1963 VIKING

Bronson Community Schools Bronson, Michigan

Volume 33

Foreword

To provide an authentic record of this school year, we have tried to recount many of the events which have occurred during this brief interim. With the use of pictures to help narrate the story between the lines of copy, we hope to create a true and accurate picture of Bronson High School in realistic form. We now wish to present the "Viking of 63."

Private Citizens and Cooperate to Bronson's superintendent of schools, Mr. Gareth Heisler, holds a position of great importance since he must keep both the high school and the elementary schools running efficiently and with as little trouble as possible.

Working with Mr. Heisler is his secretary, Mrs. Marie Tracy, who helps to accomplish many of the major tasks involved in keeping the school in running order.

Professional Teachers Run School

Responsibility for keeping our school running smoothly rests in the hands of principal, Mr. William French. Both pleasant and unpleasant tasks arise daily to keep Mr. French busy almost every minute in school. Some of his activities include advising students, meeting and talking with parents, visitors, and businessmen. He is also advisor of Bronson's Student Council.

Mr. French operates the new intercom system put into use this year.

Mr. Brusak begins each day by writing excuses for those who have been absent previously.

Assisting Mr. French with his duties, Mr. Brusak has little free time during school hours. Besides carrying responsibilities of our school, he acts as counselor for students seeking advice about their futures. To make his school day even busier, Mr. Brusak teaches Civics and Economics to B. H. S. seniors.

Principal's Secretary Instructs Office Help

Office help demonstrate innumerable tasks performed.

Obtaining knowledge through actual experience is one of the best ways to learn. Girls planning to work in the secretarial field gain through performing essential tasks involved in the operation of the office.

Working in the principal's office, every girl becomes acquainted with such jobs as typing letters, stencils, and bulletins. They also help keep records and help the secretary in receiving people.

Mrs. Smith, secretary in the principal's office, gives instruction to the girls.

Mrs. Nova Ray (left) and Mrs. Donna Brusak (right) discuss daily schedule together. Both members of Commercial department teach typing in addition to shorthand and bookkeeping, taught by Mrs. Ray. Both hold a Bachelor of Science degree from Western Michigan University.

Class concentrates on typing warm-up.

Sophomores Get Into Swing of Things

MISS PATRICIA CHISHOLM, Advisor

Although they have no senior trip to work toward, the sophomores have been hard at work with money making projects. This year they had charge of the coat check along with having record hops, and various other activities. Class advisors were Miss Patricia Chisholm and Mrs. Eunice Martin. Class officers are: President, Larry Kibiloski; Vice-President, Wilfred Bercaw; Secretary, Cheryl Freeman; Treasurer, Patty Cossairt; and Student Council Representatives, Tim Wilson and Terry Wilber.

ROW 4: Doug Crabtree, Dan Sebalj, Ken Norton, Fred Rosenau, Larry Ellis, Florian Ludwick, Jr., Terry Piatt, Chuck Green, and Dennis Lash.

Wrestlers Have Banner Year

Our varsity wrestling squad breezed through a fine season making a record of eleven wins and two losses.

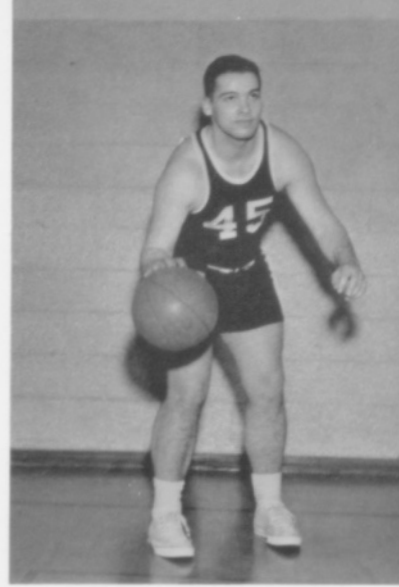

In the regionals tournaments, Bronson finished a very strong second in a field of fifteen teams, losing the championship to Sturgis. Seven wrestlers went to state tournaments in which Richard Cummings placed third.

With prospect of having five lettermen on the team next year, Bronson Vikings had season with overall record of six wins and ten losses for 1963. They held a conference record of six wins and eight losses. This record gave Bronson fifth place in "Little C."

One bright spot in this season was a near upset of arch-rival Sturgis. After an earlier drubbing, our Vikings nearly upset Sturgis losing by only one point.

Admission to Bronson Varsity Club which tries to uphold good sportsmanship is gained by receiving a varsity letter in a sport. Advisors for club are Mr. Whitcomb, Mr. Zabonick, and Mr. Atkocunis. Officers are: President, John Smith; Vice President, Don Kehoe; Treasurer, Don Owens; Secretary, David Rubley; and Sergeant of Arms, Jerry Morgan.

Varsity Club Promotes Good Sportsmanship

A traditional event, the Sno-Ball was held at Christmas. Dellaura Alger, elected queen of the affair by students of B. H. S., was crowned the night of this semi-formal dance. The contestants were escorted by the junior man of their choice. The junior class sponsored the dance.

Students Elect Sno-Queen

Contestants and escorts surround Queen.

Queen Dellaura reigns for one night.

Rose Bassage, Nancy Woods, and Ruth Ann Longworth rip through "Ain't She Sweet."

Hal (Glenn Rissman) shouts to musicians, "I said, 'Lift it!'"

Bad news for JED records and Nancy.

Dave (Carl Utterback), Edna (Jean Meyer), and Jerry (Ben Sosinski) convince Nancy (Susan Malovey) to sing brother Hal's song.

*Seniors

Happy
Romantic
Comedy*

Nancy sings "Someone for Me" to Jerry during curtain call.

Seniors' presentation of the comedy "Upbeat" brought attention to the world of music and people associated with it. The story involves a small record company trying to make good, but not getting anywhere and a young girl singer who was a failure in show business because of her lack of confidence. Her brother Hal, ambitious song writer, tries to get his own success through her, but he ruins both their chances. The combination of drama and humor makes this story interesting and enjoyable.

"This is where I belong, if you want me," says Nancy to Jerry.

Homecoming Festivities

Boys crash through to win.

Susan Malovey registers bliss when presented with Homecoming crown. Jerry Morgan and Mr. Heisler did the honors.

Viking band plays and marches for Homecoming festivities.

Seventh grade have first place float with theme "Peanuts."

Tenth grade wins second place with "The Lone Ranger."

Pep Club takes second place with theme "Donald Loses to Daisy."

Juniors Present
"Ghosts Go West"

Before the night is ended, the old man is suddenly struck down and hauled off to die in the desert.

Doreen and her friends find themselves trapped in the old ranch house.

Dead bodies suddenly appear, and live bodies silently disappear.

At sundown, Caleb Jones walks amid the faded markers of an abandoned cemetery and weighs an awful secret. The secret involves the nearby ranch of his long-dead buddy, Big Joe Jude, a ranch recently inherited by Joe's granddaughter, venturesome Doreen.

Who is behind the murders? Could it be Ma Clanton the mysterious person who is alive in the past?

"Go on, Hogal, your curse will never come true!" say the fairies.

The curse did come true. The people of the Kingdom Of Thence went to sleep for years upon years.

Speech Classes Present
"Sing Ho for a Prince"

After three princes had tried, Prince Valor makes it through the hedge to kiss the Princess and to break the magic spell that kept everyone asleep.

BHS Students Attend Summer Conferences

Bernadette Bodine, chosen a representative of our school, attended Girls' State at the University of Michigan.

Lynn Meyer was chosen to attend Camp Emery.

Max Slisher, Ben Sosinski, and Carl Utterback carry on a conversation as they might have while attending Boy's State at Michigan State University.

Carolyn Read, D. A. R. girl, dreams about college.

Winner of the Homemaker of Tomorrow award, Nola Lane, sews up a future.

Louella Blue, chosen a representative of teen fashions, stands proudly.

Students Receive Recognition

Student Council

Bronson's Student Council is of prime importance to its school. This Council provides representation to all students and makes possible lower cost participation in most activities. Many worthwhile projects are supported by this Council.

Thespians Take Part in Dramas

Thespian Troupe #620 received its charter from the National Thespian Organization in 1955. Under the direction of Miss Chisholm the troupe promotes higher standards in dramatics, school, and community life. Thespians support the children's play presented every year by speech classes. The annual banquet presented by the juniors for the seniors, Drama Day at Kalamazoo, and the National Dramatic Arts Conference held at Indiana University were a part of this year's activities. Officers are: President, Max Slisher; Vice President, Carl Utterback; Secretary, Susan Malovey; Treasurer, Kay Walker; and Scribe, Sondra Fischer.

Publications Staff Honored by Quill and Scroll

Quill and Scroll is an honorary society open to juniors and seniors who have done outstanding work in high school publications. Only students who are in the upper third of their class are eligible for membership in this group.

Two Connies Edit Hi-Times

News editors for Hi-Times show enthusiasm.

News reporters Pat Ritter, Helen Carpenter, Linda Barclay, Reg McCreery, Linda Blasi, Paula Haywood, and Joanne Crum work under direction of Carole Wilson, editor.

Literary group headed by Jeanniene Stuckey is largest. Reporters are: Glenda Croy, Pam McCreery, Cheryl Freeman, Joyce Bopp, Diana Berry, Phyllis Junker, Jan Ulrich, Louise Mayer, Shirley Smith, Jackie Pierucki, Rose Smith, and Violet Smith.

Sharry Wilber and Del Laura Alger, art editors, admire a layout.

Production staff; Joanne Crum, Lillian Cary, Phyllis Rubley, Linda Barclay, and Janice Wiler. These girls assemble and distribute the Hi-Times.

Typists work to cut stencils for Hi-Times. Girls receive one-fourth credit for the year.

Viking Staff Struggles to Bring Out Yearbook

Co-editors, Nola Lane and Carolyn Read, converse with Mr. Shook, advisor, about a new way to set up dummy for annual.

Subscription editor, Lyn Houtz, and his group of workers discuss the possibilities of high annual sales.

Louise Mayer and Max Slisher, sports editors, decide upon the copy for sports section of annual.

Nora Lane, senior editor, and Bernadette Bodine, activities and organization editor, discuss future prospectives.

Sondra Fischer, advertising manager, explains the arrangement of advertisements to group of co-workers.

JCL Studies Roman Culture

Learning more about Roman culture and languages is the purpose of Junior Classical League. Under the direction of Mrs. Rittenhouse the group led an active year of discussions and participated in the annual convention and Roman Holiday.

FNA Stimulates Interest in Nursing

Future Nurses is an organization whose primary function is to interest high school girls in the field of nursing. Such interests were developed through field trips to hospitals and monthly meetings. Activities in which they participated were record hops and sponsoring of two students to work at the Community Health Center in Coldwater.

FFA Chooses Sweethearts

Finding newer and better methods of farming is the main purpose of the Future Farmers of America. Under the direction of sponsor, Mr. Charles Hilton, this group chose two girls to reign as F. F. A. Sweethearts at a party given in their honor. Other activities included taking various field trips and attending the International Livestock Show in Chicago.

Programs for Thanksgiving, Easter, and Christmas were among the activities of this year's choir.

New Director Takes Over Vike Band

Members of the band experienced many changes and innovations under the new leadership of Mr. Dwight Gardstrom.

Performing at all home football games, playing at basketball games, presenting concerts such as the Marching Festival in Ann Arbor, and taking pleasure trip to Detroit to see "Chamelot" were some accomplishments of this year's Viking band. Several members entered the District Solo and Ensemble Contest. The band practices daily to prepare itself for all of its activities.

Majorettes: Mary Jo Emerson and Judy Crum

Majorettes Pep Up Marching Band

Doing a fine job of leading Bronson High's marching band during football season and marching contests were Drum Majorette Rose Bassage, with majorettes Mary Jo Emerson and Judy Crum.

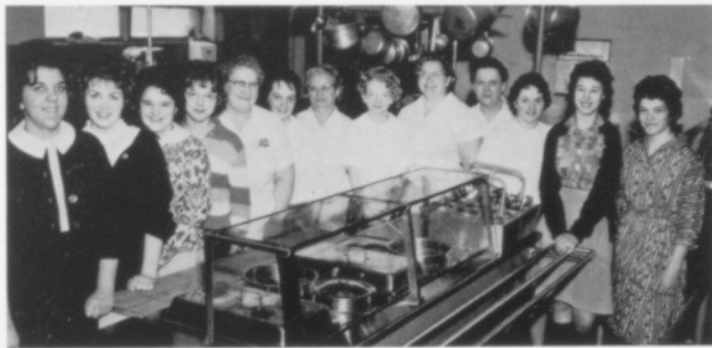

Mary Jo and Judy have completed their first year as majorettes while Rose ends her third, the last two as Drum Majorette.

Drum Majorette: Rose Bassage

G.A.A. — Busy and Interesting Year

Under the leadership of Mrs. Norma Whitcomb, this year's Girl's Athletic Association stimulated interest in activities and sports for girls. These activities included suppers for basketball and football teams, sponsoring record hops, Sports Night and a camping trip in the spring.

Bowling Still More Popular

Under the leadership of Mrs. Norma Whitcomb, Girls' Bowling consisted of several students who learned the techniques of bowling. Due to the size of this year's league, there was bowling two nights a week to accommodate the thirteen four-girl teams. Teams competed each week and all participated in a tournament at the end of the season.

YFC — Promoter of Religious Standards

Y. F. C. is organized for the promotion of high religious and moral standards of living for students in Bronson Community. Featured at its weekly meetings are guest speakers, discussion panels, and several movies throughout the year. Pianist is Kathy Tice and President is Doris Hilliar.

Members discuss plans for the next meeting.

Viking Cheerleaders Have Lots of Pep

Raising and maintaining school spirit at high level is chief purpose of cheerleaders. Working through summer and attending summer camp, this year's squad has done a swell job of boosting Bronson's spirit and morale during football, basketball, and wrestling seasons. Mrs. Whitcomb was advisor for the girls for first semester, and Miss DeDona was advisor for second semester. From left to right are Jan Ulrich, Lila Fair, Shirley Welch, Dellaura Alger, and Susan Malovey.

Cheering our reserve teams toward many victories was one task this year's reserve cheerleaders performed well. By putting forth much effort plus hard work, they kept both school spirit and interest of B. H. S. fans at high standards. Mrs. Whitcomb was advisor first semester, and Miss DeDona was advisor second semester. Left to right are Judy Kain, Judy Houghton, Linda Blasi, Sandra Kain, and Judy Haylett.

Pep Club Encourages Interest in Sports

"Getting in there and yelling for the team" was the main objective of this year's Pep Club. Under supervision of Mrs. Whitcomb, this club was responsible for summer training courses for the cheerleaders. Money-making projects included selling of booster buttons, megaphones, and sponsoring record hops.

Officers this year are: President, Lynn Meyer; Vice-President, Judy Blain; Secretary, Helen Cary; and Treasurer, Lillian Cary.
