

COMMENTS AND PUBLICITY November 16, 2018

Comments

Comments and/or Suggestions: I had an Let us know what you think? bsolutely ama in al M Ú COLDWATER, MI 49036 Coldwater 10/10/18 Comments and/or Suggestions: Let us know what you think? en m 01 P () 200 87 mo-20 20 C ver Δ 200 NAN STRICT LIBRARY Coldwate 10/10/18 1

Submitted on Thursday, October 18, 2018 - 14:13 Submitted values are: ==Your Name and Contact Information== First and Last Name (Optional): Zied Al-Suraimi Telephone Number (Optional): 5172342247 Email (Optional): Alsuraimizied1@gmail.com ==Your Message== Subject (Optional): Timer Message Body: When you do your home work you should get more time then 2 hours. Patrons are allowed extra time for working on homework or job related tasks but in this particular case, this young man was told to use his two hours wisely and chose to not work on his homework until the first 2 hours were up - Kimberly Feltner, Director of Public Services Submitted on Thursday, October 25, 2018 - 15:24 Submitted values are: ==Your Name and Contact Information== First and Last Name (Optional): Telephone Number (Optional): Email (Optional): ==Your Message== Subject (Optional): Message Body: I just want to say I do not like the idea of you doing away with the overdue fees. I think people will just keep the book until they are done with it (especially the new 2 week books). This is really frustrating if you have a reserve on the book. Also if they really like a book who knows when it may be returned and then the book budget will be used up replacing a particular book. I just don't like it at all.

All patrons are reminded that library items are due on a certain date, either verbally by staff or the printed receipt they receive with the due dates. Patrons receive a 3 day courtesy notice by email or text (if they have provided that information) reminding them their items are due. 7 days after the due date, an overdue notice is sent by mail or electronically. If the item is not returned 45 days after the due date, a patron is sent a bill. We have procedures in place to address people not returning their library items.

This practice of keeping the book until a reader is done is accurate and was one of the reasons BDL advocated to remove the daily fine, since $.10 offers little financial incentive to return a book. The number of holds are monitored monthly to ensure that we can provide an adequate number of copies per title in following our collection development policy - Kimberly Feltner, Director of Public Services.

Comments and Publicity Submitted on Saturday, November 3, 2018 - 14:13 Submitted values are: ==Your Name and Contact Information== First and Last Name (Optional): Kathryn Barnes Telephone Number (Optional): Email (Optional): ==Your Message== Subject (Optional): DVD Message Body: I have commented before on DVD's that I thought were inappropriate for racism etc. The DVD "A Nation Divided" is such a movie. Do your research on the director. The movie is misleading, it is political and I think it should not be available to view if fairness and truth is the goal of the library. I am against hate speech, lies, racism and mud slinging. The creator and director of the film which glorifies Trump and demonized the Democratic party, received a bail out pardon from Trump. He is a criminal as is Trump. Allowing such one sided, twisted videos is a sure step towards facism. Submitted on Monday, November 5, 2018 - 16:50 Submitted values are: ==Your Name and Contact Information== First and Last Name (Optional): Telephone Number (Optional): Email (Optional):

==Your Message== Subject (Optional): Message Body: I do not like your policy of no overdue fees being charged. Case in point. I have been on the hold list for a particular book and the person who currently has it out is not returning it. It is overdue. Now what incentive does that person have to return it? They can just keep it as long as they wish, and those of us who are waiting for it are just out of luck. Is there some way the books that are overdue and have people waiting for them could be flagged and those folks get some kind of notification that people are waiting for the book? Maybe if they know people are waiting for the book they have they would return it sooner. It just gets very aggravating when you are waiting for a book and whoever currently has it doesn't seem to worry about returning it. You know what this does.? If I don't get this book read in 2 weeks (it is a new one) I'm not going to worry about returning it until I have it all read-so sorry for the next person.

Comments and/or Suggestions: Let us know what you think? 0 sin 0 0 Th who are In N 🔁 ll - CW

Publicity

Coldwater Daily Reporter. October 24, 2018. Page A2. Halloween collection on display at Branch District Library all month

Halloween assortments, a private collection from Coldwater resident Ben Lyon, will be on display at the Coldwater branch of the Branch District Library through the month of October. COURTESY PHOTO

A9:

Coldwater Daily Reporter. October 27, 2018. Page A1.

Library to host book, bake sale

The Quincy branch of the Branch District Library, located at 11 N. Main St., Quincy, will host a book sale from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday, Nov. 2 and 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, Nov. 3. The cost is $3 to fill a bag, which will be provided. A bake sale will also be open during the book sale.

Coldwater Daily Reporter. October 27, 2018. Page A9. Saturday, October 27, 2018

Pruess Petshosts program at Kids' Place, more events today

Coldwater Daily Reporter. November 6, 2018. Page A3.

BRANCH DISTRICT LIBRARY FIRST NOTICE OF 2019 BUDGET HEARING November 19, 2018 5:30 P.M. Coldwater Branch Library 10 E. Chicago St., Coldwater, MI 49036

TAKE NOTICE: On November 19, 2018 at 5:30 p.m. at the Coldwater Branch Library, 10 E. Chicago St., Coldwater, MI, the Branch District Library Board shall conduct a public hearing on its proposed2019 budget of estimated revenues and expenditures.

Copies of the budget are available for public inspection at the entrance to the Library Headquarters, 10 East Chicago Street, Coldwater, and at each branch location – Algansee, Bronson, Quincy, Sherwood, and Union City, or on our website: https://www.branchdistrictlibrary.org/budgets

Coldwater Daily Reporter. November 9, 2018. Page A4. Black cat collection on display at Coldwater Library

Black Cats from the private collection of Carol Omlor will be on display at the Coldwater branch of the Branch District Library for the month of November. COURTESY PHOTO

Coldwater Daily Reporter. November 13, 2018. Page A7.

www.thedailyreporter.com

A7.

Kids' Place comes alive with Halloween happenings

On Oct. 20, the Coldwater branch of the Branch District Library Kids' Place hosted 18 tweens who participated in the Tween Club version of GhostBusted. Under the direction of Miss Angie, participants conducted a number of spooky and gross experiments including making ghost eggs and a variety of slimy concoctions. They finished with some really hideous food prepared by Miss Linda. Stuff like Bodypart Pie, Graveyard Bones, Bloody Eye Cupcakes and swallowed it down with some wormy bile. A truly gruesome fun time was had by all. The next Tween Club will be "Learning to be Tricky" with local magician BJ Mallen, who will share tricky ways to impress friends and family at 1 p.m. Saturday. On Oct. 27 everyone's favorite web-slinger swung on in to the Coldwater Library Kids' Place. While Spidey interacted with the large group of children assembled, the families were able to paint very unique Halloween pumpkins under the direction of local artist, Nicole Ruppert and friends. LINDA DULL PHOTOS