Sophomore year . . . now over the self-consciousness of freshman year and not yet into the anticipations of junior year. Looking forward with hope (and a little fear), and looking backward with fondness (and relief). Settling into life at UCHS . . . accustomed to upperclassmen's silliness (we've been through it before), sympathizing with freshmen's problems (we were there, too), and getting more involved in the extracurriculars HS has to offer. Just getting into life in general . . . and loving every minute of it!

Freshman year is . . . a new beginning. To go from "top of the heap" at MS to the "babies of the school" at HS, in a few short months. New traditions: Homecoming, Sno-Ball, Sweetheart Couples, Awards Day. New people: administrators, teachers, upperclassmen, special friends. The first encounter with algebra and journals in Mrs. Smith's English class. New priorities, as we encounter the many unique experiences of high school and grow because of them. To some, freshman year is the pits, and to others it's the best yet. But to us all, freshman year is never to be forgotten . . .

Discipline, Schedules, "Behind The Scenes," and Students' Best Friend

High school principal Mervin Miller agrees that working with young people is a daily challenge. Trying to please them and to discipline sometimes seem contradictory, but he hopes the end result is a diploma and individuals who are capable of contributing in a meaningful way in the world beyond the classroom. It is his goal as a principal to provide a school environment that instills in young people an attitude of respect for oneself, for others, and for the law. Mr. Miller graduated with a BS degree from WMU in 1969 and from U of M in 1973 with a MA degree. He has been a post-graduate student at U of M since 1975.

Mrs. Sandy MacDonald has myriad responsibilities as the office secretary. In addition to taking calls and dispersing mail, she makes appointments for Mr. Miller, answers students' questions, and handles the daily minor crises calmly.

Administrators Have Manifold Duties but Remain "Impeccable"

Left: Mrs. Dawn Hoenes, Guidance Secretary, arranges students' conferences with Mr. Amyx and keeps the guidance office running smoothly.

Left: Mr. Paul Turner, Community Education Director. Mr. Turner is in charge of the night classes for adults and enrichment programs at UCHS.

Teachers Maintain That Students' Minds Can Absorb as Much as Their Seats Can Endure

After a disappointing start at Olivet, the Charger gridmen started to "kick butt" in their bid to take the conference title denied to them last year at the very end. Athene and Springport fell in tight fights, but Quincy had other ideas and trounced the Chargers 20 to 6. Then Jonesville gave us a chance to lick their wounds and heal their wounded pride when they fell the next week 42 to 0. After Reading dashed any remaining Charger dreams of a piece of the title, the team finished out the season with three more wins.

A large crop of returning underclassmen will give the Chargers some much needed experienced talent in football '81, for another chance at the elusive league championship.

After much practice they got off to a solid start and an encouraging boost during football season. This was set off by a "Lock-in" sponsored by the Springport cheerleaders. The event consisted of a slumber party, school skits, and a session for exchanging cheers as well as friendships. Other activities included selling Carnations for Valentines Day and sponsoring a "Miss Piggy contest." The "winners" for that were Lisa Hawkins, Varsity and Kim Smith, J.V.

It was an enjoyable year and rewarding for those involved.

Pretty Ladies . . . + Crisp Starry Night . . . + Trouncing the Opponent . . . = Homecoming 1981

The 1980 Homecoming celebrations at Union City High School came to a close Friday night, October 3, with the football team's victory over Jonesville and the crowning of Dawn Sanders as Homecoming Queen.

Throughout the week before, the classes had participated in activities that roused school spirit for the football game and provided competition for prizes from the Student Council.

The slave auction, held during an assembly Monday, brought a lot of laughs and needed money for the Senior Class treasury.

Tuesday brought the first competition. In keeping with this year's theme, "Commercials" each class decorated a hallway. Judges decided that the Seniors did the best job with their "Everready" theme. Freshmen placed second while Juniors and Sophomores tied for third.

Wednesday was '50's day with many students dressing in the style of that decade.

Thursday the Homecoming Court and escorts were honored.

This year's Homecoming Court included two Junior Class members selected by their class: Mandy Hubbard and Michelle Palmatier.

The Senior Class voted three of their classmates on the court: Valerie Ambrose, Kim Matson, and Dawn Sanders. The entire student body voted for the queen from among the three seniors.

Friday was Maroon and Grey Day closing with a pep assembly and cheering contests. The classes gave skits with the sophomores winning and the Freshmen coming in second. That night the Freshman float "Breakfast of Champions" won the float contest. Juniors came in second, Seniors third and Sophomores fourth.

At the crowning Jill Avery and Noel Spooner served as charm and crown bearers. A large crowd of high school students and alumni enjoyed the music and light show by "Magic of Music."

The U.C. Cross Country team deserves much more credit than seems to have been given them. Lost in the excitement of football season, many forget the long, grueling miles put in by these people.

This year they had 5 league dual meets with Jeff Silva being voted most valuable team member. Also, Deb Spierling and Malinda Braucker went right to the state competition, an accomplishment seen by few.

Third Time Proves a Hex as U.C. Bows Out in District Action to Quincy.

The Varsity girls had an almost perfect season losing only one in the conference against Homer, but still placing first in the Big 8. For the second year in a row Union City lost to a team in District tournaments after already beating them twice during regular season. Their league record was 13-1 with an overall record of 16-4. Kelly Collins and Deb Merchant served as co-captains and were two of the three seniors on the team. Teresa Biteman was the third senior. Three players received all conference awards which include, Deb Merchant and Julie Heator. Kelly Collins earned honorable mention. They also were named to the All Area team with Deb Brubaker making honorable mention. For the first time in girls basketball at Union City, one of the players was named to the All State team. Congratulations to Deb Merchant and the rest of the team for a terrific season.

The tension on their faces demonstrates the sincerity with which the volleyball team played this year. Their countless hours of work and practice culminated in the title of conference champs.

Three members of the team were named to all-conference, an honor in itself. They were

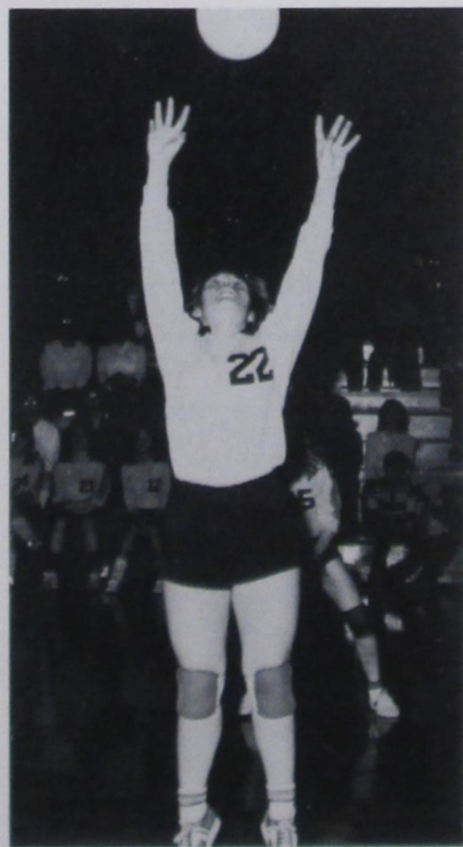

Regina Collins, Sally Scott, and Linda MacDonald. Other awards included hardest working — Stephanie Colvin, most valuable — Regina Collins, and most improved —

Deb Spierling. Through their efforts U.C. has become number 1.

Union City's JV volleyball girls succeeded in two areas this year. Not only did they have an excellent season, grabbing win after win for their school, but they also gained experience for future years.

Coached by Jeannie Dolson, the girls went through hours of grueling practices for the few rewarding moments on the floor. Their hard work did not go unheeded, though. For all the people at U.C.H.S. are proud of their performance and are anxiously waiting for next year's season.

For the first time since 1977, Union City did not win the conference championship. Coming in second to Concord was a great disappointment, but gave next year's team an added incentive. Winning for UC in the decisive match against the Yellowjackets were Jon Kent (98), Mike Boyd (105), Dar Herman (145), Kevin Littlejohn (167) and Randy Youngren (hwt.).

The Show Must Go On!

How does she do it?

It's not THAT funny Roger!

It's a living.

The U.C.H.S. 1981 Talent Show was, undoubtedly, the greatest ever produced. At any given minute one would find themselves tapping their toe to the beat of the music or rolling with laughter during one of the numerous skits.

Emceed by Brian Barlow, the unexpected never seemed to be far from the stage. Thus, it can and will be said for years that students, as well as citizens from the community, are really the greatest.

And here's Johnny . . .

Our own "Tijuana Brat!"

Wow! Look at all that talent.

They've got "Saturday Night Fever!"

Now THAT'S coordination!

Fantastic, we want

"Be still my heart!"

an Encore!

Senior Trip to Remember . . .

Front: Chris O'Dell, Deb Merchant, Bertha Bennett, Crystal Kimbel, Balinda Spells, Sheryl Burdick, Caroline Kamps, Laurie Hughes, Sheryl Small, Heather Bartlett, Laura Brooks, Deanne Peters, Kelly Collins, Linda MacDonald, Sherry Cross, Tammy Welton.

This year's Senior trip consisted of four very busy, but fulfilling days. After spending a night traveling aboard the Greyhound, the group toured Washington and saw such sights as the Capitol, National Archives, FBI Headquarters, the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, Mount Vernon, Arlington National Cemetery, the Smithsonian Institution and various other attractions. Included in this visit was also a supper with U.S. Representative Mark Siljander, this being a highlight "bonus" which they enjoyed.

Known and remembered well by the members on the trip also were the bus driver, "Al" and his "aid" (otherwise known as our trusty informer) the British tour guide with the umbrella.

Numerous incidents may be related of her coaching and Al's patient obedience while touring our Nation's Capitol.

For all involved it was a rewarding trip brimming with interesting information and newly acquired facts. The group roomed at the Hospitality House in Arlington, Virginia, where they also had the opportunity to visit the Crystal City underground shopping center.

As members of the Senior class of 1981 this experience will be long remembered, and with appreciation, a warm thanks is extended to all who made it possible.

Class nite

As the seniors' last week before exams, May 26-29 was set aside as Class Week '81 to honor the 101st graduating class, and relieve some of the pre-exam jitters. Tuesday was designated Mix-n-Match Day; Wednesday, Dress-Up Day; Thursday, Shorts Day (and Senior Skip Day!); and Friday, Cap and Gown Day. Class Night activities were restricted to the evening this year, in an attempt to curb the rowdiness inherent among the seniors and the boredom among many underclassmen. A humorous senior class surprised everyone at the ceremony when, after marching in the rear door as usual, they immediately exited through the front doors! To the audience's and advisors' relief, they returned through the opposite back door, to continue the proceedings as "normal."

At right, valedictorian Jean Frye and salutatorian Tony Densmore lead the Class of '81 in their "unorthodox" march to Class Nite activities. Below, wild-n-crazy seniors return to the scene of the "crime."

As in past years, the seniors headed the program. In groups of two, volunteers read the "I Will Always Remember . . ." ("term papers, gov't. class, my friends. . ."); Favorites (class, teacher, song . . .); Giftatories; Wills; Prophecies; and the notorious Mock Election Results (Most Likely to Succeed, Best Athlete, Class Clown, Biggest Pessimist and Optimist, Shyest, Most in the Light, etc . . .). Following tradition, Mr. Miller acknowledged the honor students and recipients of various scholarships; and senior class president Stephannie Colvin presided over the passing of the gavel to junior president Kevin Littlejohn. In addition, this year the seniors presented roses to various members of the community who have given "above and beyond the call of duty" to the senior class, donating their time and homes to help whenever they were needed. The senior advisors, Miss Terry Wynn and Mrs. Jean Sisco, were presented with small bouquets of the class flower, the white rose, in appreciation for everything they've done to make this final year a success for the Class of '81.

Graduation — A Step to the Future

Valedictorian: Jean Frye

Salutatorian: Tony Densmore

Class Colors: Light Blue and Dark Blue

Class Motto: Let us become more than we are . . . All that we long to be . . . Everything we are capable of being . . . And then . . . let us long to exceed what we have become.

Class Flower: White Rose

Class Song: The Best of Times

As this year neared completion the class of 1981 anticipated graduation — the big step into the future. At last the long awaited day arrived, filled with excitement and relief and yet a bit of sadness mingled as the class said their final goodbyes.

The Commencement speaker was Morely Fraser of Albion College, who spoke of "Excited About Life." Jean Frye was the class Valedictorian and Tony Densmore, Salutatorian.

Though graduation is past, students will never forget the valuable friendships built inside these U.C.H.S. walls. The past four years — the learning, the memories, the work and the fun — will be remembered as valuable stepping stones in the building of more successful futures.

Yes, indeed! The Drama classes, under the direction of Mrs. Patti McGlashen, succeeded in bringing a taste of Broadway excitement to Union City in 1981.

As a culmination to the hours of practice, learning, and rehearsing, these students presented a successful comedy entitled "The Marriage Bit" to an audience consisting of the student body, faculty, and guests. This presentation will always be looked upon as a valuable piece of history in the Drama department for a number of reasons, but mostly for its creativity and high level of professionalism.

The 1981 Student Council was involved in a number of projects designed for the betterment of the school and the community. At regular meetings throughout the year advisors Miss Wynn and Mrs. Parkison guided the members in planning such endeavors, as well as helping in the decisions that would eventually become regulations for the student body.

Some areas in which the council became involved were designing Homecoming week, instigating and running both a Thanksgiving food lift and Christmas donations, revising the age-old constitution, a charity drive for cystic fibrosis, and governing the pop machine and concession stands.

Yearbook Staff's Dedication Pays Off

Right: Lisa Hawkins, senior; editor of the 1981 UCHS Yearbook. Lisa has been a member of the yearbook staff for two years, and her artistic tendencies have been an invaluable aid in layout designs and artwork. "Being on the yearbook staff has been beneficial to me in that it taught patience, ambition, and the satisfaction of getting the job done."

Far right: Lyn Heise, senior; assistant editor and business manager for the 1981 edition. Lyn has also been on the yearbook staff for two years, and has dedicated a great deal of time and effort towards its completion. "I have done so much with so little for so long, that I now feel qualified to do absolutely anything with practically nothing."

The Spanish Club had a very busy year, selling candy and cake flavoring during the summer along with a car-wash project, and a Christmas raffle, to raise money for their trip to Mexico next year.

F.F.A. Looking to the Future

Union City's chapter of the F.F.A. led by Mr. Kenneth Weirich, has now added another successful year to its long history of such accomplishments.

Hard work on the members part brought such honors, though. Not only did they participate in contests and the annual state conventions, but they also ran a corn test plot and plantation, while selling garden seeds and pecans.

Great Minds Join Once Again

This year two teams of Union City students traveled to Quincy to compete in the annual Quiz Bowl competition. After preparing in every way possible with the unending help of their advisors, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Parkison, and Miss Wynn, they were ready to take on the best minds of the Big 8.

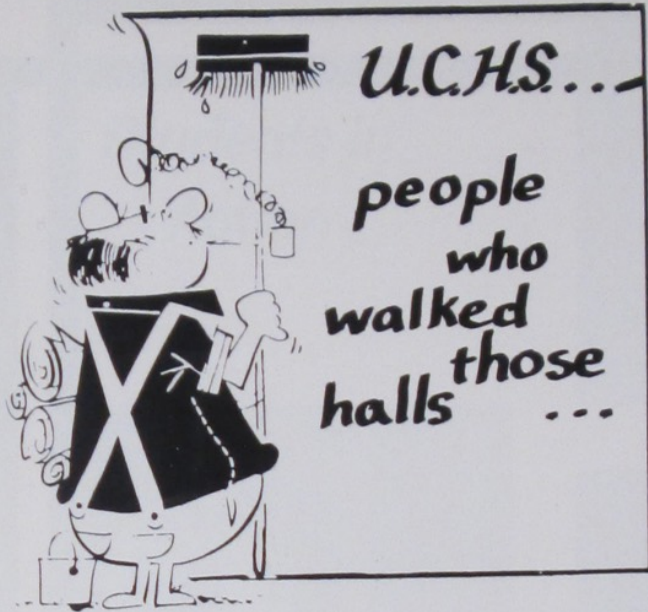

The opponents were indeed tough, but U.C. held on and made a more than respectable showing. Though they didn't take top honors, they carried on a tradition that was, possibly, more important than winning — for just as in previous years our teams kept charging along despite all odds. And with each passing year, as knowledge is passed from older members to newer ones, so too will the respect and encouragement of their classmates.
