PUBLISHED BY THE YEARBOOK STAFF

Quincy Community Schools

QUINCY, MICHIGAN

Foreword

It is our pleasure to present this 1962-63 Oriole Annual to you, the public. Our aim has been to show you how the experiences we have had in Quincy Community Schools will help prepare us for the future, for "Tomorrow is Built on Today."

We have tried to acquaint the parents and others with all of the numerous resources available to us in our school system to help broaden our knowledge. For you students, we hope this will prove to be a lasting memory of one of your school years.

We would like to thank the many people who have helped to prepare this Oriole Annual. Now, along with the rest of our staff, we would like to show you just how we have been busy today preparing for tomorrow.

Math

A rather confused Jim Rogers watches Jeff Kanouse and Larry Lounds as they explain the slide rule in math class.

Q.H.S.

Physical Education

During physical education class, Darwin Maurer and Richard Green wait while Dale Lentz takes his turn on the trampoline.

Art

Working on their art projects are Renae Eaton, Shirley Rogers, Connie O'disher, Donna Todd, and Chari Fidler.

Speech

Twinkle Young, Dick Howard, Jackie Shouey, and Pete Talbot are learning the essentials of speech and English by participating in a panel discussion.

Industrial Arts

Bill Leavitt, Richard McRae, Tom Thomas, and Mick Quimby concentrate on their drafting.

Social Studies

Offers . . .

Government is made more interesting by a skit presented by Richard Hartley, Carol Smith, Cheryl Thompson, and Judy Hutchins.

Science

Tom Brockman, Adi Schneider, Mr. Pattok, Dana Queen, and Nancy Buell watch an experiment develop in chemistry.

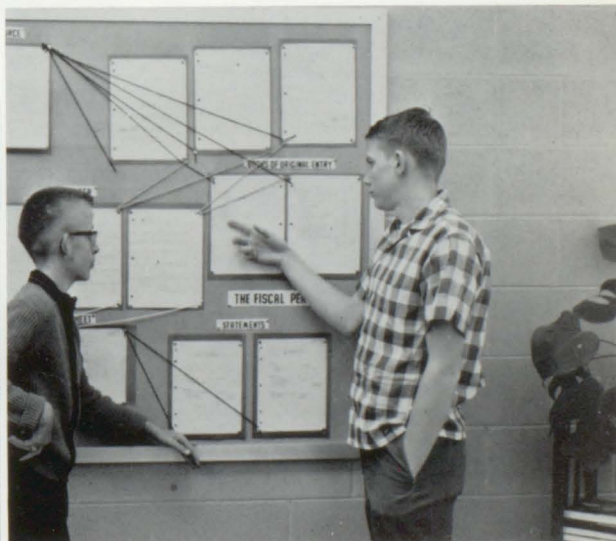

Commercial

Looking over a bookkeeping project are Werner Helfers and Dennis Smith.

Languages

These boys took care of the advertising and mechanical end of the work; Jeff Bates, Ed Sattler, Tom Brockman, Fernando Krymis, and Adi Schneider.

Many long hours were spent by the annual staff in preparing this yearbook. While only two of the staff were experienced, the rest of the group caught on quickly and helped produce this book, which will serve as a personal record of one of your happiest years in high school.

Those planning to go into journalism as a career have had excellent elementary background for their future goals through the activities of the Oriole Annual.

Administration

of Quincy Community School is composed of approximately 50 teachers and staff members. Along with teaching us the facts and figures of different subjects today, they try to instill in their students the lasting qualities of tolerance, cooperation, and self-discipline.

School Board Resolves Problems

At right is Mr. Dayne Himebaugh, treasurer who attended the A. S. S. A. Convention this year and brought back helpful information.

Trustee, Mr. Franklin Kratzer, is only one out of the seven members considering the problem of the in-service educational faculty members.

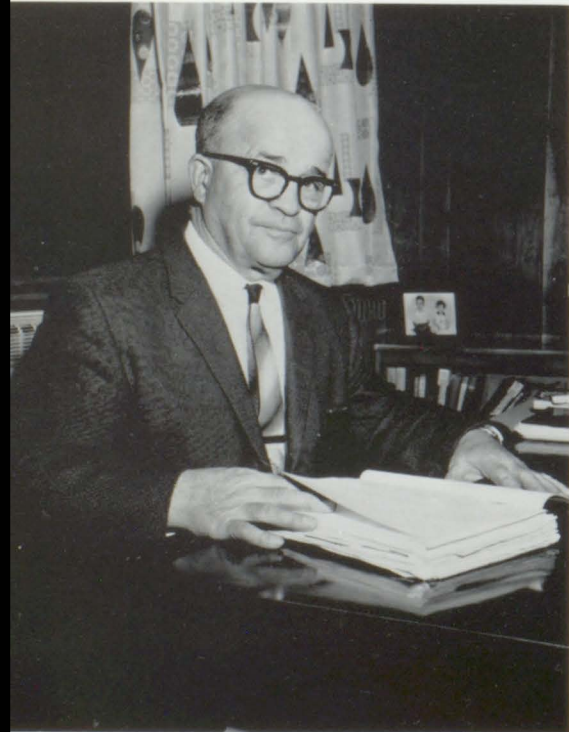

Financing was one of the major problems of the school board this year. Helping to resolve it were Mr. Blaque Knirk, president, (above) and Mrs. Amy Broad, secretary, (right).

The board was very concerned with maintaining accredited standards for Q. H. S. Among those interested members are Mr. Elmer Dobson, trustee, (above) and Mr. Jack Fowler, trustee, (right).

Mr. Elwood Larsen, as Superintendent, assumes the great responsibility of providing the students with an atmosphere which promotes greater diligence in studies and instruction. He also has the responsibility of keeping our school system running smoothly and efficiently.

Administrators Assure Exceptional Education

As principal, Mr. Ronald Reynolds has guided and directed the many students under his supervision into paths of greater learning and instruction.

Besides being in the classroom from 8:30 a. m. to 4:15 p. m. , the teachers serve on noon and after school duty, chaperone at dances and on busses, sponsor classes and may even advise a school club or activity. The teacher's profession isn't limited to just inside the classroom.

Classes

give students knowledge of the subject studied, more mature understanding, vocational insight, and many personal helps. Friendship and tolerance are gained through classmate associations, as well as the learning of the social graces.

Class of '63

Prepares for

Pat Hughes, salutatorian, and Judy Hutchins, valedictorian.

"He who Looks Ahead Never Falls Behind," is the motto the Senior Class of '63 chose to follow. Applying for admission into colleges and taking various entrance examinations kept these seniors busy. New subjects open to these students were chemistry, secretarial practice, trigonometry, solid geometry, home and family living, government and economics.

The Senior play, "Ask Any Girl," was presented December 8. It was a great success with Carol Smith and Tom Brockman as leads.

Choosing caps and gowns and announcements brought the Seniors to the realization that Graduation time was near. Green and White were their colors and Mum was their flower.

Helping Tom Brockman out of his predicament are Julie Matthew, treasurer; Larry Bailey, vice-president; Marvin Merkle, president; Karen Rupp, secretary; and Jill Wagner, historian.

Adi truly has been a good-will ambassador for his native country, and the Q.H.S. has served him an example of the United States. The learning experience of having Adi as part of Quincy will not soon leave the memories of all who knew him.

Toward Success

At their locker discussing future plans are Junior Class Officers: Andra Pelow, secretary; Larry Lounds, president; Tom Crane, vice-president; Pricilla Long, treasurer; and Linda Brown, historian.

One of the busiest years of anyone's high school life is the Junior year. Besides sponsoring added school functions, they adapt schedules for definite future plans. The Otis Test and the National Merit Scholarship Test help to determine their abilities for future education and vocations.

The first big social event of the year was Homecoming in which Andra Pelow and Larry Lounds represented the Juniors on the Homecoming Court.

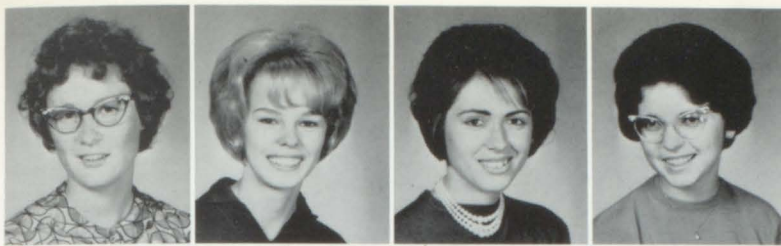

Darlene Miller and Dick Howard were the leads in the class's first play, "The Mouse That Roared," which was presented in early spring.

Other major events in the year planned by the Juniors were the Jr. -Sr. Banquet and the Jr. Prom.

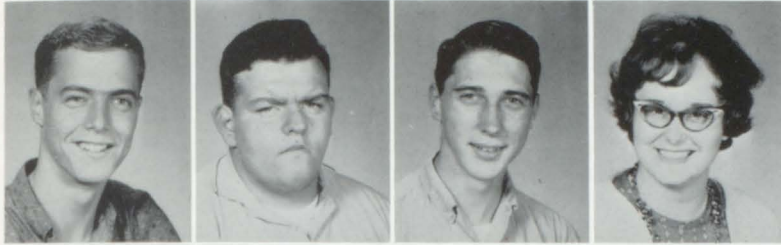

Subjects new to these students were physics, Spanish, shorthand, Typing II, and American History. Girls have the chance to receive experience as an aid in the office in this grade.

Mr. Pattok, Mrs. Roberts, (head sponsor) and Mrs. Weisman served as Junior Class advisors.

The Sophomore year of high school is an extremely important year because students are beginning to think about their future vocation and college plans. In their Sophomore year, students are able to take commercial courses for the first time. World history, drafting and biology are subjects also new to the Sophomores.

D.A.T. (aptitude tests) were administered to the Class of '65. Ratings were impatiently awaited. One of the thrilling highlights of the year for the Sophomores was choosing their class rings.

Another exciting highlight of the year was Homecoming. The sophomore float, "Ring Out Victory," placed second. Charlene Wentworth and Bob Barrett served as representatives on the Homecoming Court.

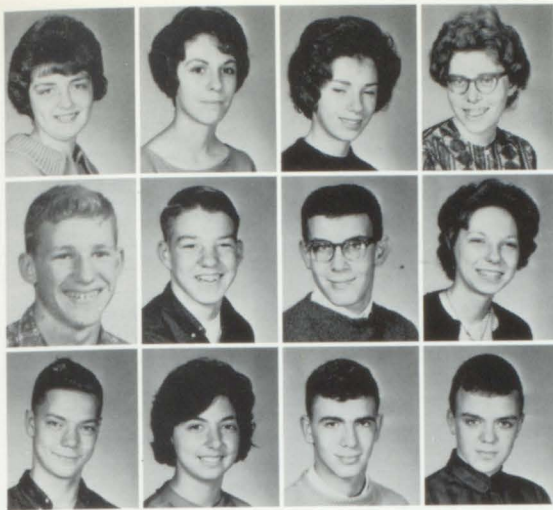

As a class party, tobogganing at Echo Valley was selected.

Directing the Class of '65 successfully through their important year were Mr. Fisher (head sponsor), Mr. Klyman, Mr. Monk, and Mrs. Pattok.

Trying out a new twist record for their coming record hop are Anna Marie Bollegraf, treasurer; Ken Peterson, vice-president; Bob Barrett, president; and Charlene Wentworth, secretary. They are shown below.

the Decisions of Tomorrow

Making decisions may sound easy to some people, but not when it involves the tastes of the whole Class of '65. These sophomore members bearing the burden of narrowing down the choice of style and quality of their rings are: (L-R) Bradley Moore, Dick Hutchins, Ken Peterson, Ron Tuckey, Bob Barrett, Charlene Wentworth, and Larry Bradley. Harder and more complicated decisions will meet Q. H. S. 'ers tomorrow. Q. H. S. only gives them the necessary background of practicing sound judgment.

One of the most colorful places in all Q.H.S. is the drinking fountain. The multiple colored ceramic tile behind each fountain gives the touch of brightness every school needs. Taking advantage of the bright spot, are Freshman Class officers: Sandra Bellamy, secretary; Linda Green, treasurer; Tom Oxenham, vice-president; and Gary Omo, president.

An altogether new world seems to be opened to the Freshman Class as they begin their first year in senior high school.

First of all they are in competition with all senior high grades for the Homecoming Pep Jug. They surprised everyone, even themselves, and won it. Also the privilege of being represented on the Homecoming Court was taken by Sandra Bellamy and Alan Himebaugh.

Vocational subjects like shop, home economics, agriculture, and art are offered as well as academic subjects such as algebra, English, physical science and speech. Library aid and teachers' aid are available openings for the Class of '66. Band and physical education are accessible to all grades.

A Kuder Physical Science test given to all Freshmen was just a start of all the tests they'll be given throughout their senior high years.

Tobogganing at Echo Valley in Kalamazoo helped round out the year for the Freshman Class. Mr. Keelean, Miss Lilliquist, Mrs. Tervillegar and Mr. Weisman (head sponsor) advised them.

Eighth Grade Combines Work With Fun to Make a Happy Year

Winning the Homecoming Pep Can and placing first in the Magazine Drive put these Eighth Graders in very high spirits for their last year in junior high school.

The Class of '67 realized that a little work has to be mixed with the fun when they took the Otis Test last fall.

The basics of English, science, social science and math are still offered but perfected in the Eighth Grade. Physical education is stressed and band is offered.

To put a little fun in their busy lives, the Eighth Graders had a Christmas party and tried their hand at bowling.

Mr. Chalker, Mr. White and Mr. Worth (head sponsor), assisted the Class of '67 throughout the '62-'63 year.

Basic Knowledge Gained by Seventh Graders

Moving from Sixth to Seventh Grade is quite a transition for junior high Q.H.S.'ers. They learn to travel from one classroom to another and sometimes from one building to another! By this time they have more than one teacher throughout the day. Also physical education becomes a subject under trained supervision rather than just a recess.

Learning the basics, socially as well as academically, is the goal of the Seventh Grade. Q.H.S. offers both of these through qualified teachers, newly added facilities, and student-chosen executive class officers.

Even though Homecoming was all new to them, the Class of '68 caught on to the excitement and prepared their skit, float, and cheers with enthusiasm. As a reward for their great participation in the Magazine Drive they were able to see a free movie.

Christmas found them making the most of their social graces as they gathered around the commons for a party.

Guiding them through their first year in junior high were Mr. Omo, Mr. Simmons (head sponsor), and Mr. Shelles.

"Look up that word to be sure."
"Did that really happen?" These comments coming from sixth grade journalists show the responsibility they take on when writing for their newspaper. By starting them young, Q.H.S. stands a good chance of having more experience faster in various fields and vocations.

Fifth Grade Studies Different Aspects of Music

This year Mr. Daniel Shelles has directed the Fifth Grade music program. Each Fifth Grade Class meets individually with Mr. Shelles once a week and then has a weekly group meeting. They have studied musical terms, different instruments and composers.

Second semester found the Fifth Grade enjoying science on Airborne Television. They have also had units on magnetism and electricity.

The Fourth Graders have worked hard in all of their subjects and have especially enjoyed studying Geography. This is a new subject in Fourth Grade.

The use of television in some of their work has been a new experience. The first semester, they used television in connection with their music program.

During the second semester the science program has also been enriched by the use of television.

ROW THREE: Mrs. Mattie Parkinson, Timmy Butters, Lee Canfield, Cathy Pinney, Mark Wonders, Lee Brown, Monica Ellis, Sarah Delcamp.

Kindergarten experiences are an important part of a child's education. He not only learns to adjust socially to others, but he completes a year of orientation into the school system.

Socially, the Kindergarten children learn independence, getting along well with others, safety and health, sharing, and taking turns.

In Kindergarten, children build foundations in languages arts, numbers and their concepts, social studies and science. This is all done on a purely informal basis and one which the five and six-year old can understand.

Kindergarten should be a happy experience for the small child and every effort is being made to make it so.

Staff Helps School Function Smoothly

Mrs. Vera Calhoun serves as principal of the Jennings Elementary School, which consists of Kindergarten through Fifth Grade.

Mrs. Alice Tittle, special education teacher, helps students. Another new addition to the staff is Miss Judy Leslie who serves as speech correctionist.

presented to the students of Q.H.S. are those such as librarians, office help, and the Oriole paper staff. Understanding of future vocations and of other people are some of the qualities gained from these services. Remunerated services act as luxuries to the students throughout the school day. Such services are rendered by the cooks, custodians, secretaries, and bus drivers.

Maintenance People Contribute to the Well-Being of Students

School is a much nicer place because of the efforts of our custodians. Imagine what it would be like without them!

Ready to start their work are (L-R) Howard McConnell, Mrs. Madonna Douglas, Fredrick Douglas, and Walter Miller.

Mike Clemenson and Joe Hildebrand, students who are not pictured, put in much time and effort to keep our school clean.

Nourishing Meals Fill Growing Q.H.S.'ers

A hot meal at noon means a lot to a student. Getting ready for that noontime rush was a daily chore for these cooks. They are (L-R) Mrs. Viola Talbot, Mrs. Aline Johnson, Miss Alberta Todd, Mrs. Marie Clark, Mrs.

Lavern Tyson, and Mrs. Lucile Polhamus. Students who helped with the hot lunch program were: Shirley Liby, Judy Helmick, Gary Glaum, Terry Salyer, Nancy Johnson, Carleen Dooley, Diana Conant, Kathy Peterson, Gerry Coplin, Mike Beach, Mike Basse, Fernando Krymis, Bill Fazekas, Kaye Longardner, Melina Krymis, Nancy Hardy, Ella Cole, and Mari Abbott.

Rain or shine the Junior High Safety Patrol did their duty in helping to protect others by their supervision at intersections.

Long Winter Makes It Extra Hard on Patrols, Drivers

An unusually long season of snow this year really created a lot of problems for the bus drivers, but as usual, they managed to get the students to school safely.

Above: Bill Hook, bus administrator, is responsible for bus repairs, bus routes, and bus trips as well as driving a bus himself.

Office Staff Keeps Student Body Satisfied

Working on the newest addition to her office is Mr. Larsen's secretary, Mrs. Susan Lambright, who also serves as an accountant.

Q.H.S. couldn't do without Mr. Reynolds' secretary, Mrs. Omo, known as Donna. Her familiar voice heard over the P. A. system (in the background) keeps Q.H.S.ers up to date on activities, meetings, and deadlines.

As well as handling money, Mrs. Maybelle Condra acts as a receptionist.

GREEN MONEY

The following are the students whose names were called but hadn't sold their quota: Edward Freese, Sharon Powers, Morris Bollegraph, Delores Morris, Connie Thompson, and Larry Cole.

The 8-ers have been high homeroom 7 out of the 9 days. Other homerooms to win were Mrs. Volkert's 12-ers; and Mrs. Weisman's 11-ers.

As of the 9th day of the drive we have raised $736.66 worth of money. We still need $263.34 more to reach our goal of $1000.00.

Keeping Q.H.S. students in the know about past, present, and future happenings in and around school are the staff of the Quincy Oriole newspaper, who are pictured left to right, SITTING: N. Buell, C. Q.H.S. Student Council Administers Various Projects

The Q.H.S. Student Council not only functions as a money-making organization for needed equipment but tries to improve student-faculty relationship as well.

It also managed the Bundle Day Drive for clothing and the Food Drive at Christmas.

The Council used revenue from the magazine drive to purchase wastepaper receptacles for the halls, and aisles for the bleachers. Sponsoring the purchase of a badly needed piano was also one of their projects.

President Rick Barrett and Vice-President Margaret Moore admire planters which were the Council's project last year. At right Judy Hutchins, secretary, and Steve Dobson, treasurer, take advantage of the persimmon colored lounge furniture which set off the commons. The furniture was purchased by the Council.

Magazine drive winners who helped boost profits to over $1,500 were: ROW ONE: D. Hoopingartner, S. Smith, D. Lambright, B. Hickok, K. Hayward, L. D. Wise, R. Rushlow. ROW TWO: S. Fenno, L. Cole, J. National Honor Society Stresses Four Qualities

The National Honor Society sold paperback books as a service to the school again this year. Rearranging and examining them are officers: Karen Rupp, secretary; Evlyn Kratzer, treasurer; Richard Hartley, vice-president; and Andrew Zeck, president.

Going on its third birthday at Q.H.S., the National Honor Society has impressed upon the student body the will to strive for the honor of being chosen on the four qualities needed for membership: Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service.

The guidance counselor, Mr. Livingston, sat in on many N. H. S. meetings and answered varied questions pertaining to college costs and scholarships and different vocational openings and demands.

Each spring new N. H. S. members are inducted during an impressive ceremony in front of the entire student body.

Q.H.S. Future Farmers Engage in Corn Project

Gaining new knowledge and skill for the betterment of the boys' and the public's interest in the future of agriculture is one purpose of the Quincy Chapter fo the Future Farmers of America.

One big project for which Quincy's FFA boys is responsible is taking care of two cornfields in this area. They plant, spray, grow, harvest, and sell the corn. This project boosts the FFA tresury to $1,045.

During the year, the club has participated in many social activities including the selection of the FFA Sweetheart, the Parent-Son Banquet, and tobaggoning.

The F. H. A. enjoyed a very successful year engaging in many worthwhile activities and projects.

Highlights of the year included placing regional officers for the third consecutive year, Christmas caroling, and a pizza party held in honor of the Varsity Football team.

A panel, composed of an equal representation from each class, was formed to discuss problems and situations common to the junior high girls.

Another project of the F. H. A. was to select F. H. A. Grandmothers from members of the Golden Age Club. Cards and presents were sent to each grandmother and a tea was held in honor of the adopted grandmothers.

Girls interested in being future nurses learn, from Miss Mary Mitchell, Director of Nursing at Foote Memorial Hospital of Jackson, that nursing isn't the easiest vocation to be in.

The Quincy Chapter of the Future Nurses of America visited the Foote Memorial Hospital late this winter.

A learning experience itself, aiding patients at the Health Center gave the girls an idea of what will be expected of them in this career.

Officers of the club were: Sharon Wolcott, president; Nancy Hardy, vice-president; Diane Morris, secretary; and Ella Cole, treasurer.

Mrs. Jane Terwillegar was their advisor.

Helping directly with elementary students, and coping with their problems is an excellent way for the Future Teachers of America to receive preliminary training. The Jennings Elementary School provides superior experience for these cadets.

Speakers and movies helped to instill in the F. T. A. members enthusiasm for this profession.

Other F. T. A. projects were a tea honoring the Q. H. S. faculty and an assembly presented during career month to acquaint the student body with the merits of teaching.

A slave drive furnished money towards a $25 scholarship awarded to a qualified college-bound senior.

Discussing future plans at an executive meeting are Judy Spieth, Rita Shook, v. -president; Linda Schoolcraft, sec.; Keith King, Cheryl Thompson, treas.; and Evlyn Kratzer, president.

A" Band Benefits the Student, the School and

What does a band do for the school and for the students in it you may ask? For the school the Q.H.S. "A" Band is a good-will ambassador as it travels to Marshall for the District 11 NSBOA Marching Festival, Kalamazoo for Solo and Ensemble Festival, Union City for massed band, Sturgis for the District Band and Orchestra Festival, Holland for the Holland Tulip Festival, and Coldwater for the dedication parade.

It doesn't need to travel to be of service to the school. A show by the band at half-time at every home football game is expected and well performed.

A First

The "A" Band officers admire the trophy they won as they congratulate each other on winning a first at the Marching Festival last fall. (L to R): Adi Schneider, vice-president; Jill Wagner, treasurer; Sheran Van Hoosear, secretary; and Neil Wilcox, president.

A pep band is always on hand to either cheer up or praise the basketball players at their home games.

Winter and Spring Concerts are always annual events at Q. H. S.

Tempting the sweet tooth of every Q. H. S. student, teacher, and friend, milk chocolate bars were sold by the "A" Band members to build its treasury.

Being of service to their community, the "A" Band marches in the Memorial Day parades in Quincy and Allen.

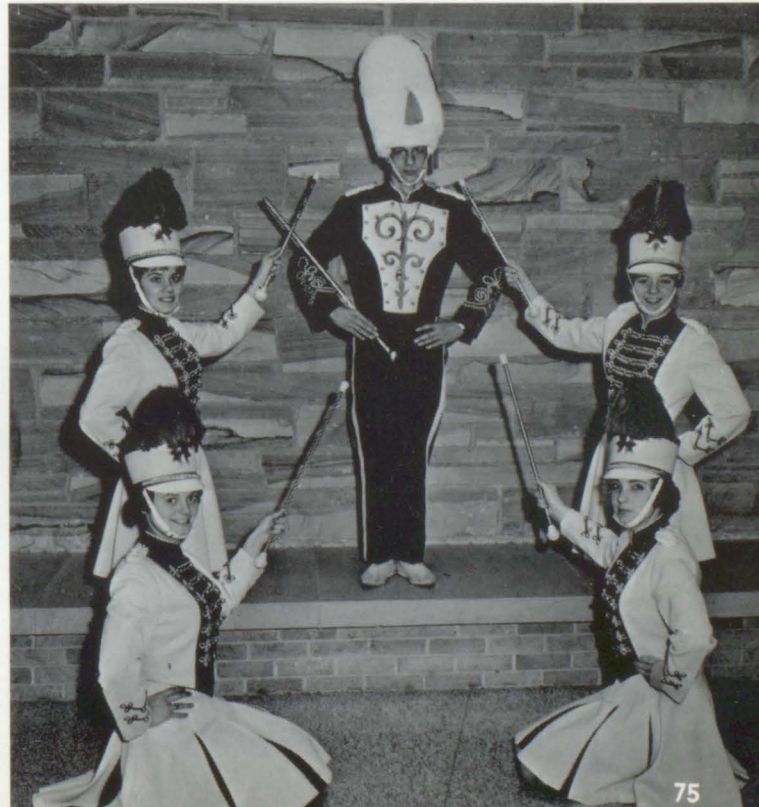

Students taking "A" Band and participating in its various activities receive background for careers in the musical field as they exert their talents in music even though they may not make music their vocation. They have had a chance to realize their talents, "Results, not excuses" is the motto of the band.

Some of the "A" Band members have even helped to organize a German band and a dance band.

The "A" Band Parents are so proud of them that they purchased new white spats and white gloves for them as you'll notice in their picture above.

The '62-'63 band year was under the direction of Mr. Daniel W. Shelles. The student director was Tom Brockman.

Next year the "A" Band will have a new front line because the majorettes and drum major (below) are graduating this year. They are: KNEELING (L-R) Colleen Wilmarth, Sandy Green, STANDING (L-R) Judy Hutchins, Tom Brockman and Carol Smith.

"B" Band Discipline Earned

Who works just as hard as the "A" Band? The "B" Band, of course! Even though their schedule isn't as heavy during the marching and concert season, the "B" Band works just as hard and steadily on their activities as the "A" Band. After all, they are all future "A" Band members so they need to discipline themselves for the promotion.

Members Selves for Promotion

Homecoming, Halloween and Memorial Day are the parades the "B" Band participate in, as well as the Solo and Ensemble Festival held at Kalamazoo and the Band and Orchestra Festival which was held at Sturgis this year.

Not wanting the "A" Band to out-do them, the "B" Band helped quench Q. H. S. ers' taste for milk chocolate by also selling candy bars.

One club in which all Q. H. S. male athletes strive for membership is the Varsity Club. Athletes who have earned one varsity letter have an open invitation to join the Club.

Serving the community, the Varsity Club sold Christmas trees, which netted a profit of $300. Purchasing Little 'C' pennants with this money added color and 'hominess' to the new gymnasium. To keep the football players warm next fall, the Club plans to buy parkas.

Aiding Varsity Club boys planning to go on to higher education, the Club makes available a $100 scholarship. The boy's scholastic standings, citizenship and contribution to athletic sports are considered in selecting the boy qualified to receive this award. Another instrument to bring about more enthusiasm is the sponsoring of a trophy to the athlete of the year.

Operating a coat check during the year and sponsoring a Faculty-Alumni basketball game were other money making projects.

Functions of U.N. Learned by Delegates

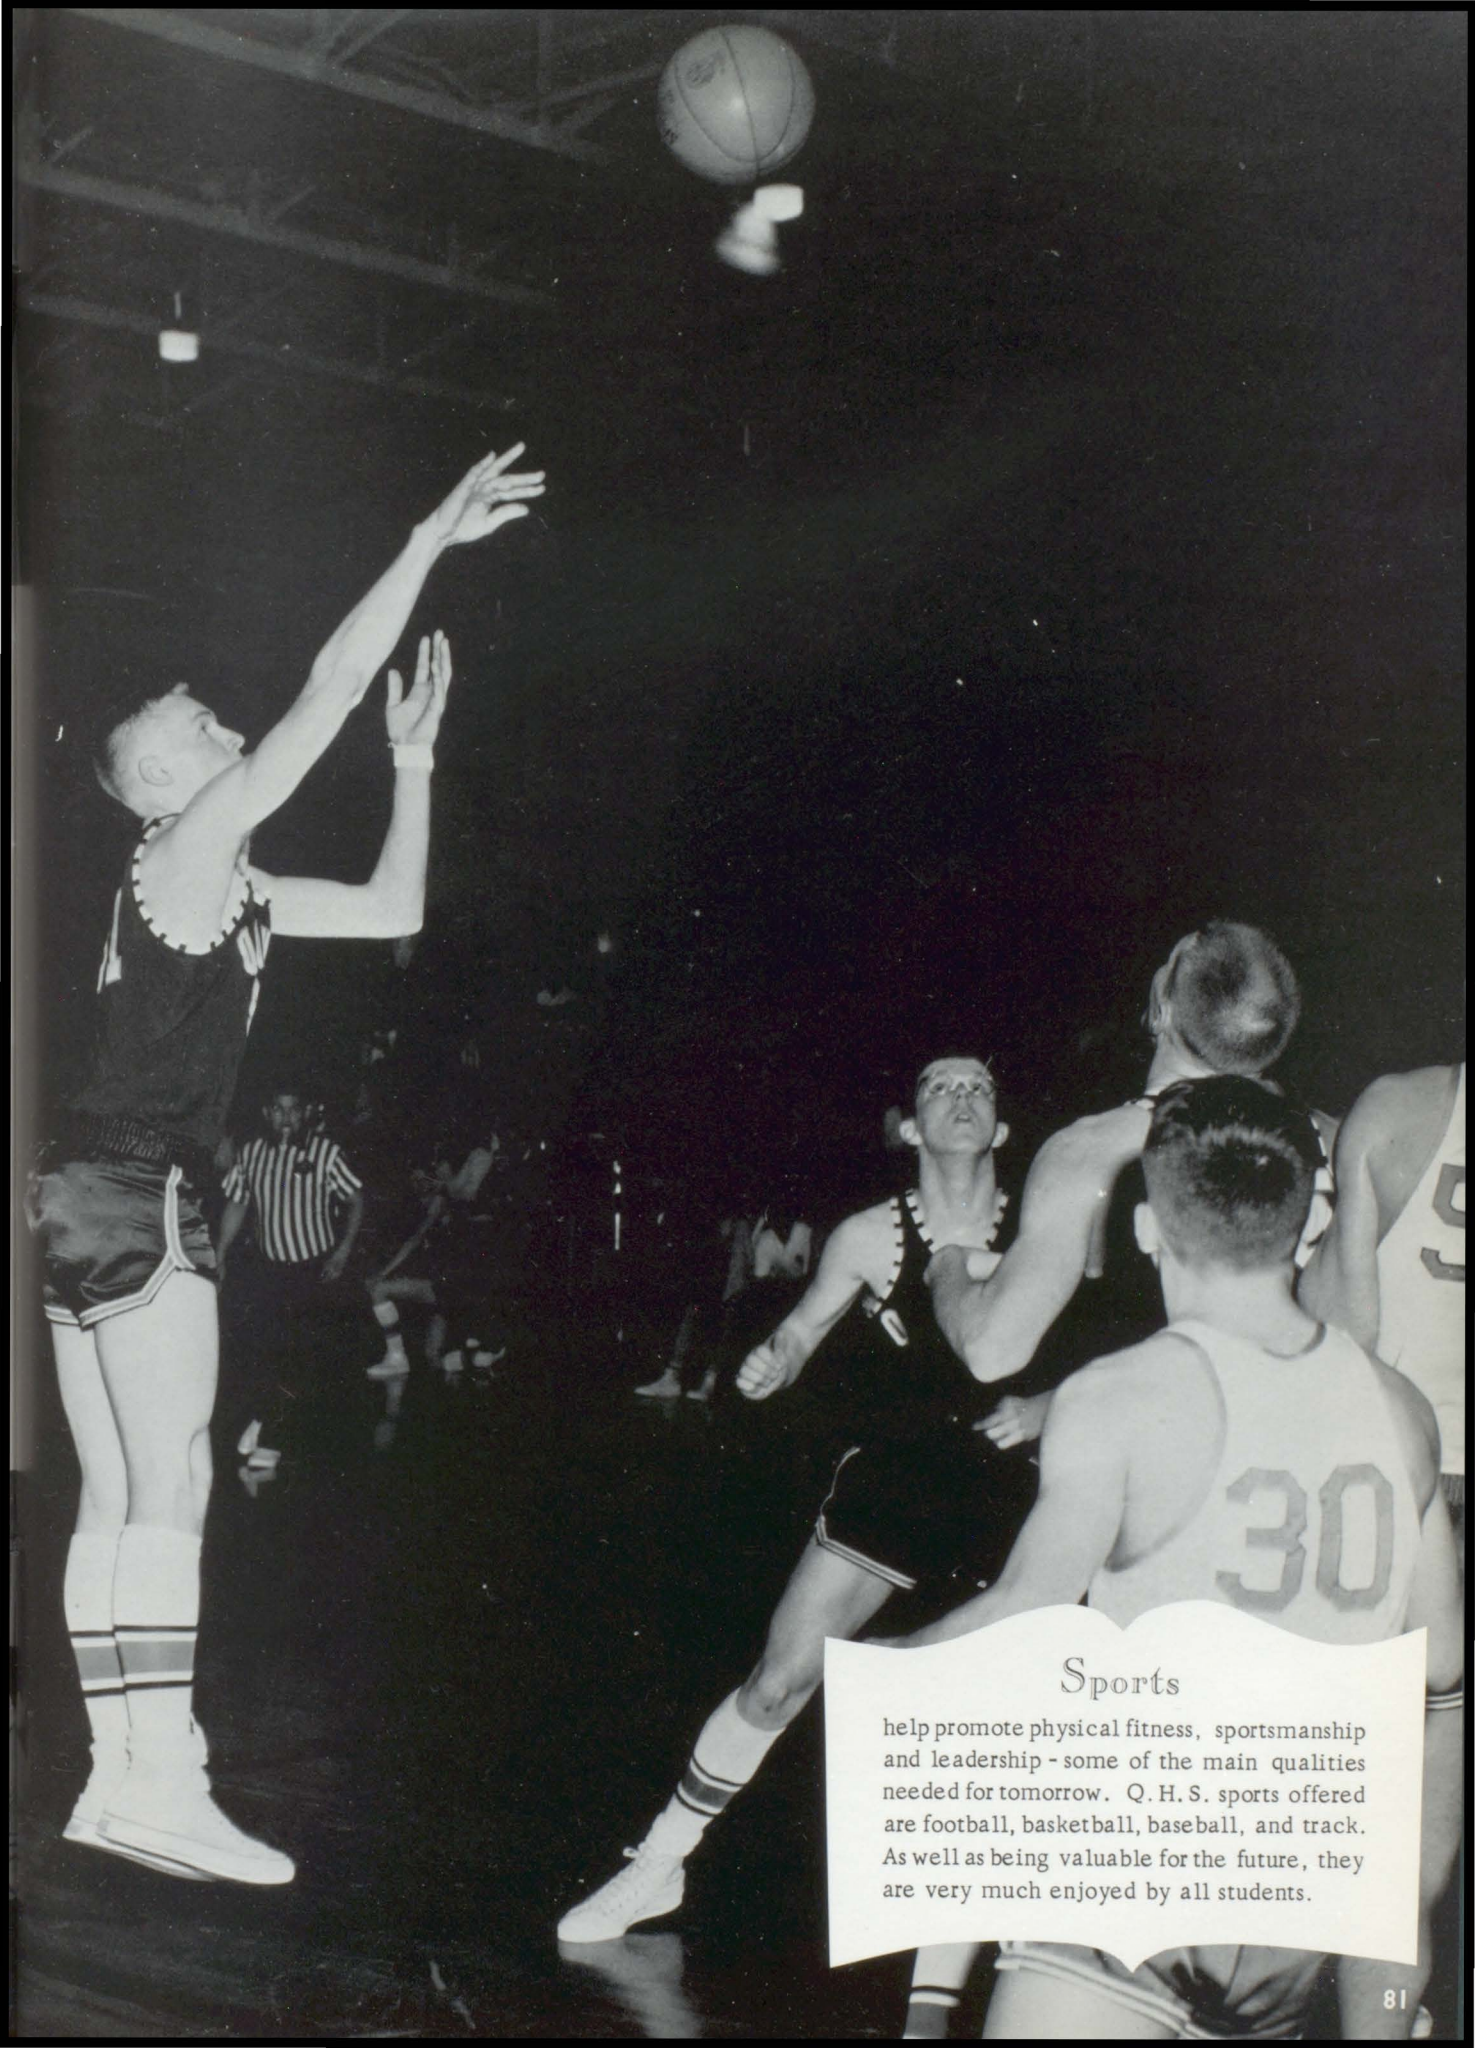

The Model United Nations Assembly was formed at the Hillsdale College Campus and sponsored by the Rotary. Q.H.S. members again participated and represented Nationalist China in the General Assembly. Quincy is only one of the 88 high schools which were represented by a delegation on March 15 and 16. Those participating were: SITTING: Diann Williams, Mike Smith, Jill Wagner, Larry Lounds, Darlene Miller, Evlyn Kratzer. STANDING: Andrew Zeck, Ed Sattler, Steve Dobson, Keith King, Margaret Moore, Mr. Stanley Klyman, advisor; and Adi Schneider.

Varsity Football Has All Conference Player; J.V.'s Lose Only One Game

Although the Varsity Orioles didn't win many games this year, they kept the spectators on pins and needles constantly with their fighting spirit.

Senior Larry Bailey won honors for the team by being named All Conference Linebacker. Dick Hartley, also a senior, received honorable mention. Four junior players receiving honorable mention were Keith King, Tom Crane, Sam Dodd, and Bob Exelby. Below is the football schedule and scores.

The Junior Varsity Football Team show amazing potential this year. They finished the season with only one loss on their record.

Nancy Reynolds, Judy McCann, Donna Craun, and Linda Brown, reserve cheerleaders, demonstrate a cheer they perform at football games.

Varsity Basketball Team Returns to Top

"This was the best bunch of kids I've ever worked with," started Varsity Basketball Coach, Ronald White, "and I'm very proud that I was able to coach this group in the first winning season since 1951."

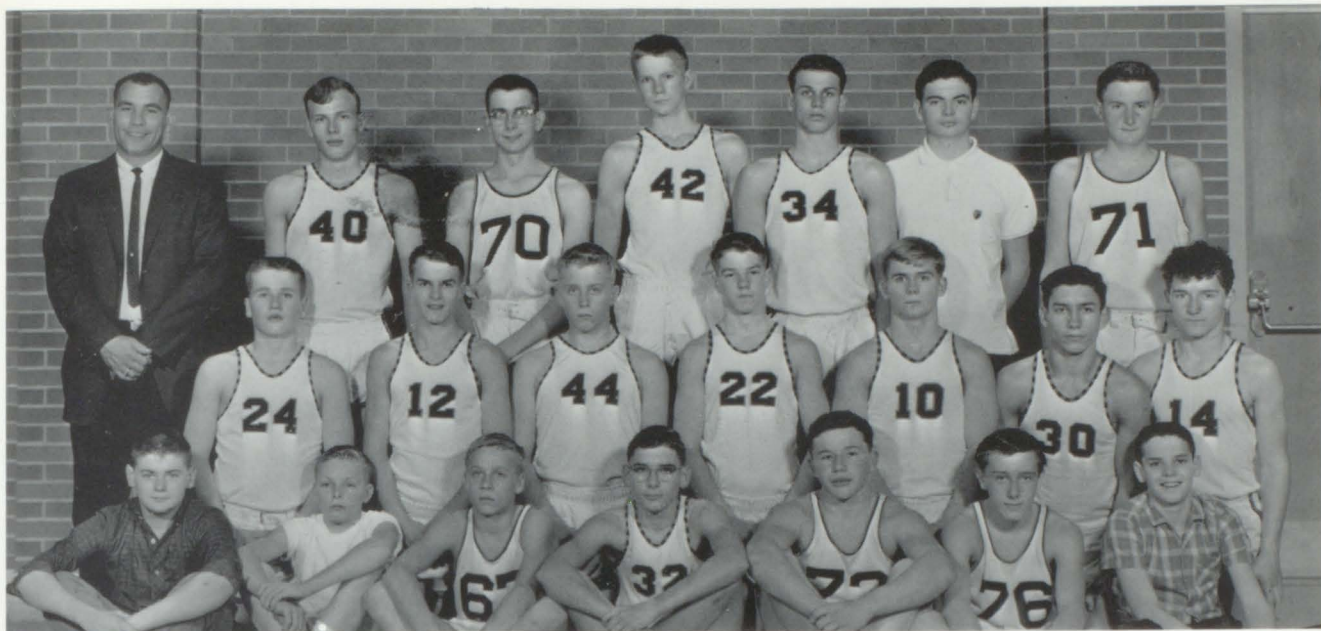

Ten games were won and six were lost by the Quincy Oriole team which tied them for third place in the Little "C" Conference.

Sam Dodd, Tom Puckett, Richard Hartley, and Dennis Smith were the returning lettermen this 1962-63 season. Indeed this was one exciting year for all Orioles as Quincy was once more at the top of the record. It goes to show that with the right attitude and right initiative the best will win out.

Varsity cheerleaders, Sandra Bellamy, Andra Pelow, Judy Spieth, Diane Hoopingartner, Sheran Van Hoosear, and Carol Smith, show off new basketball uniforms purchased with money made from record hops.

The Reserve Basketball team, too, has had one of the best years in a long time with a seven-nine record. "They have had a fine attitude, spirit, and desire all through the season," says Coach Richard McDonald. Six out of the 15 on the Reserve team will be eligible for Varsity next year.

"The main purpose of the Reserve team is primarily to iron our mistakes and gain experience to compete on the Varsity level," explained Coach McDonald.

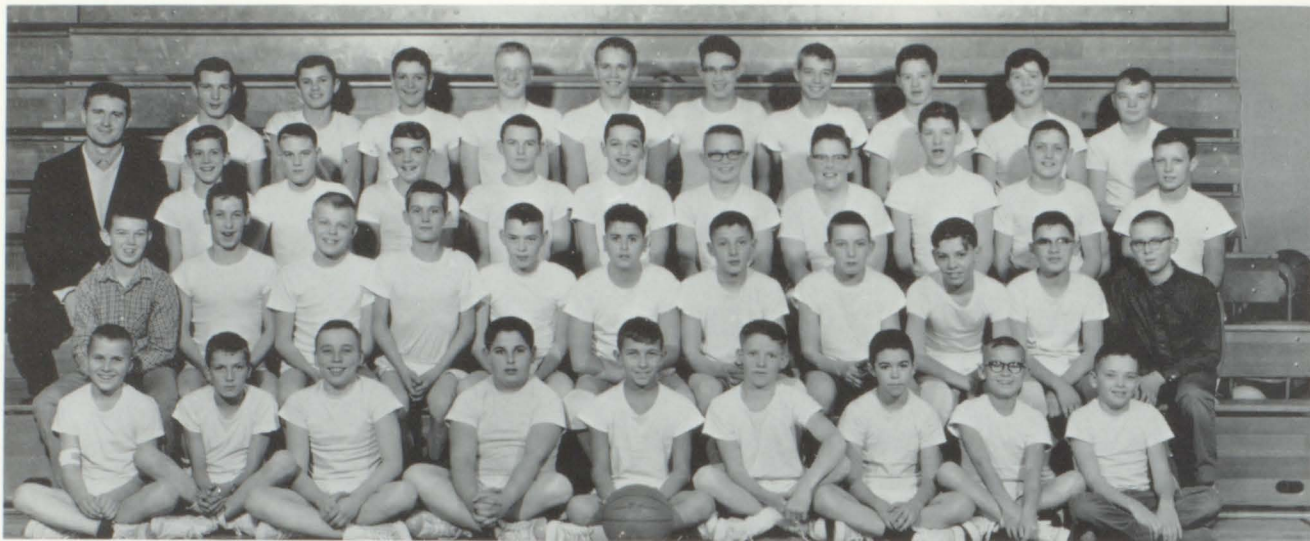

The future looks pretty bright with these boys as the source of part of next year's Varsity team.

Reserves Gain Experience

Reserve basketball cheerleaders, Carole Talbot, Judy McCann, Carol Hampton, and Nancy Reynolds, cheered the team on and kept school spirit at its peak.

Basic Essentials Learned

The Jr. High Basketball team learned the basic essentials of a good squad as they competed with various area teams. Mr. Gary Simmons served as their coach.

Above: Karen Bice, Sandy Marquart, Carol Stowell, and Susan Krok served as eighth grade cheerleaders.

activities play a very important part in the life of a Q. H. S. student. The Homecoming Dance, the J-Hop, and the Senior and Junior Banquet are only a few of many activities which present to the students the chance to meet, understand, and to be accepted and recognized by others. Much fun and enjoyment is gained from them.

Student Activities

Bob Exelby, 56, plunges for another gain while Charles Reynolds, 66; Gale Kiersey, 24; and Rick Barrett, 42, cover in the Homecoming football game with Reading on October 19.

Highlight Homecoming

Queen Judy Hutchins and King Larry Bailey were crowned during half-time of the homecoming game.

Eighth grade class president Morris Bollegraf accepts the pep can from Student Council President Rick Barrett.

Seniors Present "Ask Any Girl"

A small town girl goes to New York City for a job and a man. The big city doesn't seem to be what it was cracked up to be, but tables soon are turned as this romantic comedy comes to an end.

ROW ONE: F. Krymis, D. Ludlow, T. Brockman. ROW TWO: E. Kratzer, D. Morris, S. Taylor, M. Merkle, K. Rupp, C. Smith. ROW THREE: C. Reynolds, J. Ames, S. Van Hoosear, Mrs. Terwilligar, director; J. Matthew, L. Schoolcraft, D. Queen, C. Wilmarth, C. Cochrane.

Make-up is only one part of the production of a play notes J. Ames.

Trying to act sophisticated, Meg (C. Smith) tries a cigarette in a survey conducted by Miles Doughton (T. Brockman).

"Mother, Father, Aunt Fern, Aunt Lettie, I'm engaged," cries Meg (C. Smith) happily to her surprised relatives. Portraying the aunts are D. Morris and S. Taylor. Father and Mother are played by M. Merkle and K. Rupp.

"Mmm boy am I ever engaged!" muffles Meg (C. Smith) as fiance's little brother Evan (F. Krymis) says "Wait a minute!"

Leaders of Grand Fenwick wave to cheering crowd as the army leaves for war.

A war prisoner is captured by Grand Fenwick.

Director, Mr. Dan Shelles, demonstrates a movement.

"The Mouse That Roared"
Grand Fenwick, a country five miles by three, declares war on the U. S. over wine, storms New York City with bows and arrows, captures the most powerful weapon in the world, and wins. To save her throne and her country, the Duchess of Grand Fenwick proposes marriage through her Mother-in-law to be, as the Junior play comes to a hilarious finale.

Don't Quit

When things go wrong, as they sometimes will,
When the road you're trudging seems all up hill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high,
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest, if you must--but don't you quit.

Life is queer with its twists and turns,
As everyone of us sometimes learns,
And many a failure turns about
When he might have won had he stuck it out;
Don't give up, though the pace seems slow--
You might succeed with another blow...

Success is failure turned inside out--
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt--
And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems so far;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit--
It's when things seem worst that you mustn't quit.
