Coldwater High School

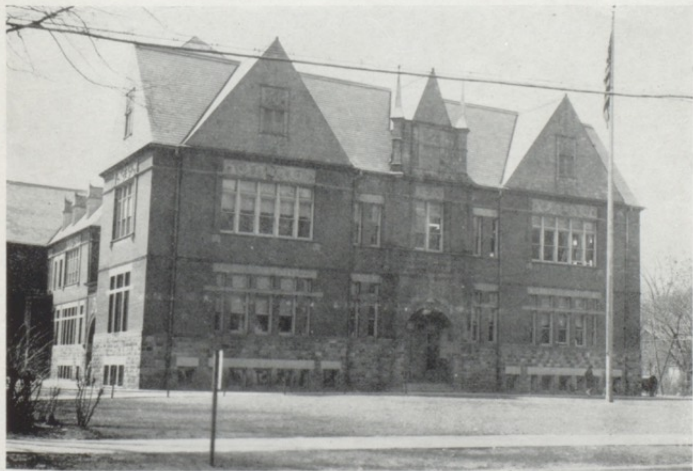

CHS
1947

Having passed through this phase in our training, we leave CHS behind to you, the undergrads and our teachers. No longer will you see us race importantly down the corridors, nor will we be seen in these well-known class rooms; but in the days that we were here, we had a lot of fun and we think it's a swell school. We, of the staff, hope that this 1947 Cardinal will serve to help you remember the scores of good times all of us had here, as well as familiar faces and personalities, and that the book will remain a lasting monument to the days we spent here.

COACHES

of 1947

Top to Bottom: Mr. Eby, Mr. Laughlin, Mr. Grigg

DEDICATION

We, the Cardinal staff of 1947, dedicate this year's annual to the coaches of our school. Amid the chaos of our modern world, the importance of athletics cannot be overemphasized. Competitive sports offer an ideal outlet for the energies and enthusiasm that are stored up in an adolescent boy. Moreover, athletics foster a spirit of brotherhood and comradeship among young men. Despite changing values in a changing world, our coaches have upheld the highest standards of superior sportsmanship. We salute them.

Coach Floyd Eby

Mr. Eby returned to his C. H. S. coaching duties in the spring of '46, after 2 years of creditable service as a Navy ensign. Coach Eby is largely responsible for the 1947 Championship which the C. H. S. cagers snared. Mr. Eby's genial personality has made him the idol of the student body.

Coach Reed Laughlin

Mr. Laughlin joined our coaching staff in 1944. He spent 1 year as head coach and 2 years as assistant coach. His reserve teams have copped many an impressive victory. Mr. Laughlin will be head coach in Basketball at Port Huron next fall. The student body will miss this kindly coach.

Coach Bertrand Grigg

Mr. Grigg has been a member of the faculty for 19 years. He has done a quiet but important job in coaching the boys of Junior High in football and basketball. His contribution has been inestimable.

Russell Green

Mr. Green, wise and witty instructor of mathematics, coaches CHSers in track and tumbling.

Axner Olson

Mr. Olson is to be commended for his able direction of our extensive intramural program for three years.

MR. KING

(Superintendent of Schools)

Mr. King, our dignified superintendent, graduated from the Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti in 1906. He has continued in administration ever since, with the exception of six years which he spent in character education work in Detroit and New Jersey. He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Michigan in 1918, his master's degree in 1923, and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, Honorary Education Fraternity in 1923.

His duties include general supervision and direction of educational work in Coldwater schools.

When not engrossed in education, Mr. King finds time to be active in many organizations. He belongs to the Masons, the Rotary Club, the Bon Ami Club and the Country Club, the Michigan Education Association, the National Education Association, and the National Association of School Administrators. His hobbies include gardening, bowling, golf, and books.

ADMINISTRATION

The School Board

The school board consists of 5 local business men who are interested in school affairs. This board meets regularly once a month and holds special meetings when necessary. The duties of the school board consist of collecting and dispensing with revenue, selecting the teaching personnel, and other general administrative work. The necessity for better transportation being realized this year, the board purchased our familiar school bus. For the first time in the history of C. H. S. two full time coaches were hired.

MR. THOMAS

(Principal Senior High)

E. Byron Thomas, genial principal of Roosevelt High, was graduated from Albion College with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1927. He took his Master's Degree at Northwestern University in 1935. He did graduate work at the University of Michigan during the summers of 1938 and 1945. He taught high school for 4 years before beginning his 19 years of administrative work. He was elected to Phi-Delta Kappa Honorary Educational Fraternity in 1928. He is a member of the Masons, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the Michigan Education Association, the National Education Association, and the National Association of Secondary School Principals. His hobby is reading anything in print.

MR. DENNIS

(Principal Junior High)

Kermit Dennis, easy-going Lincoln High principal, graduated from Adrian College, where he majored in Science, in 1931. He took his Master of Arts Degree in Educational Administration at the University of Michigan. He taught Science at Coldwater High School for 14 years, and has been principal for 2 years. He is a Mason, a Presbyterian elder, president of the Southwestern Michigan Guidance Association. His many hobbies include Photography, hunting, fishing, carpentry, and reading mystery stories.

A Tribute to Mrs. MacFarlane

We are all very sorry to see Mrs. Viva MacFarlane, our Home Economics teacher, leave us. She has been in C. H. S. for twenty-six years, but because of an illness is unable to continue teaching.

We would like to express our appreciation to her for her excellent instructions and for the cheerful and friendly manner in which she taught.

Co-operation and Comfort

Thomas Carlyle said, "Co-operation is an art and the following steps are essential for development of that art: coming together is a beginning; keeping together is progress; working together is success; thinking together is victory; let each become all that he was created capable of becoming."

All life should be a struggle, a striving, and an aspiration, and one's last day should be one's best and happiest.

There is a constant stir in the soul when there is struggle going on; when too much comfort sets in, dying begins.

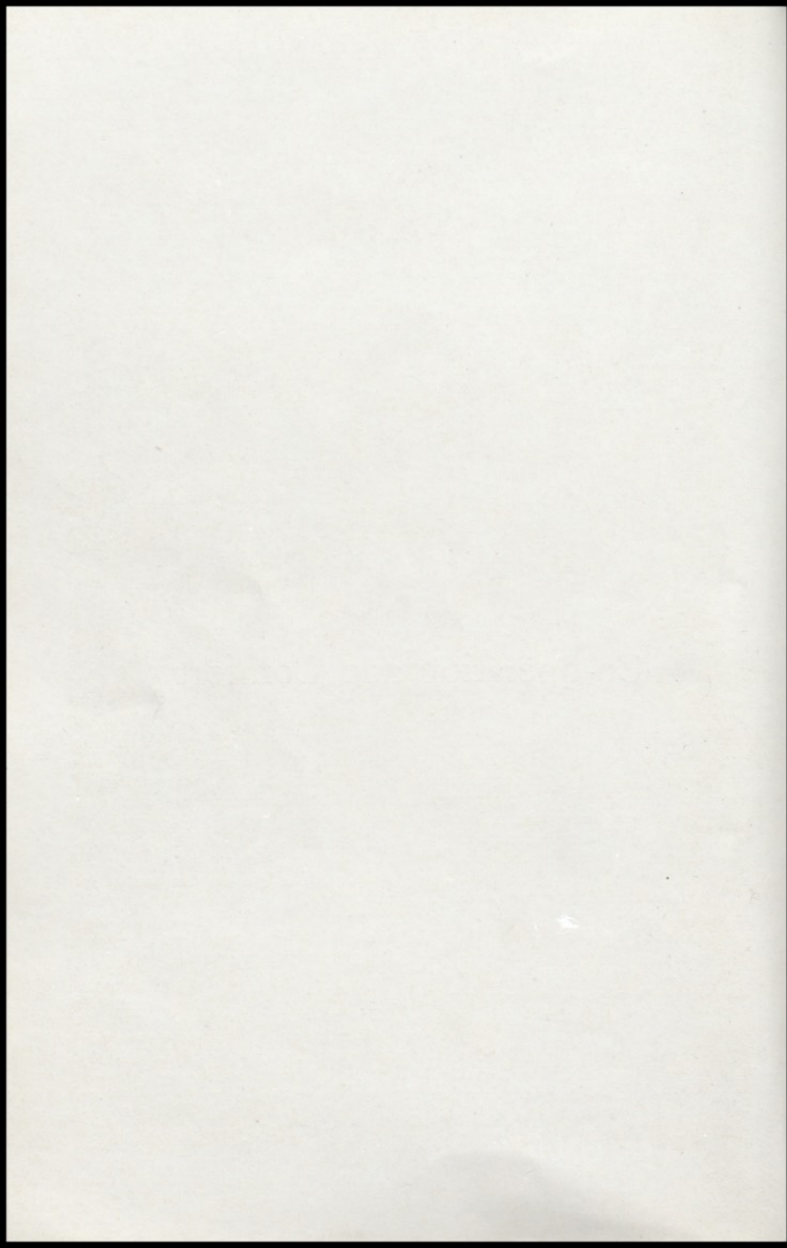

We associate too much with our equals. We ought to seek our superiors. The thing that spurs one on is to get the satisfaction out of growth. The thing that keeps ambition alive, and incentive warm, is constant fighting and contact with superior forces that defeat all slumbering and ease of life.

The way to a long and happy life is to keep on living, to keep on working, and to keep on thinking. There is nothing very satisfactory in the mere sitting in a comfortable room, looking out of the window, and just watching the world go by, thinking that you are living in comfort.

The only kind of comfort worth striving for is the comfort of soul that comes alone from active service, helping to make this a better world, and helping to make people and nations freer, happier, and nobler.

Around And About

1947 Class Ode

by Jack Healy

Toward the tumultuous din and strife,

To keep our rendezvous with life;
Into the monumental arena of the world

We go with banners of hope unfurled.

May the promise of youth be not betrayed;

May we mend the worlds our fathers made.

May youth's bloom be not blighted
by war's pain

Ere to its dregs life's cup we drain.

Class of 1947

Chronicles of the Senior Class

In September 1942, we, the Class of '47, took our scared-to-death bodies into the big Junior High and proceeded to uphold the old tradition of reverencing the big Freshmen and being thrilled each time one of them spoke to us. But, as the year wore on, we became more confident and no longer felt as lonely as we had at the beginning. We chose our class officers: president, Marjorie Byers; vice-president, Dick Baum; secretary, Martha Snyder.

The first thing we did in the 8th grade was to elect Bob Milliman, Wilbur Noel, Jean Mills and Mary Vinton our class leaders, and we also undertook selling magazine subscriptions to buy a radio victrola.

When we arrived at our Freshmen year we were the big confident leaders of the Junior High and were enforced by the rural students who joined our brigade to become graduates of C. H. S. At this time the boys in our class began to pay attention to the girls and we got over our clumsiness. The boys made up the future basketball, baseball, and football teams and were we proud of them! At this time we sold magazine subscriptions again to buy folding bleachers for the gym. Perhaps they will put the money toward the new field house.

The crossing of the court didn't come soon enough for us and we found ourselves in the same boat as when we had entered the Junior High—scared to death not only of the Juniors and Seniors but also of the Faculty. The sophomore reception made us no longer strangers with the others and we got into the step of things. We then elected Clyde Gilbert, Bob Milliman, Ramona Thomas and Don Linn as our class officers.

On March 30, 1946, we presented "Papa is All," as our Junior Class Play, and with a cast of six it turned out to be a great success. Our officers that year were: president, Larry Olmstead; vice-president, Frances Walters; secretary, Peggy Best; treasurer, Jack Healy. Co-operating with the Class of '46 we put on an excellent Junior-Senior Banquet—in fact I think it was the best one yet. I can still taste that good chicken gravy.

We, the class of '47, began our senior year with a big bang. We chose Francis Walters as president of our class; Beverly Haylett, vice-president; Jean Mills, secretary, and Jeanette Corless, treasurer. Bob Milliman was elected as Mayor of the High school, and Larry Olmstead, Senior Commissioner. This year many of us worked real hard on the Cardinal and the Mirror staffs, and the rest of the school ought to bow mighty low to us. "Thank you, folks."

We presented "The Green Light," with a cast of 9 under the direction of Anne Gwatkin. This was also a great success and made lots of money for our Washington trip.

Our class won honors not only in quality but in quantity. We hope the school misses us 'cause we'll miss it.

Valedictory

Tonight's program marks the reaching of a goal by the Class of 1947 of Coldwater High School toward which the eyes of its members have been focused for many years.

Commencement opens the door to a wider and fuller life. Through this door is life with its ever present challenges, a proving ground upon which is proven the soundness and permanence of the foundation which we have acquired through our education. Life will show up the good points of our education but also the weaknesses and flaws in it.

The thrill and pleasure that come with the attainment of our objective is tempered, however, by the realization that while this is commencement it also marks the end to many of the pleasant things and associations which have become a part of our lives while in school.

Ended are the daily contacts with the members of the faculty, some of which we owe so much, not only for the instruction that they have given us but for the help and advice and the time they have given so willingly for our well being. Gone are the classrooms we have spent so much time in. The gym, and the football field where we have spent so much time cheering our teams on to victory, or supporting them in defeat, are gone to us as members of the student body. The many friendships which we have made while in school will always remain in our minds even though the paths we follow cross infrequently or not at all.

History teaches us that the heroes of the world are the ones who, after obtaining knowledge, overcoming obstacles, achieving success, are not content to settle down in peace and enjoy the rewards of their efforts, but restless, unsatisfied, press on, always seeking new worlds to conquer. We must strive to be like them.

As we go forth from here tonight we are eager to try our wings, so to speak, in the world, to test the theories and knowledge which we have acquired during our school days. We go out, not with arrogance and boastfulness, but with the confidence that comes from feeling we are well prepared in those things essential to happy living and good citizenship.—WILBUR NOEL

Salutatory

... There are four prerequisites to success: Ability, ambition, personality and knowledge. Schools today strive to help the student use his ability to the most advantageous manner; to encourage him in his ability; to aid him in the development of personality; and most important, to assist him in securing knowledge. In order to do this successfully, many schools have broad-

D. A. R. Girl

Each year, the senior girls elect a member of their class as D. A. R. girl. The qualifications this girl must meet are courtesy, industry, honesty and co-operation, and the girls make their choice with the approval of the faculty.

Martha Snyder received the honor of being D. A. R. girl, '47, and we're proud of her. She was presented with a D. A. R. medal at a banquet held in the Arlington Hotel, and in February she attended a D. A. R. convention at St. Joseph.

The Shape of Things To Come

Prophecies

We find Lois Adams in Iceland, very contented, teaching the seals how to balance balls on their noses.

Ben Alexander is on the third hill over at Kalamazoo, because he has no more girls to conquer, as Alexander the Great.

Charles Andres runs an electrical shop and his charges are quite revolting.

Howes and Barnes have a lot in common.

Alice Bates is trying to set the world on fire by singing torch songs in Algeria.

Dick Baum is ballet master of the Bloomer Girls, and we hear he's pulling down about $30 a week.

Harold Bradley owns a pickle factory; we hear it's quite a dilly.

Margie has a store with plenty of Byers but no sellers.

Ed Callahan is a deep sea diver and just recently we heard he hit bottom.

Marion Cantrell has a radio program sponsored by Texacola, the drink that gives you gas.

Mary Ellen Cole has committed bigamy by marrying the King Brothers so she could be in the "King Cole Trio."

Carrol has a new business known as the Carrol Combs and Brushes, Inc.

Joyce and Jeanette have purchased bows and arrows so that they may become the Corless Archers.

Helen Davis has perfected an ointment for bookworms, to be taken internally.

Benjamin and Leonard have opened a card casino and their motto is "An honest deal in every pack."

Duane Dillon has just returned from China after making a successful trip in his new invention, the earth-worm car.

Marilyn Donbrock is on the point of a breakdown. For years she has been trying to find the sixth sense.

Art Donkin is the new bass in the chorus that sings "Have you tried Wheaties," etc.

Pat Donkin has finally decided that the only way she can improve her shorthand is to cut off her hands.

Leo Dollar has entered the foreign ministry so that he can practice dollar diplomacy.

Floyd Doty is a great crusader for the rights of termites.

Ruth Van Dyke and Marilyn Eggleston have just opened up a Window Washing Service. Their motto is: "We clean them high or low."

Margaret Enos has invented a new perfume, Blooming June.

Ruth Ferguson is now living at old MacDonald's Farm.

Pauline has gone to France to make the French authentic.

John Fuller has been made vice-president of the Fuller Brush Co., in charge of traveling salesmen.

Doris Jean Funderburg has just returned from her initial trip to the moon. She attributes her success to the attention she paid in her chemistry class—attention to the moon, that is.

Rex Furgason is still shoveling coal and it isn't at the Co-ops.

Mary Lou Garman, who has always been popular for her bulletins, now sends daily dispatches from Little America.

Spoof Gilbert has given up raising dogs and started raising children.

The two Grays, Barbara and Shirley, are lost in a blackout.

Charles Gruner has a poultry farm that is really chick.

Treva Hall married a man by the name of Fame and now they have little Halls of Fame.

Lawrence Haskell has invented a new kind of soap, and he is all lathered up about it.

Prophecies Continued

Beverly Haylett was so amazed at the Rocketts in New York that she stayed on and is now the main attraction.

Pat Hays owns a glue factory. The idea originated one day while she was in high school visiting the chemistry room.

Jack Healy is conducting a survey to find out how much beer is consumed in Australia as compared to the number of marriages in the United States.

Don Holley is trying to convince society that, not only is it a Christmas custom but also an all-year-round tradition to have Holley around.

Jane Hurley is now taking Dick Tracy's place, since she found out she had a broken nose.

Shirley Ivey is a commando. We guess he's really a creeping ivy now.

Betty has invented a new cough drop. Its motto is "Don't Kauffman, cough less."

We see Don Linn is rolling in money after having retired from his laughing record business.

Wilma isn't Loose anymore, for we see she is pretty well tied down.

Frank Lucas, who is in charge of neon signs, was all lit up the other night.

Carolyn Lyman's fifth husband is singing. "Come to me, my melancholy 'Babe'."

Elsie Lynd, who loves to go bowling, was seen yesterday on a sit-down strike.

Barbara Mead is a hat designer, and her latest creation has made its debut on a recently finished skyscraper erected by Maurice McCollough.

We were pleased to learn that Bill McCurley has gone straight.

George Maxwell and Mary have been discovered to be the latest drips in the coffee business.

Irene Michael has just made a lot of money selling her carrot-top hair dye.

Vaughn Miller is a tree surgeon and he really barks up quite a few trees.

Bob Milliman has finally made the decision to be a bachelor. He never Mrs. anyone.

Jean Mills has had a body of water named after her—the ol' Mill Stream.

We find that Blackie Morrill has joined the fire department so he can be always Russian too.

Clint Newsbaum is in India, giving permanents to the Hindus. We noted he had a Wave to help him.

Wilbur Noel is writing epitaphs on tombstones.

Ivan Nutt has a wife named Hazel.

Larry Olmstead has improved the milk business by pulls.

Max Omo is still trying to get the point of "The Razor's Edge."

Barbara Paradine is now a prosperous haberdashery proprietor. Her speciality is the "bean-ie."

Ralph Pfost, one of the leading Branch County farmers, is raising cane.

Robey has invented a Darlene new hair style.

Janet Robinson is still laughing at the prophecies of '47.

Marcella Saltzmann is writing commercials for Belcho Coffee, the drink that comes back to give you added flavor.

Billie is learning how to cut meat. Her speciality is Shanks.

We found that Alberta Sowles shoes.

Martha Snyder has invented a new girdle for any horse contemplating coming in first stretch.

Joan Spade is found digging, as she is a push-over for gardens.

As for Stickap, Emery has married his 13th wife, and is raising his kids in Gilbert's garage.

Betty Stiles for Vogue.

Alan Swain is still giving his mother a weekly beating for 40c to go to the show.

Don Swart is in Turkey, learning a new strut.

Ramona Thomas is modeling hose at Kerr's Hardware.

Mary Vinton is operating the crane for the Vinton Construction Co. This is quite a dig.

Francis Walter has just written a book entitled, "The Inside Manners of a Doctor."

Virginia Watson has gone in business with Sherlock Holmes.

Dave Weaver has invented a new kind of bomb. It's really quite gastric.

Anywhere you go throughout Russia, you will see Dot Weideman upon the billboards, advertising Vodka No. 4.

Kenny Westbrook has a new offspring, and he's doing very well.

Nina Whitcomb is the head manager over the manager of the Fremont Kroger Store.

Gladys Williams has taken to interior decoration, since the late cyclone destroyed her chicken coop.

Bradley Yearling has started a new shoe store in Africa. He sends to all parts of the world his famous, size 13½ snake-skin shoes.

We BEQUEATH to YOU, the BEREAVED . . .

I, Lois Adams, will a card of bobby pins to Coach Eby so that he can put his hair up and make it really curly.

I, Nancy Adams, will a one year subscription of the Coldwater Reporter to any Junior hard up enough to collect a half-cent a pound for it.

I, Ben Alexander, will my nickname, "Paddle Foot," to Willard Schlubatis.

I, Charles Andres, will a life's subscription of the Coldwater Reporter to Mr. Renshaw.

I, Joan Barnes, will a dictaphone to Mr. Rice so he won't have to come to class.

I, Alice Bates, will my summer vacation in California to Shirley Simmons.

I, Pauline French, will my ability to erase errors in typing class, without being caught, to Pat Todd, who has not yet perfected the art.

I, John Fuller, leave nothing, being broke.

I, Doris Jean Funderburg, hereby do bequeath my bottle of glue, that holds me so fastened in the office until 6:30 nightly, to Claire Newberry, who seems to be an industrious young thing.

I, Rex Ferguson, will my ability to drive on the right hand side of the road to Mr. Barnes.

I, Mary Lou Garman, will my "graceful bodily swing" to Dorothy Aitchison.

I, Spoof Gilbert, will my fortune to be old enough to shave to Marvin Rosenberg, so he may take care of his younger classmates as I do.

I, Barbara Gray, will my ability to see something cute about "Janie" to Leroy Cox.

WILLS Continued

I, Shirley Gray, will my ability to drive to Lois Hollister.

I, Charles Gruner, will my seat in study hall to anyone who can't find a softer place to sleep.

I, Treva Hall, will to the faculty all the information that I have furnished them from time to time in my various examination papers—knowledge which I am sure must have been entirely new to them, too.

I, Lawrence Haskell, will my ability to get along with freshmen girls to anyone who likes to get in by twelve.

I, Beverly Haylett, will my nickname, "Legs," to anyone who thinks it is a compliment.

I, Pat Hays, will the gazelle boy to my cousin, Pat, so that she too may learn to run 50 miles an hour.

I, Jack Healy, bequeath my idealism to any underclassmen who has a suicidal urge.

I, Don Holley, bequeath my apologies and my copy of "How to Win Friends and Influence Girls" to Mr. Newman who has more need of it than I do.

I, Joan Howes, will my job of ushering at the Main Theatre to anyone who wants tired dogs.

I, Jane Hurley, will my giggle that does the whole scale at once to anyone who would appreciate it.

I, Phineas Ivey, being of sound mind, do hereby will my ability to dance to Dean Murphy.

I, Betty Kauffman, will my place behind the coke bar to anyone who wishes to help out during the games and dances.

I, Robert King, will the will I didn't will to anyone who will need it.

I, William King, will to the best of my ability, an ideal agricultural student, to Mr. "Farmer" Barnes.

I, Donald Linn, will to all future athletes an insurance policy, if Coach Eby continues to drive the school bus.

I, Wilma Loose, will my ability to go with one man to Virginia Whitcomb.

I, Frank Lucas, will to Miss Gwatkin, a tube of Pond's lipstick, because it stays on and on and on.

I, Babe Lyman, will my maroon Chevy to anyone who can get any of the boys into it.

I, Elsie Lynd, will my ability to chew gum to Mrs. Hudson.

I, Maurice McCollough, will a stop watch to Mr. Green so he can find hidden track talent at noon in the halls.

I, Bill McCurley, will my ability to get along without a car to any Junior who is in the same fix I am.

I, Mary Maxwell, will my fourth hour in Mr. Eby's office to any girl interested in typing.

I, George Maxwell, will my seat in Government class to any up-and-coming senior who wants to argue with Mr. Newman.

I, Barbara Mead, will all my safety pins to Willard Schlubatis to help him keep his clothes up while dancing with the Lean Sisters.

I, Irene Michael, will my house at Kinderhook to anyone who wants to take the long way home.

I, Vaughn Miller, will my drawing equipment to Jack Stevens.

I, Bob Milliman, will my office of Mayor to some strong, healthy, and alert Junior who wants to have his health broken and hear a lot of complaints.

I, Jean Mills, will my fleet back to the Navy for future emergencies.

I, Marvin Morrill, will to Mr. Renshaw, a recording set so he can sleep with the rest of us.

I, Clinton Neusbaum, will my space in school to Kilroy.

I, Kathryn Nickerson, will my good memory to Mrs. MacFarlane.

I, Wilbur Noel, will all the neighborhood dogs to anyone who wants to flea the country.

I, Ivan Nutt, will my bell hop job at the Arlington Hotel to Mr. Newman so that he can be on hand to escort Miss Gwatkin to her dinner table.

I, Ralph Pfost, will my ability to play ping pong to Coach Eby.

I, Darlene Robey, will my excess plumpness to Virginia Swantek, who needs it worse than I do.

I, Janet Robinson, will my will to anyone who will will it next year to Will Stansell.

I, Marcella Saltzmann, will my desk in 2nd and 4th hour study hall to anyone who likes to write letters.

I, Billie Shank, will to Mr. Green some of my excess weight.

I, Alberta Sowles, will the pupils of my eyes to the teachers, in the spring time. ((No empty class rooms)).

I, Martha Snyder, will my horse to anyone who wants to get a big kick out of life.

I, Joan Spade, will the empty Pepsi bottle in my locker to anyone who has something to put in it or who needs two cents.

I, Junior Stickan, will Coach Laughlin a safety pin for future embarrassing moments.

I, Betty Stiles, will to quiet Tommy Smith, my position at the telephone office so that she may hear the gossip and tell everyone else.

I, Alan Swain, will my ability to drive to Coach Eby. With this and Linn's policy, the C-Club bus will be in safe hands.

I, Don Swart, will Mrs. Aitchison a hearing aid to pick up the slightest whisper in the front of the study hall.

I, Romona Thomas, will my book, "How to Stay Single," to anyone who's thinking of taking the fatal leap.

I, Ruth Van Dyke, will my height to Miss Baumann.

I, Mary Vinton, will my hair-do to anyone who can get a bang out of it.

I, Francis Walters, will to Mr. Newman, a big, red handkerchief, so he can leave the Kleenex to the girls.

I, Virginia Watson, will my position as mascot of Otto's Bowling Team to any underclassmen with Tuesday nights free.

I, Dave Weaver, do hereby bequeath my ability to get out of 2nd hour study hall, to Mr. Bond.

I, Dorothy Weiderman, will my ability to sneak to Hard's to all candy lovers.

I, Kenny Westbrook, will my will to anyone who can make a better will than I can.

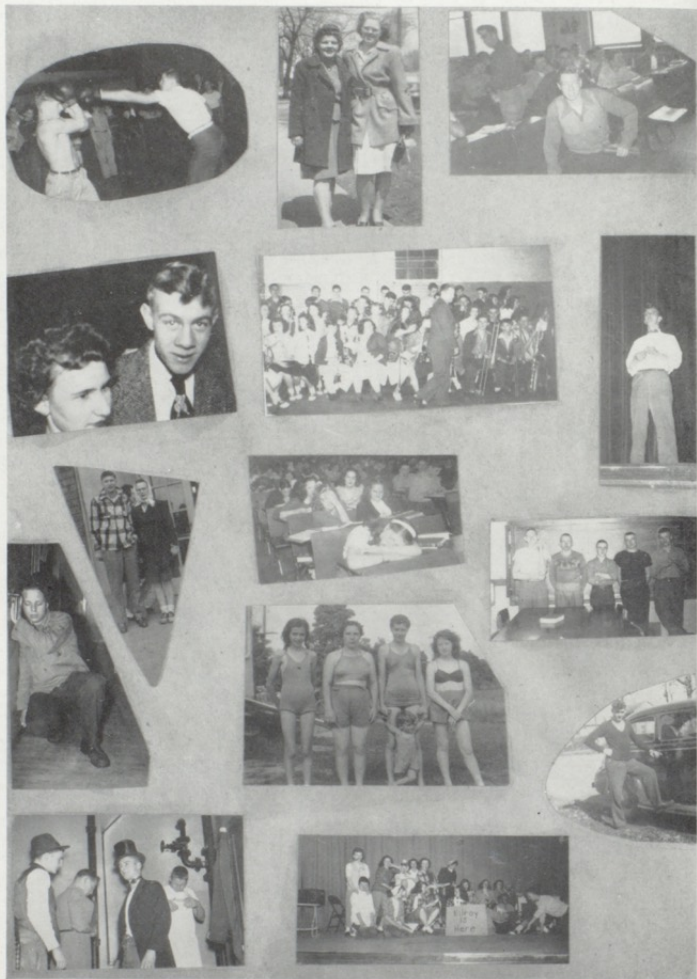

I, Nina Whitcomb, will my girdle to any of the track team who wants to make a long stretch.

I, Gladys Williams, will to Mrs. Aitchison my ability to give anyone fifteen minutes penalty room for being one minute late.

I, Bradley Yearling, will my 240 pounds and 6 feet, 2 inches to Dickey Gilbert.

Class of 1948

This year the class of '48 elected for its officers John Soncrant as president; Charles Thomas as vice-president; Pat Hayes as secretary; and Dick Moore as treasurer. The class elected Onnalee Davis to represent them in the Student Commission and Janis Lampson as clerk. When the commission increased its membership by three members (one per grade) Wade Smith was elected to the other office. Students too numerous to mention served on many committees throughout the year. All these people did a swell job for their school and class this year.

The two main events of the year were the Junior Play, Hilarity House, which was a big success. This play was mainly to provide funds for the annual Junior-Senior Banquet, given by the Juniors. This year the Banquet was different in many ways. The theme for decoration was music. A great deal of time was put in by the committees and Mr. Renshaw in the preparation of the banquet. New in entertainment was the waltz exhibition put on by some juniors who were directed by Mrs. Aitchison. There was a dance following the dinner and entertainment with Don Newey's band from Olivet. The number one social event of the year was a huge success.

The class sponsored two dances. One on November 1 and the other one on March 28, following the play. The class also sold pen and pencil sets at four dollars each. All this was to build up the treasury and pay for the banquet.

The Junior class closed a very successful year and will be back next fall for another even more successful one.

Just as we had reached the peak of superiority as freshmen in junior high last year, we were cast into the lowest state of existence (at least in high school), but it didn't take us long to get into the swing of things.

We elected as our president Eugene Sowles, who has done a wonderful job of running things this year. The other class officers include vice-president, Don Smith; secretary, Glen de Havens; treasurer, Robert Luce. Richard Dick was our Sophomore Commissioner and Jane Morgan, our only girl officer, was chosen as another representative from the sophomore class to serve on the Commission. Our class advisors were Mr. Newman and Miss Gwatkin.

The first thing we knew, the seniors were honoring us with the "Sophomore Reception." To show our appreciation we put on the Christmas party, which we called "The Mistletoe Ball." This turned out to be a great success.

The class has staged two super assemblies, both of which were for the two Lakeview basketball games. We sponsored a "Hardtimes Party" April 13th, which turned out to be one of the best parties of the year.

MR. AXNER OLSON, B.S., Science, Math.

Mr. Olson is a Nimrod and an angler. His most memorable experience was his visit to the New York World's Fair.

MISS ILDA PHILLIPS, B.S., Business

Miss Phillips' wanderlust makes traveling her prime interest.

MR. C. ALFRED RICE, B.S., M.A.,

Stenography, Typing, Bookkeeping, Commercial Arithmetic, Commercial Law, School Placement

Mr. Rice derives comsummate pleasure from training successful office workers and placing them in suitable positions. He spends a great deal of time working on the high school books. He has a passion for outdoor sports, particularly trout fishing in Northern Michigan.

MR. OSCAR RENSHAW, B.A., M.A.,

Economics, Sociology, American History

Mr. Renshaw's hobby is re-finishing furniture. He is also interested in set designing, and has been stage manager of many C. H. S. dramatic productions.

MISS MILISSA SEMMELROTH, B.S.,

Civics, Mathematics

Miss Semmelroth's lofty standards of learning has started many C. H. S.'ers on the road to scholastic success.

MR. BERTRAND SIBLEY, B.A., M.A.,

Chemistry, Physics

Mr. Sibley hails from New York State. He attended high school in Saginaw, and received his college training at the University of Michigan. He is renowned for his genial smile and sardonic sense of humor. His hobby is wood-working.

MISS VIRGINIA SMITH, B.S., Chorus

Miss Smith enjoys helping young people find an emotional outlet through music.

MISS ROSE STEFFANIAK, B.S.,

English, Spanish

Miss Steffaniak has taught every grade in both Junior and Senior High. Her interests include reading, cooking and serving as a nurse's aide.

MRS. JANE VANAKEN, B.A.,

English, Dramatics

Mrs. VanAken, a native Coldwaterite, is a graduate of Coldwater High School. Her favorite hobbies are knitting and reading.

Honorable Mention to:

MRS. HERBERT SEBALD gave a lot of time voluntarily to teach the Biology Class the art of first aid. She did a fine job, and, for a climax, her pupils gave the high school a demonstration.

MRS. LOLA NELSON substituted for Miss GERTRUDE MOORE, the Latin teacher, who was in Florida during the winter.

MR. JACK ELLIOTT, who taught World History and American Government, left the last of October to fill a position at Michigan State College. Everyone (femmes particularly, was sorry to see him leave.

ened their curriculum to include more subjects of interest to more people . . . Not only is it necessary for high schools to have a good curriculum; they must also have an efficient teaching staff, adequate facilities, and high standards in all fields. . .

In the battle of mechanical versus cultural education, there is much to be said for both, but it is our opinion that to be successful one must combine the two.

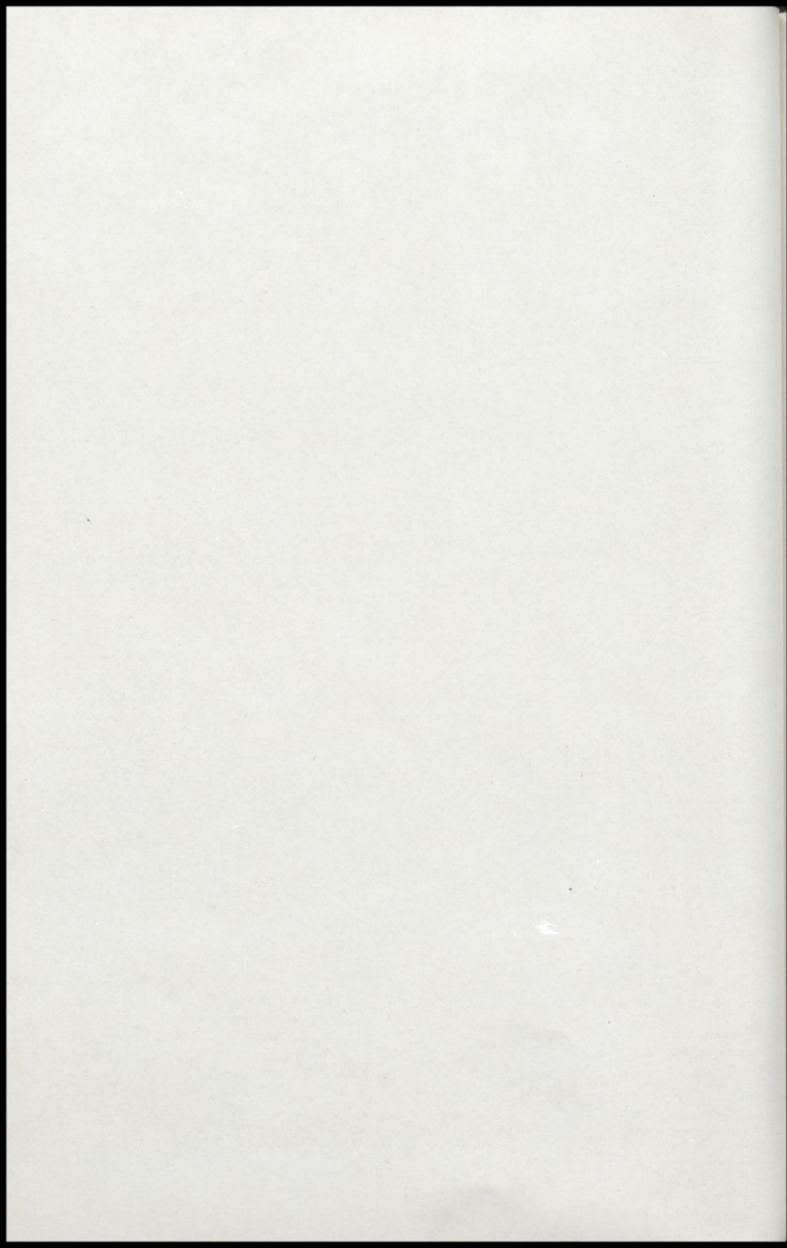

Could we, without mechanical aids, run the farms of hundreds of acres that are necessary to feed our people? Could we weave the millions of garments that we must have to keep our people clothed? Could we communicate from coast to coast in a matter of seconds, or travel the same distance in a matter of hours? . . . These, along with millions more, constitute progress. Without progress little of importance is accomplished.

All of this mechanical education, however, is of little value without a cultural background . . . In order to appreciate the full value of great inventions and discoveries, in order to have the benefit of the knowledge of past experiences, in order to understand uses for these marvels, one must have a cultural education. Life is a selling game. You sell either your inventions, stoves, automobiles, farm products, your ability, your knowledge, your brains, your ambition, brawn or your time. You must convince other people of the merits of the thing you're selling, and to do this, first of all you must sell yourself. One needs a cultural background to do this, and as civilization is a high degree of culture, we must prove that we are cultured before we can claim to be civilized . . .

We believe that for a well-rounded life, it is necessary to have both—the mechanical education and a cultural education. This, then is what schools today must strive for . . .

“The next time you pass a school pause a moment to think what that school means to humanity. Recall the long, dark centuries when the masses were kept in ignorance — when greed and oppression ruled the world with an iron hand. From the very beginning of man's struggle for knowledge, self-respect and the recognition of his inalienable rights, the school has been his greatest ally. We refer to the school as ‘common’ because it belongs to us all; it is ourselves working together in the education of our children. But it is a most uncommon institution. It is democracy's greatest gift to civilization.”—Courtesy of NEA

Roosevelt Commission

A student government of the people, by the people, and for the people was headed by Bob Milliman, Mayor; Janis Lampson, Clerk; Bill McCurley, Senior Commissioner; Onnalee Davis, Junior Commissioner; and Richard Dick, Sophomore Commissioner.

Something new was tried this year. Each member of the commission visited one of the neighboring schools and made a study of their government, from which they learned many things.

Another innovation was brought into being when a vote taken to determine if the students wanted three new members added to the legislative body. The vote was passed unanimously and the three new members were installed immediately. They were Larry Olmstead, Wade Smith, and Jane Morgan.

Probably everyone has noticed that hall monitors are no longer on duty. The commission decided that the hall monitor system should be abolished, and the students rewarded the commission's confidence in them with flawless conduct.

Members of the commission were in charge of the following committees: Assemblies, Bill McCurley; Social, Onnalee Davis; Citizenship, Janis Lampson; and Athletic Police, Richard Dick.

Lincoln Council

FRONT ROW: Mr. Dennis, Marabeth Selby, Joyce Schlubatis, Jim Rhodes.

This year the Junior High Student Council has been very active. The body is composed of two students from each of the seventh and eighth grades, and three from the ninth.

The year was started by launching a magazine sale which was made possible by the Curtis Publishing Co. The students sold $1450 worth of subscriptions, from which of this $120 was spent for prizes, the balance to be used to install an inter-room communication system.

Later in the year the Council planned a Junior High party for the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades. The eighth grade also put on two parties through the Student Council, and the seventh grade did likewise.

During the second semester, an assembly was presented, featuring Junior High talent.

In the early days of spring, the Junior High students had a clean-up day which consisted of the picking up of paper around the two buildings, raking the lawns, cleaning desks and dusting bookshelves.

Two tours were planned, that the students might visit the Municipal power and water plant this year. We think the Student Council did a wonderful job and we hope that they continue to have success in the future.

Poems about the Cardinal Editors and Staff:

Doris Jean had to shuffle
 Through a lot of duffle
 To pick the best stuff
 —it was really tuff!

Jack H. was after things dif
 To make the Cardinal teffif.
 Dave Weaver used many tricks
 To make folks smile while taking pics.
 Dorothy Weiderman wants her name in,
 So we add it with a grin.

Pat Donkin was really frantic until
 She got each senior to hand in his will.
 If you saw Jack Rowe all tense,
 It's cuz it's hard using common cents.
 Ramona worked herself dead on "Snaps,"
 And at her funeral they played "Taps."
 Larry Olmstead and his cohorts
 Wore themselves to a frazzle writing up sports.
 Alice Bates worked like a beaver
 To make the features real cleaver.
 Claire Newberry, who worked on clubs,
 Now thinks of them all as dubs.
 And the rest of the staff?
 Why they worked 'til they were daff.
 Everyone ran around pell-mell
 To turn out a Cardinal that's really swell.
 And it is my bet
 That folks will say, it's the best yet!

The Cardinal Staff—1947

The Cardinal staff this year has done a great job. This staff sponsored the Coronation which occurs like Christmas, but once a year, and is quite a gala event. The crowning of the queen and the king of the senior class is held at this time.

The most important thing done by the Cardinal staff, of course, is the sensational year book, which is put out every year. This year Doris Jean (better known as D. J.) Funderburg, as the Editor-in-Chief of the Cardinal, has done one grand job. Hats off to D. J. Funderburg!

P.S. Thanks loads, staff. I certainly appreciate the swell job you did, especially the ones who burned the midnight oil. — D. J.

Trials and Tribulations of the Press

This year the Mirror staff has striven to make our school paper a pleasing combination of conscientious news coverage and entertaining features. The Mirror has achieved complete coverage. Most important news events have been reported in advance. Not only has the Mirror reported the news but it also attempted to develop potential writing talent in the student body. By upholding better standards of high school journalism, the Mirror has performed all the important functions of a newspaper. Under vigorous leadership the Mirror has been a guide to constructive thinking about school policies and activities.

Believe it or not! it happened. What happened? Every night (well most every night) Monday through Friday, promptly at 7:00, the kids in the cast hurried back stage to take their places for the endless task of rehearsing "The Green Light."

The big problem that had to be overcome before the cast could go to work was the heat proposition. For the first few nights the kids nearly froze to death, with everyone standing around in his coat, sneezing and coughing like mad. After speaking to Mr. King, we got the heat we needed. (That was before Lewis stirred up his ruckus). The rest of the rehearsals went smoothly. It took the girls a while to get used to the lights being turned off and it took a few days for Alexander's shin to heal up after he fell over the divan in the dark. But other than that, everything was fine.

The play was presented to a large audience, November 22, at 8:15. The scene of the story was a New England home where Aunt Mattie lay in a coma. Her family gathered to help solve the mystery of her sudden illness, and of her sister, Hattie's death. The play proved to be a great success, and the cast and directors, Miss Ann Gwatkin and Miss Virginia Smith, assisted by Alice Bates, are all to be commended for one of the best plays ever presented by any senior class.

On March 23 the Junior Class of 1947 presented a three act comedy entitled "Hilarity House," by Jay Tobias.

The plot centered around two sisters, Betts and Kathie Jordan, whose rich Uncle Jeff promised to leave them his money, providing they dressed and acted just as he wanted them to. Jeff went to St. Louis to see a heart specialist and the girls decided to have one final date while he was away. But Jeff surprised them by coming back unexpectedly. Catching them with their dates, he swore he was going to disinherit them and leave everything to his old sweetheart's children. The girls prevailed on their boy friends to help them in their crisis by dressing up as the Devine girls to fool Jeff. Meanwhile Dora Devine came and they discovered that the Devine girls were really boys. Dora and her son turned out to be criminals after Jeff's money, so the girls were made his heirs after all. One unforgettable character was Lucindy Peck from Cabbage Neck, who stole every scene she came into with her "mournful gab."

Everyone worked hard, but they thought it was worth the effort.

The cast featured Bill Fitch as a cantankerous Westerner; Wandalee Quimby was a scene stealer as a Calamity Jane type of middle-aged maid. Valerie Kennedy and Jean Wright were highly decorative as two teen-aged young ladies, while Jack Stephens and George Keyes, as their suave suitors, doubled in female impersonations. In the role of a gold-digging Lothario, Jack Rowe was a "natural." Bob Brickey was a convincing delinquent, and Janis Lampson was amusing as her primly, diabolical mother. Barbara Robinson played the girls' distraught mother with dignity and pathos.

The masterful direction by Miss Anne Gwarkin and Mr. Lloyd Newman contributed immeasurably to the high quality of this dynamic production.

The Girl Reserves

The Girl Reserves can now look back upon a very successful year under the leadership of the club president Mary Vinton and the other officers: Jean Wright, vice-president; Joyce Jividan, secretary; and Jane Hurley, treasurer. Miss Gwatkin was the advisor in the early part of the year and Mrs. Hudson served as advisor later on.

A rather stiff informal initiation began the year for the new members, but somehow they all managed to survive. This was followed by a very solemn formal initiation.

In the line of service, the girls took tickets at games and did Red Cross work. They also gave out prizes in the Halloween Parade for the Chamber of Commerce.

On the social side, the G. R.'s sponsored the "Spring Swing," a very classy dance, featuring Don Newey and his band from Olivet College.

This group of girls also put on two fine assemblies as a group for the students of Coldwater High School.

In February, Mary Vinton and Pat Donkin journeyed to the district conference at Battle Creek from which they secured very valuable information about what other clubs are doing and projects that these girls will be able to do.

At the end of the year the girls gathered up all their old clothes and the Home Ec. club remade them for those who are less fortunate than ourselves.

The Hi-Y formally initiated 22 new members on October 22 at the Baptist Church. When Jack Elliott took a position at Michigan State College, Mr. L. V. Newman replaced him as club advisor.

Mr. Drewry, Secretary of State Hi-Y, visited the club in the fall. He gave the boys a talk and answered their questions about building a better club.

The Hi-Y put on one good assembly and had a float in the Halloween Parade. Several of the dances that were held in the Roosevelt Gym were sponsored by the Hi-Y.

Some of the members helped direct traffic and hand out programs at the football games.

FRONT ROW: Robey, Miss Baumann, Combs, Whitcomb, Robey, Loose, Rossler, Gary.

The first Home Economics meeting of this school year was held on September 19, 1946. At this meeting the following girls were elected to take the positions of honor and to guide the club through an eventful year:

President	-----	Nina Whitcomb
Vice President	-----	Barbara Paradine
Secretary	-----	Carrol Combs
Treasurer	-----	Darlene Robey

The old members, along with thirty new members, accomplished among other things, the production of two very successful assemblies, the sponsorship of a baked goods sale, and a box social.

The girls spent a good deal of time working on the conversion of the club into the Future Homemakers of America. This club corresponds to the boys' Future Farmers of America.

This year Miss Ruth Baumann was the club advisor.

SECOND ROW: Omo, Williams, Wagoner, Strong, Harvey, Loose, Lylot, Hoogenboom, Taylor.

FIRST ROW: Bradley, Maxwell, Pfast, Fergason, AcMoody, Harvey, Nutt, Garman, E. Taylor.

The men of the soil had a very successful season. They began the year by initiating sixteen new members, and in October a program of work was set up. A basketball schedule was arranged and the officers for the club were elected later in the fall.

During the year many talks and movies on various aspects of agriculture were presented, and in March a livestock demonstration and a public speaking contest were held at Union City. Our local public speaking team was awarded third place. Later in the spring a sheep shearing demonstration was held, at which Bill McCurley and Charles Gruner won the state contest. The planting of a three acre F. F. A. forest followed this.

The F. F. A. basketball team played several Twin Valley schools and won seven of the ten games played. The club sponsored several parties and put on a minstrel show.

At the beginning of the year the Junior High formed a Dramatics Club with Mrs. Van Aken as the advisor.

There was a meeting of everyone who wanted to join and the group was divided into three smaller groups, one for each grade.

The Club put on five plays during the year. One Little White Lie, and Who Gets the Car Tonight, were presented in general assemblies.

“Calling All Girls” Club

The “Calling All Girls” club was organized during the first part of April. The eighth grade girls had heard about other C. A. G. organizations throughout the United States, and thought it would be a good idea to start one in Coldwater. The organization is based on the Calling All Girls’ magazine.

Some of the activities include swimming, dancing, hiking, bicycle picnics, camping, anniversary and birthday parties, sewing, cooking, style shows and doing Red Cross work.

Twenty girls are active in the club at the present time, and the club officers are:

President	-----	Jean Davis
Vice-President	-----	Frances Harris
Secretary	-----	Margaret Sherman
Treasurer	-----	Madge Tappenden

The girls are planning camping trips for the summer months.

New York to Washington

"All aboard," shouted the conductor, and with these two words, fifty-four seniors started on the 20th annual Washington tour, one of the most scenic and educational trips throughout the United States. The party arrived at Niagara Falls by train on Saturday, April 26, and from there toured New York City, Baltimore and Annapolis, Maryland, Washington, D. C. and Mt. Vernon. Ample time was given the students for their individual enjoyment, to be spent as they wished, as well as planned group activities, which included a trip to Coney Island, Radio City Music Hall, important official buildings and Museums. The trip was one to be remembered always, and never could the wonderful times be expressed in words. This was one of the rewards of twelve years of labor.

Debate Team

The debate team opened their season by going to Albion, losing both the affirmative and negative debates.

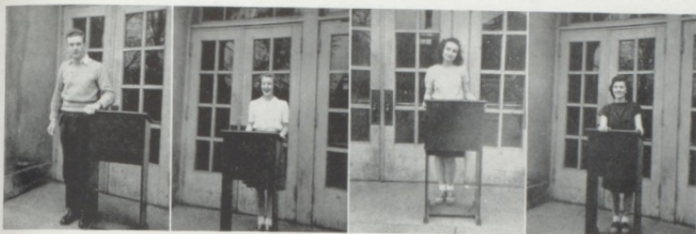

Next stop for the debaters was Hillsdale, where they won the affirmative debate but lost the negative tilt. The third debate was here with Sturgis; again the affirmative won while the negative lost. The fourth debate, here with Hillsdale, won the affirmative but again lost the negative debate. The final debate was here with Lakeview. Up to this time Coldwater was tied for third place in the Twin Valley League, but upon defeat of both the affirmative and negative debates, Coldwater lost their chances for the District Contest.

Coldwater debaters this year were Marilyn Smith and Margaret McLaughlin for the affirmative, Jack Rowe and Barbara Robinson for the negative. Miss Anne Gwatkin coached the group.

On April 15 of this year, Miss Gwatkin and four of her speech contestants journeyed to Albion to participate in the spring oratorical contest.

Francis Walters, a senior, won third place in extemporaneous speaking; he talked about the Russian question.

Joan Donkin, a sophomore, placed third in oratory declamation with an oration concerning individual enterprise, entitled "An American Idea."

Marilyn Smith and Onnalee Davis, both juniors, who participated in dramatic declamation placed fifth and sixth respectively. Marilyn gave a selection from a play by Arch Oboler entitled "The Women Stayed Home." Onnalee gave a portion from Rachel Lyman Field's "The Fifteenth Candle."

Although none of the group won first place, they all gained invaluable experience.

4-H Club Members

4-H Club work is for boys and girls between 10 and 21 years of age and it gives them an opportunity for new experiences and wholesome contacts in the field of agriculture and home-making. This organization provides projects which include work with livestock, poultry, crops, clothing, handicraft, farm machinery, electricity, canning, foods and conservations.

This year's program included worthwhile activities such as a leadership training meeting, a social meeting, an achievement program, a picnic and a 4-H Club Fair.

Three members of the sewing club in C. H. S. won some outstanding awards at the Spring 4-H Achievement program in 1947. These girls were: Wilma Loose, the delegate to the State 4-H Style Show, and Joyce Schlubatis and Shirley King who were named on the County Honor Roll.

1947 Coronation

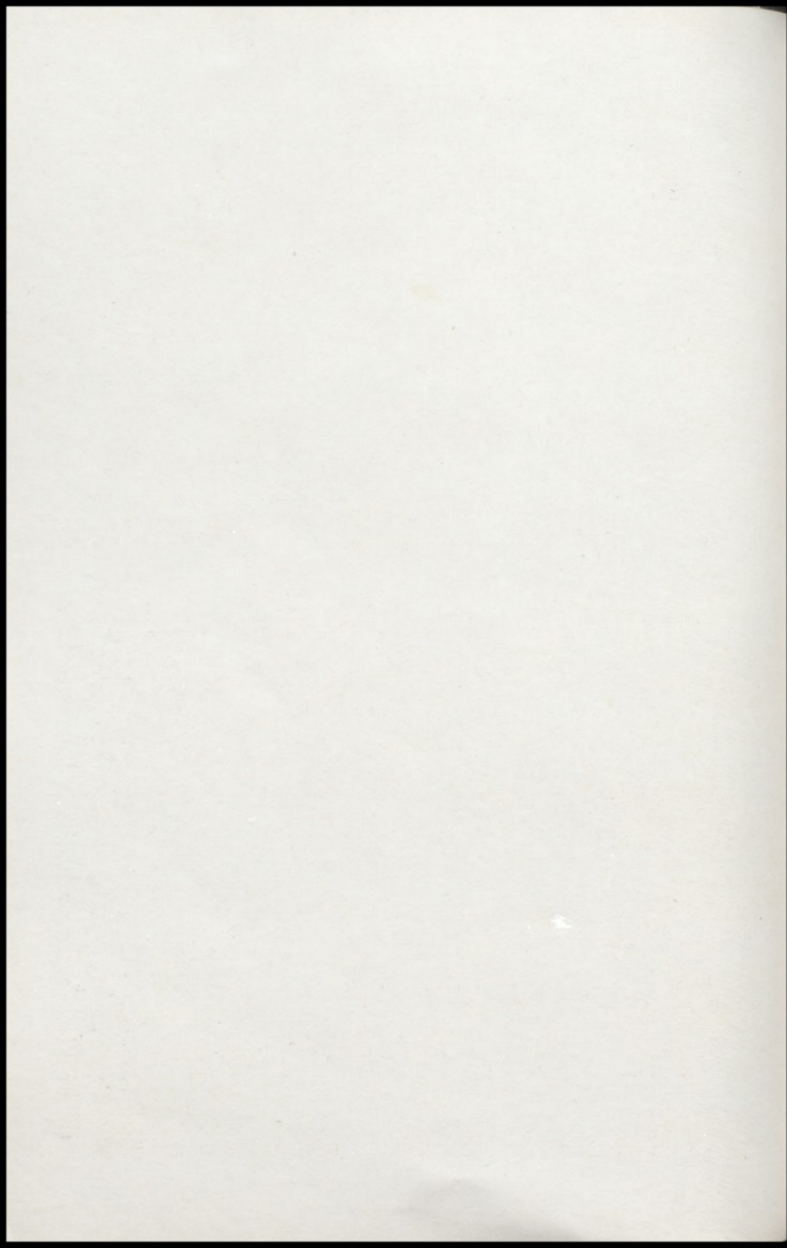

On April 11, the King and Queen of C. H. S. were crowned at the annual Coronation, a pageant of music and beauty. Eighty-six students participated in this Cardinal-sponsored affair which turned out to be a huge success. Mr. Eby and Mrs. Hudson reigned as Master and Mistress of Ceremony while Alan Swain and D. J. Funderburg crowned Larry Olmstead and Dorothy Weiderman as Their Majesties. The Royal party and the court were entertained later in the evening by dancing, skating, songs, and a comedy act—all school talent. The second half of the evening was devoted to dancing for all in the royal ballroom with music by Bert Hitchcock and his orchestra. The celebration was one of the largest affairs of the year.

MUSIC

MUSICAL REMINISCENCE

"A" Band

1947 proved to be an active year for the A-Band. The students played at all home, basketball and football games, at two out-of-town football games, one out-of-town basketball game, and at a home benefit game. They took part in the Band Festival at the annual Branch County 4-H Fair, played and maneuvered at the St. Joseph County Fair, and took part in the District Marching Festival at Benton Harbor.

The Annual Concert was presented in March, and at Kalamazoo, Coldwater won second place in the District Contests. At the state contests in Ann Arbor, third division was our rating.

In May the musicians went to Holland to the Tulip Festival. As a climax of the year's activities, the band will participate in the Memorial Day parade.

"B" Band

This year the B-Band numbered 62. Due to the unusually large number of students from both Junior and Senior High, Mr. Bond found it impossible to organize them into one class. As a solution to the problem he divided the band into two groups, one of which came each day. For the second semester he combined the groups.

The B-Band took part in the annual Concert on March 13 and 14 and in the Memorial Day parade on May 30.

Twirling Corps Reviewed

This year the twirlers of the A-Band were quite busy. They led their band in all parades, at the football games, and at one basketball game. They also twirled at Benton Harbor, Kalamazoo, and at the Holland Tulip Festival.

This spring the twirlers wore their new uniforms which are white with red trim and gold epaulettes. These were made by Mrs. Carls, who was presented a plant from the girls at the annual Band Banquet on May 9.

The twirlers of the A-Band are Charles Thomas, Drum Major, Patricia Kaser, Betty Stephenson, Joyce Carls, Jean Snyder, Marion Lincoln, and Nancy Robinson.

Due to an operation in the first of this year, Jean Snyder has been unable to twirl this spring.

The fifteen members of the Junior Chorus, and the twenty members of the Senior Chorus have been very active this year. Most of their time was spent in listening to records, learning to appreciate all kinds of music, and of course, in vocalizing. The girls took part in the Christmas program, the grade school operetta, and they will also participate in commencement exercises.

Six songbirds of the Senior Chorus formed a High School Sextet. These girls are: Alberta Sowles, Marjorie Byers, Bar-

As an added attraction to C. H. S., a number of boys were to be seen in the auditorium at noons, and these fellows who made up the boys' chorus did a swell job entertaining us all at one time or another.

FOOTBALL SEASON REVIEWED

"We're fighting for you, C. H. S.," starts our school song, and to whom do these words fit more than our football team? Nobody fights harder and with more spirit and determination to win than the boys who wear the football uniforms of C. H. S. These lads put up a good fight against all opponents, and on the night of a game, no matter what the odds are, they fight to the best of their ability to win for the members of our high school.

COLDWATER 7 THREE RIVERS 7

After three weeks of conditioning practice and signal drill the Cards opened their season, September 20, traveling to Three Rivers to battle to a 7-7 tie with the opposing eleven. Three Rivers scored early in the first period and held the Cards scoreless until early in the fourth quarter when our fighting eleven rolled up seven points to tie the score.

COLDWATER 6 LAKEVIEW 27

On September 27 the Cards played host to a fast and powerful team from Lakeview. The Spartans, sparked by the fast and hard-running Cummins and Baker, scored 20 points in the first two periods and 7 more in the third before the Cards were able to move down the field and score on a pass to Swain. The final score was 27-6, and the battle proved to be Coldwater's worst defeat of the year.

COLDWATER 13 HILLSDALE 0

The Friday following the shellacking at the hands of Lakeview, the Cards traveled to Hillsdale to defeat the Hornets in a decisive battle. The first period saw the ball see-saw between Coldwater and Hillsdale, but in the second quarter the Red & White marched to their first goal and were on their way to a second when the period ended. The Cards came booming back in an attempt to score in the third quarter, but lost the ball on a fumble. In the last period the C. H. S.

"11" crossed the goal line to make the final score 13-0 in Coldwater's favor.

COLDWATER 18 MARSHALL 33

Although the victory was chalked up for the Redskins they had to fight a hard battle all the way to hold the Cards back. At one time the Cards led on a touchdown made in the first period, and throughout the second and third quarters they trailed only by 1 or 2 points. In the fourth, the Marshall team managed to penetrate our hard-charging line to win by a margin of 33-18.

COLDWATER 19 ALBION 0

The following week the Cards defeated Albion at home by a combination of passing and running that set a pace which the Wildcats could not overtake. The Cards scored in the first, second, and fourth periods, and were able to hold Albion scoreless throughout the game to win 19-0.

COLDWATER 13 ADRIAN 13

The Cards, hitting the road to Adrian, fought desperately throughout the game to grab a tied score after the Maple Leaves drew first blood as they pulled down seven points during the first period. The scoreboard read 7-6 at the half, after Swain plunged across the goal line. The Cards were again on the short end of a 13-6 score in the early part of the fourth period, but after several long runs by Clyde Gilbert and Rollie Gilbert, they drove over to tie the score 13-13 as the game ended.

The Adrian team was rated as one of the best class B teams in the state.

COLDWATER — EAST LANSING —

This year, due to weather conditions, the East Lansing game was postponed and later called off due to the unwillingness of the East Lansing coaches to co-operate with us on a date. The game was not awarded to either team.

STURGIS 0

On November 8, the Cards traveled to Sturgis to return with another victory and the Silver Football which has passed between these two schools for many years. The game at Sturgis began with a 68 yard run by Carl Lewis which was stopped just short of a touchdown. Following this run the ball changed hands several times until the Cards scored on a pass in the second period, making the score 6-0 at the half-time. At the opening of the second half both teams fought desperately but no score was made until the last quarter, when the Cards again ran a touchdown to make the final score 13-0.

This year the team won three conference games, tied one, and lost two; also they tied two non-conference games. However, due to the fact that the game with East Lansing was not played, the team was placed in fourth position in the conference standings. Had the game with East Lansing been played, and won or tied, we would have ranked second, or third had we lost.

Despite some of the scores, the Cards outran, outpassed and in general, outplayed every team but Lakeview, according to the statistics of the games.

Departing Football Cardinals

Next year's football squad is going to show a large and hard-to-fill hole as 13 boys will be leaving at the end of this year. These boys have finished their high school football careers and we are certainly sorry to see them go.

The team elected Alan Swain and Clyde Gilbert co-captains this year. Both boys are seniors, and two of the hardest working, least complaining members of the team.

Alan Swain has completed 3 years varsity service. In his sophomore and junior years, his position was end, and this year he was switched to halfback. Alan was one of the key members of the team in both positions. This year he was awarded a berth on the All-conference second team.

Clyde Gilbert is also a 3 year man. He played quarterback when in the 10th and 11th grades, and halfback this year. Despite his slight stature, "Spoof" was one of our principal ground gainers. He was given honorable mention on the All-conference team.

Clinton Neusbaum played varsity ball in his junior year and then joined the Navy. Upon his return this year, one of the strongest points in our line was his guard position. Both in offense and defense he was hard-charging and fast. Time and again he broke up opponent's plays when it seemed as if they couldn't be stopped. Clint landed a berth on the All-conference second team and also got honorable mention on the All-State team.

Jr. Stickan played guard and did an excellent job in balancing the line. Although his ambition to make a touchdown was never realized, he gave all he had while on the field. Junior, a 2 year man, also got honorable mention on the All-conference eleven.

Rollie Gilbert played on the varsity team in the '43 and '44 seasons, coming back this year to take up where he left off for his third varsity year of football. Rollie played end until this year, when he shifted to the backfield. He was awarded honorable mention on the All-conference team.

Duane Dillon, another 2 year man, and about the heaviest on the squad, played tackle. Despite his weight, Duane moved fast and was in on many plays that most tackles would have missed. In this school of lightweight boys, he was an especially valuable team member.

Ben Alexander had to miss last year's season because of a broken arm but he came back this year and won his varsity letter. "Alex" played tackle and did a fine job. He was one of the boys who could always be depended upon to come to practice and to work hard.

Marion Cantrell transferred here last year from another school where he had won a varsity letter. He was awarded a varsity letter here this year at tackle and was one of the hardest hitting men on the team.

Larry Olmstead went out for football for the first time this season, and won his letter at the guard position. Larry showed some fine defensive work and could always be counted on to work hard in practice or games.

Ed Callahan, guard, won his first varsity award in football this year. Ed was light for a guard, but he made up for this by being one of the hardest fighters on the team.

Don Holley has played 3 years varsity football. He was a fullback in his sophomore year and then switched to center for his junior and senior years. Although Don was good on offense, probably the place where he did his best work was at back and line on defense. He was a deadly tackler and more than once broke up opponents' scoring chances.

Art Donkin was one of the lightest men on the squad, won his varsity letter this year at halfback. He was always trying and working, however, and his fight largely made up for his lack of weight.

Bob Milliman, another small man, played quarterback. Despite the fact that Bob can't see past the end of his nose without his glasses, he did a good job of ball handling. In the T-formation which we used this year, much of the success of the team depends on the quarterback. Bob proved himself capable of his position.

Reserve Football

The Coldwater Reserves opened their 1946 season with a game against the Quincy Varsity, losing by a score of 19-7. However, they showed improvement by out-playing the Trojans in most respects. The Cards defeated the Albion eleven for a first victory of the season. Still showing improvement, they looked like a pretty good ball club as they chalked up a score of 27-0. The second victory came when the boys traveled to Hillsdale for a 7-0 score. The team fought a good, hard game. Nineteen to eighteen told the story of the game against Colon Varsity with CHS on top, in what proved to be their best performance of the year. The season closed with the Cards completing a winning streak with five straight victories. In another close game they avenged an earlier defeat by beating the Trojans from Sturgis.

Basketball

Twin Valley Basketball Champions

The Cardinals opened their season with a non-conference game against Colon. Because of the race-horse style of basketball played this year, 29 personal fouls were collected, but the boys came through with a 41-26 win. The game was played in our gym, December 3, only two weeks after the boys had started practice.

After two more days practice, the team journeyed to Albion to face a tall, fast Wildcat team. Although considerably shorter than the Albion Cagers, the Cards outran them to win by a 37-26 margin. Again the unaccustomed style of play hampered the Cards and they chalked up 32 personals.

The next week, December 13, the team played at home and marked up a 43-44 win over Lakeview. The Spartans had one of the fastest teams in the conference, and also one of the leading scorers. It was a very close game with the lead changing hands time after time, and the outcome was in doubt up to the last few minutes when our boys managed to pull ahead to stay. This game also showed that the team was getting used to the new type of ball, their fouls being cut almost in half.

The following Tuesday the Cardinals traveled to Marshall to meet the always dangerous Redskins. The first half saw the Cards completely outplayed. Due to the superior height of their opponents they got the ball very few times and were only able to score 4 points. As the second half opened it looked as though Eby's boys were going to get back into the game. They showed a lot of fight and sank several quick buckets, but the Redskins again got control and the game became our first loss. The final score was 35-16.

After the Christmas vacation, the Cards played host to another big team. The East Lansing Trojans were tied for second with Coldwater when they came here on January 7. Although the team fought every minute and outran the Trojans, they again had trouble getting the ball due to their opponents' height advantage. The Cards took their second consecutive defeat, 43-

36. This game was a tough one to lose and it dropped us back to third place.

On January 10, the Cards played their second game of the week on the home court. The Adrian team, back in the Twin Valley Conference after being out during the war, came to Coldwater with a highly reputed team. Despite their height, the Adrian cagers had trouble controlling the backboards and the Cards got back on the winning trail again to the tune of 51-33.

The next week the team invaded Sturgis. The boys played their best game of the year up to this point. Although the Trojans averaged slightly taller than the Cards, they were about the shortest team on our schedule. The Sturgis five couldn't keep up with our boys, either on offense or defense. For the first time in five years the Cards beat Sturgis on Sturgis' floor. The final score was 52-44.

January 17 again found the Cards away from home—this time at Hillsdale. They didn't show the same form that was evident at Sturgis, and couldn't get over a three or four point lead in the first three quarters. In the last quarter they pulled away to beat the Hornets 43-33.

Starting the second round of the season the Cards played host to the Albion Wildcats. It was a repetition of the first game with Albion. Again the Cards had to depend on speed to overcome the height advantage the Wildcats enjoyed. Albion showed a lot of improvement since the first time we met them but the Cards were also a much better team. After a slow start the Cards got under way and won a 40-25 victory.

January 31 found the Coldwater cagers at Lakeview. The Spartans were a speedy team and riding high at the time, but the Cards looked like an inspired team, in putting out one of the best games of the year. The Spartan five had difficulty getting the ball past the middle of the floor, as time and time again the Cards intercepted their passes to drive in for baskets. The first quarter showed 23 points for Coldwater, but the Cards went ahead to run up their highest score of the year. When the fireworks ended, it was Coldwater 59, Lakeview 40. This marked the Cards' fifth straight victory.

The next week the boys came home for what would undoubtedly be their toughest game of the year. The Marshall team was undefeated. This was really a game for the fans. Time and time again the lead changed hands. Neither team was able to get enough of a margin to enjoy a moment's respite. Both teams were in there fighting for the ball and it was really a fine exhibition of the cagers' art. The Cards were determined to have this one, however, to avenge their previous defeat by Marshall and to stay in the race for the T. V. crown. The final score found Coldwater out in front 36-30.

The next Tuesday the Cards played host to Angola. The Coldwater cagers were out to break the Hoosier state's reputation for basketball teams. It was another hard-fought, close battle. The Angola five showed some deceptive ball handling and made the Cards work for every point but it wasn't quite enough and the Cards ran up their seventh straight victory, 49-42.

Three nights later, on February 14, Coldwater's team left for East Lansing. Besides being bent on keeping in the T. V. race, the Cards were out to avenge their only defeat of the year. The Trojans got off to a good start and had the lead for the first quarter. Then the Cards started fighting back for a small lead at the half. In the second half they increased their lead only to see it disappear when the Trojans started connecting on some long shots. Again they fought back, and after one of the year's most exciting games, brought home their eighth straight triumph, with a score of 43-39.

The Sturgis cagers came to Coldwater on the following Tuesday. This gave the Cards only one day of practice. The Trojans grabbed an early lead and for a while it looked as if they would have no trouble in defeating the Cards. This impression was short-lived, however, when the C. H. S. team turned on the steam and forced themselves into the lead and won 52-36. This marked the first time in nearly 20 years that the Cards beat Sturgis twice in one season and once again the boys showed that they were not to be stopped by any jinx.

Three more days and the Cards were playing again. This time it was at Adrian. The Adrian cagers were determined to terminate our boys' winning streak. They started by pouring the ball through the net from close in and way out. For the first time in ten games the Cards were trailing at the half, but the mark of a truly good team is the ability to overcome all odds and to come back. Once again the team showed what kind of spirit they had as they forged back in the second half. It was an exhibition of what makes a good team a winning team. The Cards turned on all they had to beat the Maples by 11 points, 54-43.

On February 28, the Cards prepared to play their last conference game of the year, as the Hornets from Hillsdale invaded Coldwater. Due to our winning streak and Marshall's three defeats, we were the undisputed T. V. Champs. This condition might have caused them a let down but they were determined to finish the season with a victory. The Hornets put on a good passing show but they couldn't seem to connect on their shots. The final score stood with Coldwater, 44 and Hillsdale, 28. The Cards finished their season with eleven straight triumphs and at least one victory over every team they played. While losing 2 games, they won 14, a number of victories never before equalled in Coldwater's history.

In the first game of the district tournaments Coldwater drew Sturgis. After trailing through the first three periods the Cards forged ahead in the last quarter. It looked as though they had the game but then Sturgis scored on a technical foul and three long shots in a row to win with a heartbreaking 29-28. Throughout the game Coldwater couldn't get rolling. Their shots were inaccurate. After winning eleven straight and beating Sturgis twice, the law of averages seemed to have caught up with them. The boys played a good game but the odds were too great.

Coldwater High School is proud of her Twin Valley Champions basketball team!

Departing Cards

This year's Twin Valley Champion Basketball Team was composed of seven seniors, two juniors and one sophomore. It was one of the best balanced teams that basketball fans have had the privilege of watching for several years. Of the five starters, four placed among the top 15 scorers of the conference. This was especially satisfying due to the fact that before the season started, public opinion seemed to have it that the Cards were not going to have anyone capable of hitting the baskets this year. The boys played an entirely different type of ball this year and it was because of their hard work and our fine coaches that it paid off.

There are seven boys who will never again wear the Red and White of C. H. S. on the basketball court, and to these seven the whole school joins in expressing appreciation for the fine job they did this season, and in wishing them good luck in whatever else they undertake.

Don Linn has played three years in varsity basketball, and was invaluable to the team because of his fine defensive play. Time and again he broke the opponents' scoring chances and sparked the Cards to greater efforts. Don's worth is proved by the fact that the team named him honorary captain. Further proof is that Don was named captain of the mythical All-Conference team.

Rolland Gilbert was one of those who made the pre-season pessimists eat their words. Rollie finished first in the Twin-Valley scoring race with 176 points. He accomplished this without hogging the ball—a fact which adds greater prestige to the fact. Many times when Rollie could have just as well shot, he passed to a teammate who could effect a better shot. This was one of the qualities that was outstanding about the whole team. Rollie was also chosen for the All-Conference team. This marked the second consecutive year that the Cards have won two berths on this team. Rollie also played a good defensive game. He stopped a pending rally more than once by stealing the ball and driving in for a basket. Rollie was also a second year varsity player. He was given honorable mention on the All-State team.

Alan Swain was the work horse of the team. He played center, the position which takes the most running. He must be under one basket on offense and under the other on defense. Alan combined the defensive and offensive qualities in perfect proportion. He, like Linn, broke up countless plays under the basket. Swain was one of the team's spark plugs in his work under the baskets. He worked hard and got the rebounds off the backboards, often when the opponents were much taller. His offensive ability is shown by the fact that he placed thirteenth in the T. V. scoring, with 100 points. Alan has played Varsity for two years, and was given honorable mention on the All-Conference team.

Clyde Gilbert is another player who proves that the best things come in little packages. He has played 3 years' varsity and is one of the fastest men on the team. Clyde alternated with his brother at the rushing forward position this year. He had trouble connecting with his shots but he turned in a good defensive game whenever he was in the game. "Spoofers" was also quite a help as moral support and usually kept the team in good spirits, both in practice and games.

Larry Olmstead has played two years. This year he switched around between guard, center and forward, turning in a good performance at any position he played. Like "Spoofers" he sometimes had trouble connecting on his shots, but played a good defensive game. He was a hard worker both in the games and in practice.

Don Swart is another two year man. He played both center and guard and gave a good account of himself at both positions. Don had an ankle injury at the first of the season and this set him back somewhat. Nevertheless, he was a help to the team while he was playing and was a hard worker. Don was another cager who did his best work on defense.

Art Donkin completes the list of boys who will not be back next year. He has played varsity ball for two years. Another defense man, he could stick close enough to an opponent to make him work for any shots he got. Art worked hard and rarely missed a practice.

C. H. S. is proud to have been represented by these boys.

On the other side of the ledger we have three boys who will be back next year. Jack Tighe, a junior, and Eugene Verlin Sowles, a sophomore. Both of these boys ranked in the top 15 T.V. scorers. Tighe was fifth with 134 points and Gene was fourteenth with 99 points. Both boys played equally well on defense and offense, and were hard workers. Jack was named on the second 5 All-Conference team, and was given honorable mention on the All-State team. Dean Murphy, who is a junior, transferred here from Elkhart, Indiana, at the beginning of the second semester. Although not used to our type of ball, Dean caught on quickly and was a definite asset to the team. He played at center and was good at taking the rebounds off the backboard. We will be looking for these three back next year and hope they have another successful season.

We regret that we were unable to include Lee Roy Cox, Carl Lewis, Bob Simmons, Fred Weeks, and Tom Engle in this picture.

Reserves Show Promise

This year's reserve team, like the Varsity, was the best of many years. They ended with the same record as the first ten; 14 wins and 2 losses. After losing two games at the beginning of the season they came through the rest of the season without a loss. This amounted to a record-breaking 13 consecutive wins. Even these statistics do not tell the whole story, however, as the two games they lost were before Coach Laughlin found his winning combination. Near the end of the season the Junior Cards won one of their most decisive victories. They played and defeated Colon's varsity team which won the championship in their own class "C" conference. In all of the games the reserves played good enough ball so that at least 12 boys saw action in every game. Despite this fact, their opponents were usually left in their dust as the Cards outran and outshot them. Of the starting five, three were freshmen and two were sophomores. This is really encouraging and brings promise of more Twin-Valley Championship teams in the near future.

The boys awarded Reserve Basketball letters for their fine work this year were: Gene Fry, Jim Rhoades, Rex Corless, Max McConnell, Le Roy Cox, Harry Cooper, Marvin Rosenberg, Dick Hoogenboom, Carl Lewis, Bob Simmons, Jack Rowe, Fred Weeks, Jack Wood, Tom Engle and Lloyd Luce.

Large Number of Boys Out for Baseball

As we go to press the baseball team has yet to play their first game. Five varsity men returned this year: C. Gilbert, R. Gilbert, Lewis, Fitch, and Tighe; and a large number of reserves were also back this season. Sixty-six boys went out for the sport, composing the largest squad in the history of C. H. S. Ten varsity games and six reserve games will be played.

The schedule is as follows:

April 15, Quincy will come here to play the first game.

April 18, the team goes to East Lansing to play the defending champions.

April 22, Jonesville comes here.

April 25, Marshall travels here.

May 6, the team goes to Lakeview.

May 9, Adrian will come here.

May 13, the squad will play at Angola.

May 16 and 23 respectively, Hillsdale and Sturgis will play here.

The last game is scheduled at Albion May 27.

We hope for a team worthy of Mr. Eby and Mr. Olson's swell job of coaching.

Golf Re-instated

This season Coldwater High had its first golf team in five years, and for the first time in C. H. S. history the weaker sex was permitted to go out for the sport. Practices were held at the Country Club with Coaches Eby and Laughlin as instructors.

A golf tournament was scheduled at Marshall on May 29. Coldwater and several other Twin-Valley schools closed their season with this tournament.

Tennis Team Revived

After a lapse of 5 years during which there was little interest in tennis, the sport has been resumed this season. Although at the time the Cardinal went to press, the list of participants had not been completed, there were approximately twenty students out for tennis. They played Adrian and Lakeview before going to the Twin-Valley Tennis meet which was held in Adrian, May 17.

Coach Eby was in charge of tennis and our former principal and tennis coach, Fred Weeks, Sr., has graciously contributed his time and experience. We are glad to see more people interested in a wider variety of sports after several years in which sports interest reached out of the lowest ebbs in our school's history.

CHS Goes Out For Track

Due to the urgencies of the press, this story had to be written before any track events took place. About forty boys went out, composing the largest squad in several years. This season there were three varsity men back: Stickan, Moore, and Callahan, as well as a number of reserves from last year: Weeks, Holley, Grove, Dull and Parks. The coaches, who deserve a lot of credit, are Mr. Green, and Mr. Laughlin.

The schedule was as follows:

Date	Participants	Place
April 16	Coldwater, Adrian, Hillsdale	Adrian
April 24	Coldwater, Marshall, Lakeview	Marshall
May 1	Coldwater, Albion	Albion
May 7	Coldwater, Union City	Coldwater

Jean Mills

Margaret McLaughlin

Joan Donkin

Shirley Simmons

This year ten cheerleaders were on hand for all home games to keep up the spirits of the team. The varsity squad was composed of Margaret McLaughlin, with two years of service, and Shirley Simmons, Joan Donkin, Kenny Westbrook, and Jean Mills, with one year each. Ellen Stein, Joyce Schlubatis, Joyce Stout, Jane Smith, and Eunice Drinkwater were the reserve cheerleaders.

The C-Club and its loyal members sponsored many activities this year. The boys held two dances, presented one of the best assemblies of the year and ushered at benefit basket ball games, as well as erecting a sign in the gym entitled "A Good Cardinal." The members held one initiation during the year and one supper. They also will hold one more initiation and one more supper. As is customary, the club voted on those eligible for varsity letters, and on a basketball trophy. The varsity basketball team voted to get white 10 inch C's with a red cardinal insert and small miniature gold basketballs. All football and basketball awards were given at the All Sports Banquet at the Masonic Temple. Mr. Holley gave a supper at the Post House for the football team at the end of the season. The club will redecorate and light the trophy case, and at the end of the year a large banquet will be given.
