

ADULT PROGRAMMING REPORT March 2016

Blind Date with a Book: During the month of February, patrons had the chance to pick up a specially wrapped book and then fill out a “Rate Your Date” form. They were then entered into a drawing for a cash prize. Marg Inde was the winner of the $25 prize.

Cross-Cultural Conversations: Local Yemeni women treated our patrons to tea, dessert and frank discussion.

Coloring Is Not Just For Kids: During the months of February and March, adult colorists are meeting to color plain and intricate designs. Coloring pages and pencils are provided.

Mrs. Lincoln’s Dressmaker: Sue Houchen discussed the book Mrs. Lincoln’s Dressmaker by Jennifer Chiaverini. It tells the story of a slave who became dressmaker to Mary Todd Lincoln and witnessed some of the momentous events in American history.

Pseudotumor

Pseudotumor Cerebri: A Pseudotumor Cerebri sufferer shared her search for answers and relief from this disease which causes pressure around the brain, headaches and vision problems.

Interested in Buying a Home?: Laura Weeden, Area Specialist for USDA Rural Development, discussed buying a home with no money down, no monthly charge and fixed interest rates.

Ongoing Book Discussion: Carl Semmelroth’s ongoing book discussion on The Anger Habit in Relationships has finished. A new book and topic will be chosen for March.
