the Juniors worked loyalty at doing their part at making the home coming successful. They came through with flying colors; but the Seniors were just a bit brighter and won the "Pep Jug" from the Juniors, who were victorious from the past year.

The "Sweetheart Ball" was the next highlight in the '56-'57 school year. The "Polkateers" created the beautiful music that engulfed the auditorium that evening.

As is customary, the Juniors entertained the Seniors and faculty at the Annual Jr.-Sr. Banquet. After a delicious turkey dinner, the honored guests were entertained by Mr. Keith L. Hayes, a speaker from Three Rivers. Ty McConnell, with a humorous reading, and the Hi Fi's from Coldwater. They think this banquet. will be remembered by all that attended for a very long time.

The sophomores gained 9 new class members this year while they lost 4 others.

Their first real joy was in receiving $10 in prize money for having the best class float in the Homecoming Parade last fall.

Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae Yokum reigned, as usual, at the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance sponsored by the sophomores. Rem Wall provided the music; Delaine McDonald, Jack Harter, and Bill Beam furnished the "break" music.

During the year, the group got together for a party. (I guess you call it a party, as they drank 16 full cases of pop!) It will be a long-remembered event.

Another money-making project for the year was the CarWash held by the class on the day before Memorial Day. This activity netted them about $30 in profit.

Several of the members were honored to be asked to serve at the annual Junior-Senior Banquet this spring.

Freshmen

The freshman year of the Class of '60 showed a gain of nine students and a loss of six, which put their enrollment at 76.

Their representation in the Student Council was Deena Krymis, Carolyn Anthony, Wayne Rollins, and Kathy Warner.

Even though the Freshmen didn't win the "Pep Jug", they showed their school spirit by winning the annual "yell fest" and by receiving fourth place with their float, whose theme was "Let's See Q.H.S. Through." Susan Wibel and Larry Wilcox were chosen by the class to represent them on the Homecoming Court.

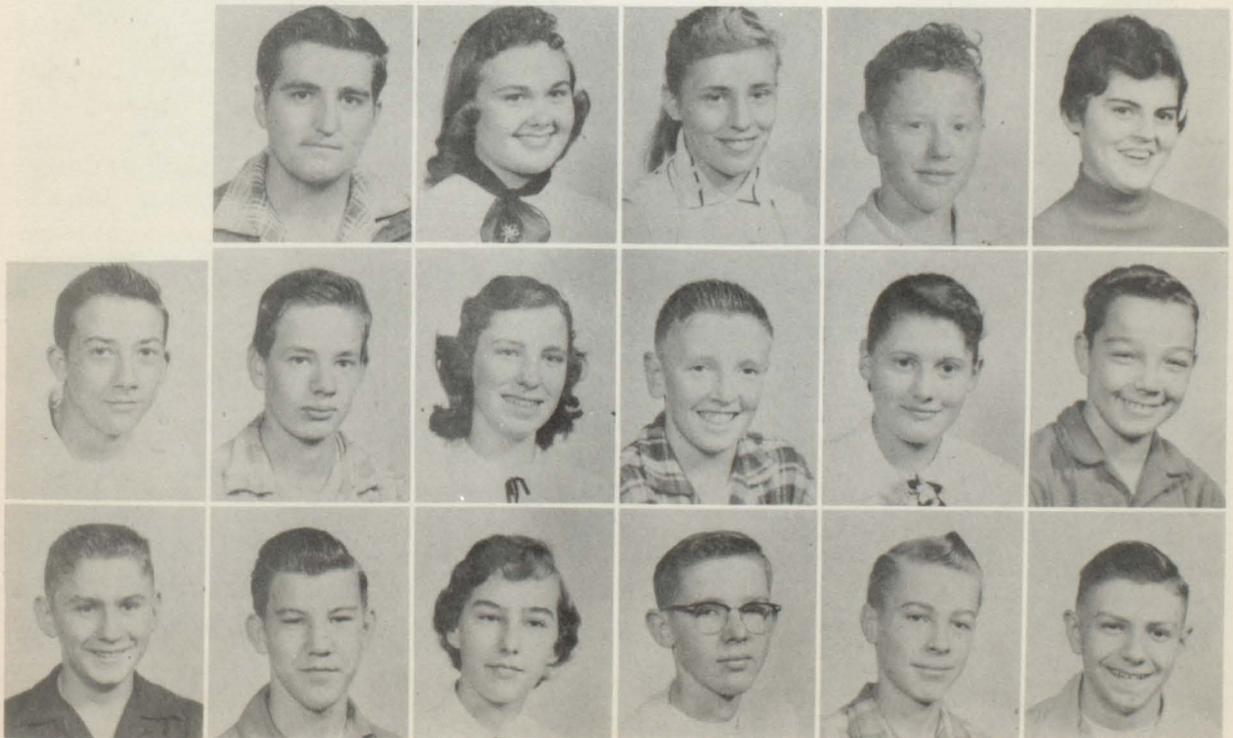

Class 1960

Under the guidance and instruction of their advisors, Mr. Bard and Mr. Fischer, they sponsored a "Record Hop" on March 22. To add a mysterious touch to the evening two mystery guests were secured to spin records. The books showed a profit of about fifteen dollars.

They also had a class party on March 29. Refreshments were served, records were played, and the ping-pong table was constantly in use all during the evening.

In ending their first year in High School, they have many happy memories and are looking forward to a better and happier sophomore year.

Sixth Grade

Some of the sixth graders were disappointed last fall when they learned that they were to go back to a country school; but it has been a very happy year.

They have had good times playing softball, soccer ball, football, and other outdoor games.

At Halloween time their school won a prize for painting one of the down town store windows.

For Christmas they enjoyed a movie at Our Theater, and parties in their rooms.

In February the "adventurers" traveled to Snyder's Bakery in Coldwater, where they were shown through the lines of pastries, cookies, and breads.

In March they were invited to an afternoon band concert given by the Cement City band at the High School.

All the sixth graders are looking forward to seventh grade next year. It will begin their high school life.

Fourth Grade

Mrs. Osgood was the new fourth grade teacher this year. Fifty-six boys and thirty-two girls had fun while learning during the past year. The class brought reptiles and animals such as snakes, turtles, and a baby opussum to class.

They all received the valuable experience of standing up before the group and giving book reports. Who knows?-- they may be our State Champions of oration in the future. They learned the seven basic foods and of what a proper diet consists. "America and Christopher Columbus" was one of the songs sung at the October assembly for which the fourth graders were responsible.

A real treat came when Mrs. Phelps, Mrs. Monk, and Mrs. Carver took their classes to visit VanAken's Greenhouse in Coldwater.

Mrs. Carver took over Mrs. Osgood's class after the first of the year, when she left teaching in Quincy.

Mrs. Carver stressed long division to her future Math geniuses. They learned their lessons well and moved on to the fifth grade.

Mrs. Phelps' class reorganized their library and with the guidance of Mr. Hildebrand, they built new bookcases for the room.

Mrs. Monk had a very active class this year. They experimented with plants for a science project, worked with clay and took imaginary trips around the United States. On their journeys, they visited many points of interest.

All things considered, the fourth graders had a highly successful year in school.

First Grade

"We're brave", said the first graders when they received their immunization shots in October.

Mrs. Roth's students put on a Thanksgiving Play and invited Mrs. Mack's and Mrs. Phair's boys and girls into see it.

The first graders were in a Kiddie Style Show at Open House on March 20. The clothes were donated by Bolegraf's Department Store and Leona's Apparel Shoppe. Some of the children were dressed in costumes as flowers, bunnies, and birds. While these were styled, the others sang, under the direction of Mrs. Parkinson.

Several students had birthdays during the year, and some of them brought treats for the class.

Mrs. Phair's class made a science table, and some students brought frogs and gourds.

Kindergarten

Sixty six happy and triumphant students marched across the stage at the Kindergarten Graduation. Twenty-nine students have attended Mrs. Esterline's morning session and thirty-seven have attended her afternoon session this year.

The children are very proud of all they have learned. They worked hard and had a lot of fun. Everytime a holiday rolled around, they had a big time celebrating it. They had fun for Christmas, Thanksgiving, Easter, Halloween and all the other holidays. The children had fun celebrating each other's birthdays, too.

But, don't think that they didn't do any work. The children worked hard studying the different habits of various animals. Throughout the year the pupils brought in different plants and animals. They even grew some plants themselves.

It's easy to see that they had a fine year and learned a lot. It must be nice to be in Kindergarten!

In order to be prepared to meet with today's complicated justification problems, our Student Court was formed.

The court is a group of students working together to carry out and maintain order and justice with the students and throughout the school.

For example-----those disturbers who talk excessively in study hall or a class are brought before the court. Here the disturbers are allowed to accept or deny any charges made against them. After hearing their side of the story, the court must decide whether they are guilty or not. If so, the 'victim' must undergo his punishment.

The Student Court provides some form of court procedure as a sample of what goes on inside a court room.

Assembly Committee

The purpose of the Assembly Committee is to work toward improving student enthusiasm and appreciation of the regularly scheduled assembly program.

One of the most important jobs of this committee is to help set up the schedule of the year's assembly program. This committee is also responsible for getting the gym prepared for each assembly.

The Assembly Committee's first meeting brought about the election of Larry Seiler as chairman and Pat Williams as secretary. Mr. Elenbaas was their sponsor.

The group took a poll; and the results showed that the student body preferred to have Kenneth Armstrong, a Marshall Field Supervisor of Probation, to come and talk on that subject. He told the students about the laws of Michigan and other states.

In January, their chairman, Larry Seiler moved to Battle Creek and they elected a new chairman, Richard Wagoner. Billy Todd was elected assistant chairman, and David Roberts as Sargeant-at-arms.

"Come and get it!!" was the cry of the Concessions Committee this year. In the words of Henry Evans, the advisor, "They graped 'em, they oranged 'em, and they fed 'em."

This serving and more took place in the gym during the various home basketball games of the season. They cleared $387. 31 profit for their efforts.

But this job requires more than just 'clerking' (so to speak.) Food must be ordered, bills estimated in advance, accounts paid, and many other such details that help to make a project a success.

Inspection Committee

"Hurry up! Here they come again!" This cry echoed throughout the halls preceding the locker inspection crew on their periodical trips of checking "every nook, corner, and cranny." The "Crew" made regular journeys inspecting not only the lockers both upstairs and down, but also the shower rooms, restrooms, and classrooms. Their reports found that the restrooms were generally quite neat and clean; although some of the lockers needed improvements. The numbers of these lockers were posted in conspicuous locations in the halls. After a lapse of one or two days, the committee again checked.

A list of improvements needed in the shower rooms was presented to the Student Council. But, the Council, just getting rehabilitated, didn't have sufficient funds to support such a project.

The better part of their inspections came when they had their monthly tours of high school rooms to choose the one that would display the wood-carved plaque, signifying the room best decorated for the month. The plaque, with the inscription ROOM DECORATION CHAMPS, gave the incentive to decorate for the outstanding event of the month.

Citizenship and Honors

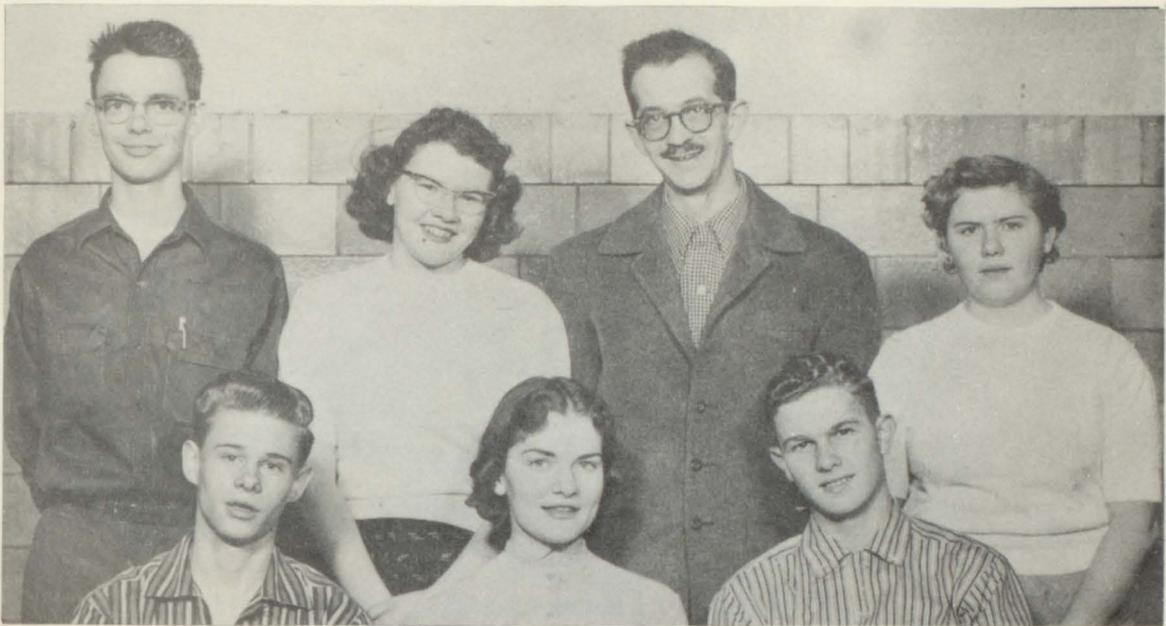

Changing the citizenship grading was the biggest problem that was taken up by this committee. Feeling that the citizenship grading was not up to standards, Chairman Ron Hackworth and his committee undertook the job of having it changed. The committee spent a lot of time researching and sorting out different citizenship grading systems so that the student of Q. H. S. could have a better grading system.

Late in the school year the committee with its advisor, Mr. Oberlin, traveled to Toledo where they picked the final copy for the students. Since then only minor changes have been made.

In a faculty meeting held after their return, the faculty accepted the new citizenship grading system with an unanimous approval.

Next year this system will go into effect. A lot of credit must be given to Ron and his committee for the splendid job they have done to bring back the meaning of citizenship to Quincy.

Health and Safety Committee

"Safety Demands Sober Drivers" slogan stickers were given out, by committeemen, to people to attach to their automobile bumpers in order to remind others of their obligation. Posters encouraging hall cleanliness were posted in obvious places.

The Safety Patrol members happily received their new safety belts and yellow raincoats this year. These outfits have gained admiration from the elementary patrols, with whom the committee has been working.

A very familiar part of their duties, was the issuing of violation slips to pedestrians jay-walking or committing other such unsafe practices. These slips, in turn, were given to the Student Courts, who gave the verdict of sentences as: The sanding of 1 desk, sweeping of halls for 1 week, or sitting in on a strange classroom for a 2 week period.

One of the most active groups in the school is the Future Farmers of America. Under the guiding hand of their able club officers and advisor, the club has carried out many worth-while projects.

Like all farmers, their first concern is farming. After the oat harvest last summer, their big project in the fall was picking and selling their corn. In connection with the harvests, the F. F. A. members responded eagerly to the call for help at the first Quincy Harvest Festival. In this contest, many members took prizes; Jim Harbaugh was chosen to be Junior Corn King.

To add further to their treasury, the F. F. A. boys sponsored a Donkey Basketball game and Slave Sale. They defeated their opponents from Coldwater and grossed about $180.00 from the evening.

F. F. A.'ers are willing to work for the good of the school. With this in mind, they have worked hard on the school parking lot to make it a better place for automobiles.

To promote good will, the Future Homemakers were invited to a skating party in their honor.

F. F. A. members have many opportunities to increase their farm knowledge and have a good time. Typical of these, are the delegations to the National Convention in Kansas City and the State Convention in Lansing, a field trip to the Farmer's Week program at Michigan State University, and the Parliamentary procedure demonstration before the Rotary. This demonstration won third place in the county contest.

F. F. A. believes in rewarding good work. Five members---Wayne Roberts, Frances Hard, Harry Thomas, Norman Knisely, and Pat Scott won a trip to Chicago to the International Livestock Exposition as a reward for their milk testing program.

Future Farmers like to reward the people who help them. This is done at the Annual F. F. A. Parent-Son Banquet. This is the joint effort of F. F. A. members and their mothers. The people honored at this year's banquet included: Mr. Arnold Wineland, Mr. Melvin Blue, Mr. John Holcomb, Mr. Leo Dryer, Mr. Max Thomas, Mr. Ray Maxon, and Mr. Howard Kaiser.

The Future Farmers, with its varied activities, provides an excellent proving ground for the modern farm practices, parliamentary procedure, and cooperative behavior that is taught in the Vocational Agriculture Classes.

Working for a trip overnight to Chicago, has been the aim of Quincy's Future Homemakers' this year.

First on the year's agenda was the election of officers and initiation of new members. The initiation program is one of the events of the year when mothers and members have a real get-together with a program, recreation, and refreshments. This time was no exception. The following day, the halls found the "greenhorns" in aprons and carrying a kitchen utensil over 6" long.

During the mock election in Q. H. S., the F. H. A. served a ham dinner with all the trimmin's for 50¢. This project netted them a profit of approximately $30.00. Later in the season, the Homemakers' served a dinner for the Cheerleading Clinic held at Quincy. To add more to their treasury, the club held a successful baked-goods sale in one of the local establishments.

"Ooh, what fun!" when Quincy's Future Farmers invited the Homemakers' to an exciting skating party held at the Hillsdale Stadium.

Also on the calendar this year, was the marriage of their advisor, Miss Bushey, to Mr. Edward Deal. The club presented the couple with a wedding present.

Again the F. F. A. entered into the picture when they asked members of this group to serve at the annual F. F. A. Parent-Son Banquet held in the spring.

National F. H. A. Week was celebrated by decorating the glass case in the lower hall: while the members wore red roses.

All in all, the homemakers' have done lots outside of their daily routine schedule.

The Future Nurses Club was organized last year and has been active this season. Last year was concerned with the forming of a constitution, by laws, etc. At the beginning of this, year officers were selected. Mrs. Ross Cochrane was chosen as Club Sponsor and Mrs. Odrzywolska as Club Consultant.

Many projects and ideas were discussed in the meetings.

In January, the President resigned. Therefore, all the officers moved up one position, with Eva Bussing chosen as parliamentarian.

The Club had a member of the Guidance Department of Michael Reese Hospital in Detroit as a guest at the February meeting. She showed films on the Hospital and conducted a question and answer period.

The high light of the year was the trip to the Open House at Harper Hospital in Detroit, March 15. The guides took them on a general tour of the hospital, including the surgical floor where a mock operation for the benefit of the Future Nurses Clubs present. After the tour, a general question period was conducted by the Student Nurses. It was a very interesting, educational, and beneficial trip.

The April and May meetings were concerned with the many folders they have received on nursing.

They hope that next year they can improve the club by not only doing things for their own enjoyment, but by doing many things for the less fortunate people.

"All right--go to the office and get an excuse!" rang out when a teacher arrived late for the party in their honor, sponsored by the F. T. A. club during the winter season.

Mary Dawn Dobson acted as mistress of ceremonies; songs, games and refreshments provided a good time for all who attended.

During the course of the year, packet pictures were taken once again by Sutula Studios. The club undertook the distribution of these photos and received a commission for their efforts.

Union City, Coldwater, Reading, and Hillsdale F. T. A. clubs attended a party given for them by the Quincy chapter, at which Ken Thomas conducted the happenings of the evening. All enjoyed a good time and left feeling they had a new friendship and a future profession in common.

Attending Michigan State University this spring was another highlight of the season for the group. A tour of the beautiful campus was very interesting and enlightening.

Jane Cook, Mary Lampman, and Mary Dawn Dobson were delegates to an F. T. A. Clinic at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti, from which they brought new ideas for the club. One delegate was sponsored to M. E. A. Camp at Saint Mary's Lake.

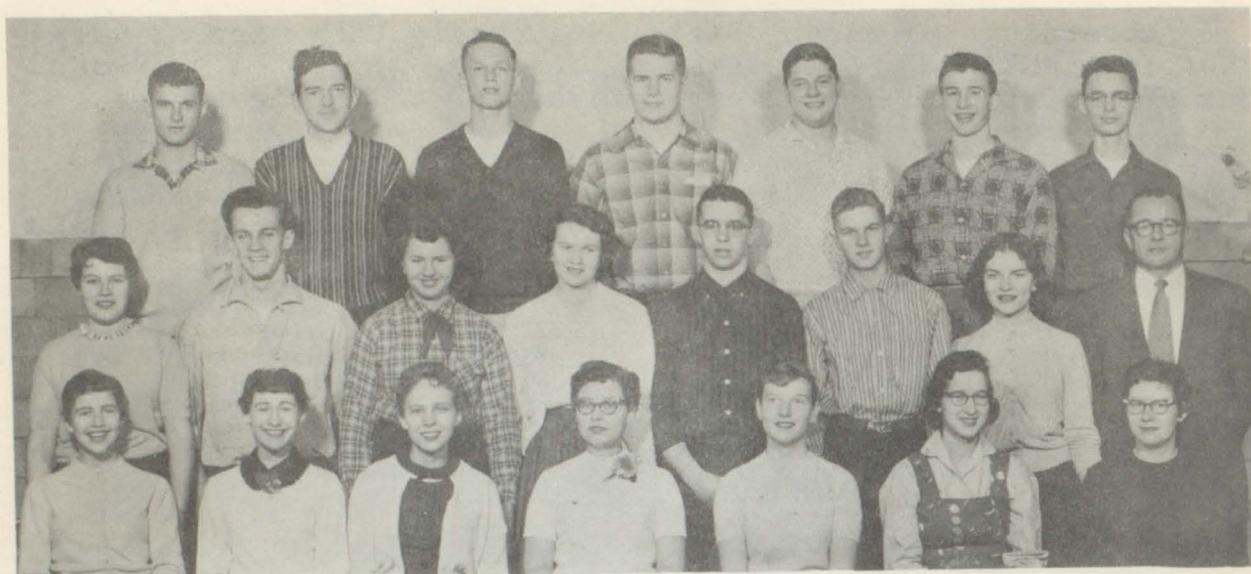

Mr. and Mrs. Monk, club advisors, again invited them to a party at their home during the year.

Meanwhile, they are assisting teachers with their daily duties.

Bible Club

"Good morning. This is _____ with the devotions for this beautiful morning."

This announcement brought the classrooms to an abrupt halt to hear morning devotions and inspirations.

The main activity of the Bible Club was the reading of devotions over the P. A. every morning.

The Bible Club met every Wednesday, at noon, with Mr. Bard. They discussed topics such as "How to Read the Bible," "Winning People to the Lord", "How Different Relegions Differ", and other such topics connected with Bible study.

They also helped the Patriotic and Devotional Committee by forming the Speech Choir in the Christmas Assembly.

"A" Band

To keep pace with the previous bands of the past six years, the Quincy High School "A" Band has again completed a successful year; and has proved itself to be one of the best Class "C" bands in the state.

The year's events were started off by the football games for which the band performed many half-time marching shows. The shows, providing pleasant entertainment and good experience, aided to the 1st division rating they received at the District Marching Festival, held in Three Rivers.

At Three Rivers, they used a minstrel show as their theme, including a percision drill, a minstrel line, and a colorful dance.

The coming of fall brought the Halloween Parade, followed by the basketball season. Some of the band members took part in playing in the pep band serving as a great morale booster for the team.

During the long winter months, many of the band members took time out to prepare for the Solo and Ensemble contest that was held at Kalamazoo in January. Everyone participating did a good job, and Quincy proved to be right on top. Were happy to have five senior high entries qualified to participate in the State Solo and Ensemble contest.

This year Quincy High School was proud to host the district Band and Orchestra Festival. The band again showed its fine musicianship by receiving a straight first division.

While preparing for the State finals, the band took time off to play an exchange concert for Cement City. They also gave a spirited Spring Concert, in which they played at the state concert contest. The contest is judged on a very gugged basis, but the band came through again, under Mr. Hause's direction, with a coveted 1st division.

With Lewis Satchfield as Drum Major, the band reappeared to practice marching for the colorful annual event of the Holland Tulip Festival, which is a joy for every band member to attend.

As graduation brings an end to the school year, the band once again returned to march in the Memorial Day Parade, bringing a close to the career of 18 bandsmen graduating this year.

"B" Band

The hard-working Quincy "B" Band members, under the direction of Mr. Hause, had a busy year. They elected the following officers; President, Ronnie Wood; Vice-President Walter Buell; Treasurer, Judy Baker; Equipment Manager, Wayne Rollins; and Publicity Manager, Karen Krymis.

They marched at the Homecoming and played two numbers with the "A" Band at the Homecoming game.

When the solo and ensemble contest at Kalamazoo rolled around, the "B" Band members participated. Included were: Clarinet trio---Melvin Sanderson, Linda Wolcott, and Sandra KenKnight, Saxophone solo Beverly Anderson; Flute trio--Karen Semmelroth, Autumn Dobson, and Nancy Ehl; Baritone solo by Paul Anderson; and Oboe solo by Janet Hall. There was also a saxophone solo by George Bolton; Horn duet by Phyllis Owens, Ronnie Wood; Clarinet trio--Janice Esterline, Jo Ann Zimmerman, Deena Krymis; and Drum duet--Mary Ann Smith and Karen Krymis.

At the Spring Festival in March, the "B" Band presented itself well along with the "A" Band. They played several numbers: (United Nations, Midnight Soliloquy, Two Moons, Evangeline, Coastguards, and Cathedral Echoes.)

On Memorial Day, the "B" Band members, in their sharp orange and black suits, marched proudly through Quincy; led by their strutting majorettes and drum major.

The "B" Band had a lot of fun, too. At Christmas time they had a Christmas Party and during the year a hayride and a skating party.

It's not every year that the band director gets married so the presented Mr. Hause with a gift when he was married. All-in-all, it was an outstanding year.

Football Cheerleaders

"Hold that line! Block that kick!" were yells sparking the team to victory last season.

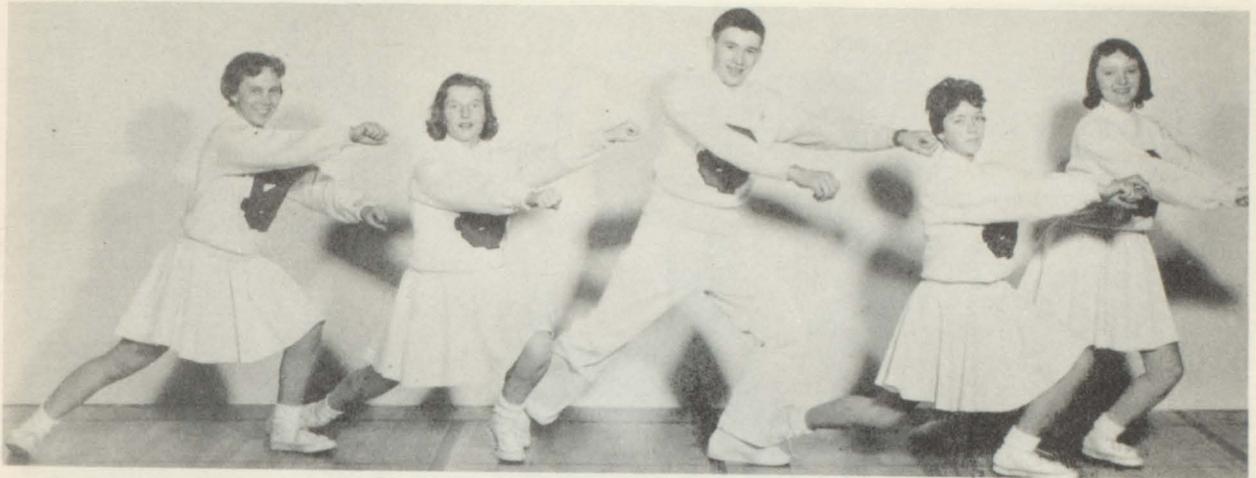

Barbara Watson, Lois Kelly, Nancy Cochrane, Nancy Jaynes, Joyce Barton, and Jo Anne Blue led the sometimes half-frozen crowd in yells backing the Orioles.

A pep Rally Homecoming night, climaxed by a bonfire at the field, made it a memorable event.

A cheerleader has it rough sometimes, especially in freezing weather when the cheerleader herself wanted to be somewhere where it was warm.

We must congratulate the football cheerleaders of '56-'57 for a job very well done!

Debate

The Debate Team has brought much recognition to the school since its reorganization last year. A lot of study and writing for the members showed these results in the win column:

Quincy-1	Three Oaks	-1
Quincy-1	Comstock	-1
Quincy-2	Pittsford	-0
Quincy-1	Napoleon	-1

"Resolved: That The Federal Government Should Support The Prices of Major Agricultural Products at Not Less Than 90% of Parity."

Forensic

Quincy was honored to host the annual District 3 Spring Forensic Contest held in March. Members of the speech class were active participants along with students from Chelsea, St. Thomas, Homer, and Huron in this activity for 1957.

Wayne Gripman and Ron Hackworth gave oratorical declamations; Joe Daniel and Alan O'Day came forth with extemporaneous speeches.

Lewis Satchfield and Mary Dawn Dobson presented their humorous readings; while Paula Misch and Ken Thomas read their interpretative readings.

Marcia VanDoren: "I Speak For Democracy."

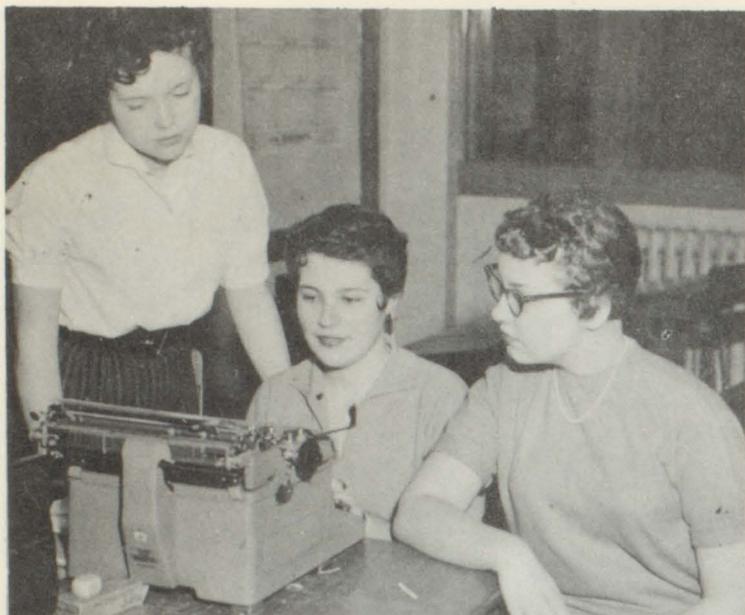

Paula Misch: Interpretative Reading: "Whipporwill."

Quincy High was fortunate in having Paula Misch represent them in the State Forensic Contest held in Ypsilanti, Michigan.

Paula was able to finish second high in these eliminations. A dictionary was awarded to her for her efforts. Her reading, entitled "Mountain Whipporwill" gave much enjoyment to her listeners.

Annual Staff

Jane Chapin, Ass. Editor,
Mary Dawn Dobson, Editor,
Jane Cook, Business Mang.

Many, many long hours were spent hovering over stories to be featured in the 1957 QUINCY ORIOLE; pictures to capture memories during the past year, and millions of little details that go into making a yearbook outstanding.

Pictures from preceeding yearbook pages were filed into envelopes where they will continually be available for paper work and yearbook productions.

Due credit must be given to Mr. Fletcher for the sponsorship of both activities.

"Don't end sentences with prepositions!"
"Don't divide words improperly!"
"Make the margins even!"
"Look up that word in the dictionary!"
"Today is the due date! Get it in!"

These instructions and many more like them were hurled at the journalism students this year by Mr. Fletcher, their advisor; Mary Dawn Dobson, yearbook editor; and Ken Thomas, paper editor. The class of 20 members had m-a-n-y new experiences in this class.

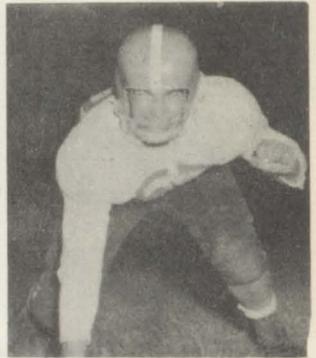

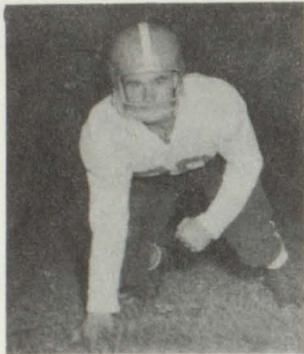

At the Honors Assembly conducted at the end of the school year, Mr. Fletcher presented certificates for award letters to the outstanding journalists of Quincy High this year: Jane Chapin, Alan O'Day, Janet Ridenour, Kenneth Thomas, and Mary Dawn Dobson. These awards were for working "above and beyond the call of duty."

Football

"Let's win that game!" was the general feeling by spectators and players alike during the football games of the 1956-'57 season. The team tried to carry out the spectators' wishes, although sometimes cold weather and a loss of valuable players caused a bit of trouble and confusion.

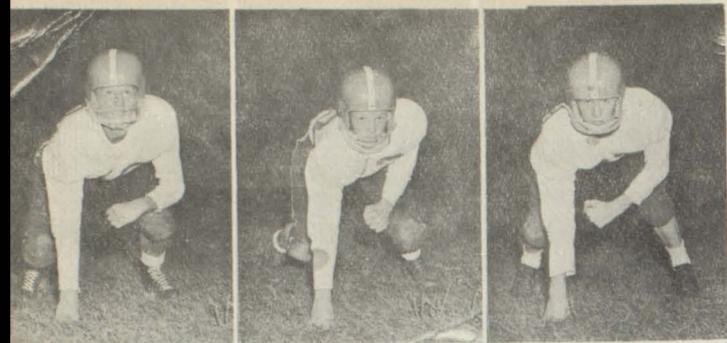

Bill Laurell and Jim Rockel were both 'laid up' for the last games because of injuries sustained in football plays. Through all the difficulties undergone, the squad finished fourth in the standings of the Conference.

The team lost 11 of their players through Graduation.

Varsity Basketball

Under the direction of Coach Oberlin, the Quincy High Basketballers had an average season--winning 7 and losing 10.

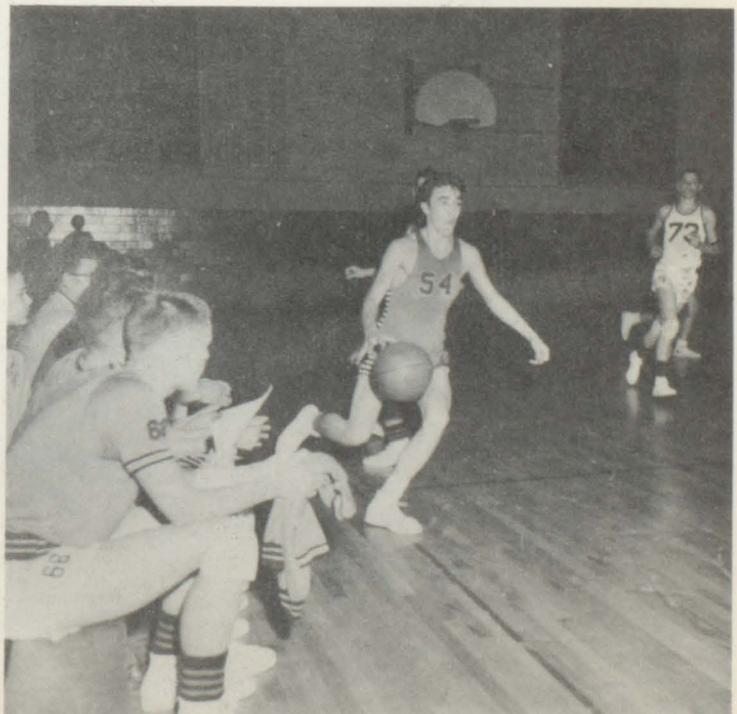

The Orioles, lacking in height and bench strength, dropped their first four games before breaking in the winning column.

The team played some terrific games and some poor ones. The one you will remember most is the 67-64 victory over Reading. This was probably the Orioles best game. The game was tied but Reading managed to go ahead at the third quarter mark 53-50. Soon our determined Orioles came fighting to take it back.

The Orioles finished fifth in the Conference and for the third straight year finished second to Bronson in the district tournament.

Harold Brazee was the high scorer for the Orioles this year with 234 points, followed closely by Joe Daniel with 231 and Jim Rockel with 219.

It was, by no means, a great season, if you measure success in the won and lost column. The reserves this year failed to win a game; but we prefer to measure the success of a season by the improvement of the ballplayers, what they learned and the sportsmanship they showed.

Heartbreak plagued the squad. Game after game was dropped by one, two or three points. The high point of the season and the biggest disappointment both came in the same night against Reading on the latter's floor. Second for second, point for point, the Orioles battled on even grounds with the Rangers; then in the second overtime period, Reading squeezed out a victory over our Orioles.

Mr. Barr's ball club was predominantly a young crew. There are several outstanding prospects that will be bringing glory to Q. H. S. in the years to come.

Junior High Basketball

The Junior High basketball team, under the coaching of Mr. Masters, won 4 of their scheduled 10 games. The squad included 20 players.

The fate of Quincy's basketball teams in the future depends on these boys. The squad will lose 12 players, as they will become freshmen next year. They should make up a good freshmen team and add strength to the Reserve team.

Track

TOP ROW: Jeff Holcomb, Larry Himebaugh, Larry Rogers, Roger Hall, Jack Pidcock, Coy Woodard, Fred Germaine, Ron Hyslop, Allen Watson, Fred Watson.

These boys, with Mr. Barr as their coach, attended the Berrien Springs Track Meet where they were awarded the runner-up, two-mile relay, and medley relay trophies. For the third straight year, the Orioles won the Conference Championship. Don Anderson broke the record at 15:9 in the high hurdles with Jim Rockel taking honors in the lows at 21:8. The medley relay team—Joe Daniel, Don Anderson, Louie Wilcox, and Larry Parker—broke the school record when they ran 2:42, while Wayne Gripman dashed off a 2:08.5 half mile. Harold Brazee, with his 4:33.5 mile, made his bid in the annual Champion of Champions Track Meet on Memorial Day at Kalamazoo University. This speed is recorded as being faster than the existing Class "C" record.

Anderson, Rockel; Gripman,

Baseball

A tie for second place with Union City in the Little "C" Conference baseball race enabled this year's Quincy team to finish the highest in league play since before World War II days.

Coach Oberlin's Orioles compiled a record of 5 wins and 2 losses for a very successful season. Quincy remained at the top of the league for the first four games.
